COMMONS GETS BILL TO SET UP BUSINESS CZAR

Details of Wartime Plans Revealed.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 25.—Far reaching powers over British industry are conferred on Leslie Burgin, Prime Minister Chamberlain's new industrial dictator, under a bill introduced in parliament tonight. The bill, which creates a ministry of supply, was given its first reading in the house of commons.

Leslie Burgin.

Under the guise of war measures the British government is adopting authoritarian methods to discipline and regiment industry, speed up orders for munitions, and put the country another step ahead on the road to Fascism.

The bill makes the ministry of supply a permanent part of Great Britain's defense organization. Political circles indicate its application is capable of elastic expansion.

Priority for War Contracts.

It gives Burgin the authority to trade or barter for supplies, enforce priority for military contracts, requisition industrial production if the demand for priority of government orders does not produce the required results, and the right to take over any firm which obstructs him in efforts to build up war reserves.

Other provisions of the bill enable Burgin to examine contractors' records, fix prices and time limits for government orders, commandeer storage space and force contractors to protect plants against air raids and other damage.

Burgin's power is similar to that of the minister of munitions in war time. The bill covers not only articles supplied to the military forces, but also materials needed for maintaining essential civil industries in the event of war, reserve stocks and materials, and plant and machine tools for production of supplies.

May Barter for Articles.

The minister is empowered to finance accumulations of reserves by traders and to trade or barter on an almost unlimited scale for supplies necessary for the materials.

He may buy or otherwise acquire any articles for the purpose of exchanging them for articles required for public service, the bill says.

Industrialists carrying out war orders will be protected by the government if they violate private contracts at the same time, but firms refusing to coöperate with the minister's demands are liable to the payment of fines ranging from $250 to $2,500 or imprisonment up to two years.

The bill, which extends to Northern Ireland, will be debated in parliament on second reading June 8. Its main provisions will last for three years and subsequently will be renewable on a yearly basis subject to approval by parliament.

Draft Approved by Lords.

LONDON, May 25.—(AP)—The house of lords today passed the government's conscription bill. The bill previously had been approved by the house of commons, but now goes back to the lower house for consideration of several minor amendments.

Final parliamentary approval is expected before the Whitsuntide recess beginning tomorrow.

The bill makes 20 year old youths in England, Scotland, and Wales liable to six months compulsory military training. Conscripts for the first year are expected to total about 200,000 men, with the first group to be called up about July 1.

Ernest Brown, minister of labor, told commons today that the government had decided that farm workers, anthracite miners and fishermen would not be called until November.

KUHN CHARGED BY DEWEY WITH TAKING $14,500

Agents Trail Him to Pennsylvania.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Fritz Kuhn, leader of the pro-Nazi German American bund, was arrested late today by New York detectives in Krumsville, Pa., to answer a hastily returned indictment charging forgery and grand larceny involving $14,589.59.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey accused the bund fuehrer of being "just a common thief." He expressed a belief that Kuhn was fleeing when overtaken by detectives. He added, however, that Kuhn asserted he and his companions were on their way to Chicago and Milwaukee, where Kuhn was scheduled to speak.

The New York county prosecutor disclosed that three detectives trailed Kuhn all day, planning to take him into custody as soon as the indictment, which has twelve counts, could be filed. It was handed to General Sessions Judge Cornelius F. Collins at 3 p. m., and a warant for Kuhn's arrest was issued.

Kuhn Stops to Buy Gas.

The detectives telephoned for instructions at 5:45 o'clock and made the arrest within a few minutes. They told Dewey they trailed Kuhn and three other men in a motor car to the Pennsylvania town.

They added that Kuhn's car stopped at Krumsville for gasoline. Dewey said traveling bags containing bund uniforms had been picked up by Kuhn and his companions, identified by Dewey as Thomas Dixon of New York; Gustave Elmer of Hoboken, N. J., and Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze of New York, the latter one of Kuhn's bund lieutenants.

Kuhn's departure came two days after he was called before a grand jury here, but was excused upon refusal to waive immunity.

Kuhn Returned to New York.

Dewey, asserting conviction on all counts could result in maximum prison terms totaling fifty years, said Kuhn waived extradition, and was returned to New York late tonight and placed in a cell at police headquarters.

The indictment detailed the alleged theft of $8,907.35 from the bund and charged misappropriation of funds from a bund rally at Madison Square Garden last Feb. 20—a meeting which resulted in only one minor disorder while virtually the entire police force stood ready to quell any trouble.

Charge Theft of $4,424.

Two counts of the indictment charged the theft of $4,424.22 from funds raised to defend bund members who were convicted at Riverhead, N. Y., of neglect to file with the state records of its official personnel.

Four counts charged the theft of $565.76 in bund funds set aside supposedly for transportation of furniture for one Mrs. Florence Camp from Los Angeles, Cal., to New York, and the theft of $151.26 for bringing her furniture here from Cleveland, O. Mrs. Camp was described as a friend of Kuhn.

The grand jury investigation of the bund grew out of an inquiry instigated by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia and carried out by Investigation Commissioner William Herlands.

Claims He Was Hitler Aid.

Two weeks ago the mayor asked the state department to hold up passport applications from Kuhn, Kunze, and two others, pending completion of the inquiry. One bund official under scrutiny, it was disclosed at that time, already had left the country.

Eight days ago La Guardia turned over to Dewey the evidence collected by Herlands.

Kuhn, a German world war veteran who claims to have helped Adolf Hitler in his unsuccessful beer cellar putsch in Munich in 1923, went from Germany to Mexico soon after, and entered the United States in 1927. He worked for Henry Ford as a chemist in Detroit, Mich., and was naturalized in 1933.

PADEREWSKI STRICKEN WITH HEART ATTACK; CONCERT TOUR AT END

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Ignace Jan Paderewski, 78, famous pianist and former premier of Poland, suffered a heart attack tonight. His scheduled concert appearance in Madison Square Garden was canceled.

Ignace J. Paderewski.

About 10,000 persons had entered the Garden when it was announced he was ill.

After Paderewski went to the Garden he complained of feeling weak. A doctor found he had a high pulse and was suffering from a mild heart attack and could not go on.

Paderewski was taken to his private railroad car at the Grand Central terminal. He makes his home in it during his tours. His physician, Dr. Theodore Dunham, was called from a box at the Garden to attend him. He confirmed that the attack was slight, but added that the exertion of preparing for the concert might have caused trouble.

The remainder of Paderewski's concert tour has been cancelled.

Boy, 4, Drops from House; Good Fielder Saves Him

East Orange, N. J., May 25.—(AP)—Ross Duncan, 23 years old, glanced at the house next door today, then dashed for the stoop. A 4 year old boy was hanging by his hands from the ledge of the front attic window. Even as Duncan arrived John Hofbauer Jr. let go. Duncan caught the lad enough to break the fall.

Picking himself up uninjured, the boy grinned at the "nice man" who had saved him.

Draft Dodger Bergdoll Is Put in Army Prison

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll came back today to the country for which he refused to fight in the world war. He was taken off the North German Lloyd liner Bremen at quarantine and turned over to army authorities, who locked him up in Fort Jay on Governor's island.

Bergdoll is under sentence of five years imprisonment, imposed on him by a court martial in 1920 for his dodging of the draft in wartime. He escaped soon afterward from two sergeants assigned to guard him and fled to Germany, where he has since lived. He faces the possibility of serving an additional six years as a result of the escape.

Before being taken to the army prison, Bergdoll explained why he had come back.

Explains He Was Homesick.

"I was homesick," he said. "My wife wants to live here. I want to bring up my children in America."

He was asked if he was still a conscientious objector.

"It all depends on the circumstances," he replied.

At the time of his flight the notorious evader of military service was an active young man of 23. He is now 46, stout and partly bald.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, who has authority over the immigration service, ordered that Bergdoll be turned over to the army officers. It was regarded as possible that he might be shunted back to Germany after he has served his term. His attorneys, however, maintain that he still is an American citizen.

Bill to Bar Him Before Senate.

The house of representatives on May 15 passed a bill designed to keep Bergdoll from reëntering the United States. In general terms, it would bar all persons who were previously convicted of wartime desertion, fled the United States and remained continuously in foreign countries to escape punishment. The senate has not acted on the bill.

Bergdoll is the son of a wealthy Philadelphia brewer. He was a playboy in his youth. When the war broke out he hid and army authorities were unable to arrest him until after the fighting was over. During his period as a fugitive he wrote taunting letters to army officers.

After being sentenced by the military court he won his freedom by a ruse. The commandant at Fort Jay permitted him to go out with the two sergeants to search for $150,000 in gold he claimed to have buried in the hills of Maryland. He got away from them in the Bergdoll "castle," in West Philadelphia.

Several attempts were made to kidnap him in Germany and bring him back to the United States. These failed and the Americans who made the attempts were arrested by the German authorities. In one such struggle Bergdoll shot and killed a man.

Bergdoll has five children, the oldest 11 and the youngest 3 years old. Waiting in vain at the pier was his German wife, Berta, his 5 year old son, Irwin, and his attorney. Later Mrs. Bergdoll went to Fort Jay but was refused admission.

BABY FALLS INTO NEW WELL 12 FEET DEEP; TRAPPED FOR 3 HOURS

Clinton, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—A baby, 20 months old, was recovering today from the effects of being trapped for three hours yesterday at the bottom of a hole twelve feet deep.

The accident occurred while the child, Ruby Fay Montgomery, and her brother, Paul, 4 years old, were playing in the yard of their home where the hole had been dug by their father, Rollie Montgomery, for use as a well.

Paul took the cover from the hole and showed his baby sister how he could sit on it. She tried it and, her body being smaller, she fell in. Paul called their mother, who summoned a crew of WPA workmen employed nearby. Working in shifts, they dug a trench to the bottom of the hole, but their progress was impeded by rock. The baby was almost unconscious when they reached her.

Police Chief Seized, Loot in Bank Holdup Recovered

Clarkesville, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—Holdup of the Habersham bank was followed swiftly by the arrest of Police Chief Knox Segers and recovery of the loot today. Sherif Frank C. Wofford said Segers drove to the bank in a city truck, forced Bookkeeper Carl Free into a vault with a pistol and seized $300 to $400 in currency from a counter. The chief drove around the business section, tossed out the money and parked. He was arrested. "Quite evidently something has happened to him," the sherif said.

Bandits Stop 4 Racegoers on Way Home

Four women, homeward bound from the opening day's races at Lincoln Fields, were held up by two men at 106th street and Cottage Grove avenue early last evening and robbed of jewelry valued at more than $18,000. The bandits also obtained more than $400 in currency.

The heaviest loser was Mrs. Horace I. Lepman, 5555 Everett avenue. She was compelled to surrender two rings, one valued at $8,000 and the other at $9,000. Mrs. Lepman is a sister of Horace Lindheimer, former county treasurer.

Gives Up Emerald Bracelet.

The other victims are Mrs. Arthur Strauss, 5454 South Shore drive, who gave up an emerald bracelet and $85; Mrs. Hugo Marks, 5421 Cornell avenue, wife of a loop jeweler, from whom the bandits took two rings, a bracelet and a fur jacket, valued at more than $750, and Mrs. Arthur Lindheimer, 1235 Madison Park, who surrendered a $500 ring and $50. Mrs. Lindheimer is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Lepman.

Horace Lepman is an executive of the S. & L. Motor company, 2000 South Michigan avenue, and Arthur Strauss is a member of the Strauss Brothers jewelry firm at 6414 South Halsted street. Arthur Lindheimer is vice president of the Material Service corporation, 33 North La Salle street.

The story of the holdup was told to the Kensington police by Mrs. Lepman, who was driving the car in which the others were riding.

"We had entered Cottage Grove avenue at 111th street," she said. "I was driving north when, near 106th street, another car drew up beside us. A man thrust a pistol out a window and shouted he would shoot us if we didn't stop.

Robber Appears Nervous.

"I drew up at the curb. There were two men in the other car and one stayed at the wheel. The other came over to us. He seemed very nervous. He ordered us to hand over all our money and jewelry and said he would kill us all if we resisted.

"As quickly as I could I slipped off one ring and pushed it down between the seat and the door. I would have saved it, except that the man opened the door to take Mrs. Marks' jacket. The ring fell out. 'I ought to shoot you,' said the robber to me.

"After he had collected all the jewelry he ran back to his car and both men drove away."

DIVERS EXPLORE SUB IN HUNT FOR DISASTER CAUSE

Find Death Chamber Flooded.

Portsmouth, N. H., May 25.—[Special.]—Navy authorities abandoned the last faint ray of hope for the lives of the twenty-six men entombed in the sunken submarine Squalus. Salvage operations were suspended for the night shortly after darkness fell.

Divers brought up word they had entered the craft, which has been pinned to the floor of the Atlantic since early Tuesday, and found water filling the only compartment where life might have existed. They closed the hatch and returned to the surface.

With the fate of the twenty-six established, efforts were concentrated on moving the ill-fated ship from her muddy ocean berth to a position in shallow water. There the bodies can be removed with less danger to divers and the cause of the disaster learned.

Await Word on Cause.

The navy high command has been anxiously awaiting word of conditions in the flooded section of the submarine to ascertain what caused the sinking during a routine test dive. They were hopeful the divers could learn whether an open air intake valve, the theory generally accepted at present, or some other cause was responsible.

On investigation is now under way at the scene, but navy officials said they could not be certain of the cause until the ship is floated. Meanwhile the 33 men rescued from the submarine were recovering in a hospital.

The only information made public relative to responsibility for a 31 inch intake valve being open when the Squalus submerged was given by Alfred G. Prien, 26 years old, of San Francisco, a machinist mate whose duty it was to handle machinery operating that valve and other vents.

Closed Valve Indicated.

Prien said that warning lights indicated the valve was closed when the submarine dived. The consensus among naval and other observers appeared to be that a mechanical breakdown was at fault, since the valve was open despite the evidence of the light signals.

"As the ship leveled off at fifty feet [the depth to which a time dive was being made], a message came through to the control room that water was coming into the engine room," Prien said. "None of the lights showed there was any trouble with the valves."

He virtually laid at rest any suspicion there might have been sabotage involved, such as the reopening of the valve after it had been closed for the dive.

"When we tilted backward at a 45 degree angle [from water entering the ship]," Prien added, "I still was looking at the control board and could see that all the lights were on. This meant to me that all the valves were closed. I could not understand what happened."

Salvage Job to Be Speeded.

A ranking naval officer reported the quickest possible job would be made of moving the submarine. One plan, he said, is to pump enough air into the ship to enable her to be pulled along the bottom to shallow water, where more divers could work simultaneously under less pressure.

He added, however, that if the air gave the Squalus sufficient buoyance to bring her to the surface the craft would be taken immediately to the drydock at the Portsmouth navy yard. Barring unforeseen difficulties, only seven or eight hours would be required for the move once the preliminaries were accomplished, he said.

The navy tug Sagamore arrived at the scene late today, towing nine huge pontoons from New York. Salvage officers said the pontoons would be used only as a last resort. Their use would necessitate them being submerged to the Squalus' side, where they would be fastened to the craft and pumped out to provide buoyancy to lift the ship.

Weather conditions were being closely watched by the workers, as a rough sea would halt diving operations. Weather observers gave them some cheer with a report that only possible light rains tomorrow would slow their work. A flat calm, with only a light breeze coming out of the southwest, prevailed tonight at the salvage scene, fifteen miles from here.

Much of the day was spent in repairing the nine ton rescue chamber which yesterday and last night brought the survivors to the surface from the ocean bottom 240 feet down. It was a history making rescue, with the big bell in use for the first time under emergency conditions.

Three times the chamber was lowered into the ocean to lift men from the darkness and cold of the Squalus. On the fourth and last ascent a guide line fouled, jamming the bell so it would not move. For nearly four hours the bell, with its cargo of eight survivors and an operator, hung 150 feet beneath the surface.

Bell Goes Down Again.

It was after midnight before the cable was untangled and one of the most astounding rescues in naval history was completed.

Just before sunset tonight the rescue chamber plunged again into the ocean water carrying divers to the deck of the Squalus. The aft escape hatch was opened and the torpedo room found full of water. Shortly after the bell returned to the surface work was halted for the night.

The eight men who were in the last trip made by the diving bell last night came ashore today after spending the night on the submarine rescue ship Falcon. They were taken to the Portsmouth naval hospital to be placed under medical care, with the shipmates who preceded them. Among them was Lieut. Oliver F. Naquin, commander of the Squalus, who, true to his command, was the last one to leave his ship.

Death Believed Swift.

The officer expressed the opinion that a mercifully swift death under tons of icy sea water, was the fate of the twenty-six men still in the sunken hull of his ship.

Lieut. Naquin refused to discuss possible causes of the sinking until the ship is raised, terming the matter too technical. As did other survivors, he praised highly the morale of the men trapped in the cold and air fouled submarine for more than thirty hours as they waited without panic for death or rescue.

One of the most graphic stories ever to come from the bottom of the sea was told by Lloyd B. Maness of Greensboro, N. C., a bulkhead guard, who closed the door credited with saving the lives of the survivors. Great strength and an unsentimental adherence to duty was required for his act.

A Heart Rending Task.

It was a heart rending task, for it closed the avenue of life to twenty-six of his shipmates. One of those he shut on the other side was his friend, Sherman Shirley of Little Rock, Ark., at whose wedding next Sunday Maness was to have been best man.

The water was rising rapidly in the Squalus when Maness threw his weight against the water tight door that separated the control room from the compartments closest to the open valve that was letting in water.

"I had partially closed the door," he said, "when several men shouted to me from the after battery room. 'Keep it open,' they yelled. I let the door slip back on its hinges to allow five men to pass through. Then I closed it.

"I realize, of course, that there must have been men trapped in the after compartments, but in an emergency of this kind every bulkhead door in all sections of the ship must be fastened. It was no time for sentiment."

NAVY TO SET UP COURT FOR QUIZ IN SUB DISASTER

Swanson to Name Three Experts for Inquiry.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—The navy department today made ready for a formal court of inquiry into the sinking of the submarine Squalus off Portsmouth, N. H.

Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson will name the three members of the court and include in his call a request for an opinion from them as to the cause of the accident. This is an unusual procedure because courts of inquiry are by tradition concerned only with facts.

The court will begin its deliberations as soon as the Squalus is brought to the surface and towed to the Portsmouth navy yard. The inquiry will be one of the most intensive in the history of the navy and will go into all phases and possibilities of the accident, including the question of sabotage by workers in the interests of a foreign power.

Congressional Quiz Sought.

At the same time Representative Thomas A. Flaherty [D., Mass.] introduced a resolution in the house calling for a congressional investigation of the submarine disaster. His resolution called for an investigation by the house naval affairs committee or one of its sub-committees at a cost of not more than $5,000.

In the senate no move was made for an immediate investigation by that body. Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.], chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, said he will study the report of the navy court of inquiry and if there are any unanswered questions, he will call for a congressional investigation.

At the navy department it was said the court of inquiry probably will be headed by Admiral Cyrus W. Cole, commandant of the Portsmouth navy yard and former commander of a submarine flotilla. His associates probably will be the senior engineering captain and the senior construction captain at the yard.

Judge Advocate to Preside.

These three will constitute a court of some of the foremost submarine experts in the navy. The inquiry will be conducted by a judge advocate, who probably will be a flag officer. Under navy law, the judge advocate takes an oath not only to conduct the inquiry to the best of his ability but to defend the interests of the accused, if any.

In the present instance, none of the officers or men of the Squalus will be regarded as defendants, although they will be represented by naval counsel. The report of the inquiry court's proceedings, however, under navy regulations, may be submitted in evidence at a general courtmartial, if one should follow, if the defendant before the general courtmartial testifies willingly at a court of inquiry or offers the record in evidence.

Whether the hearings on the Squalus will be public or behind closed doors will be determined in the call Secretary Swanson issues at the direction of President Roosevelt.

Await Raising of Craft.

The navy reported to the house naval affairs committee today that it will be impossible to say why the valve was not closed until the stricken submarine is raised. At a committee meeting Representative Ralph Church [R., Ill.] asked Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] to demand a report from the navy on the accident.

Vinson said he had already made the request and was told the reason for the failure could not be determined until the vessl is brought to the surface.

NEWEST SUBMARINE SLIDES DOWN WAYS AT QUIET CEREMONY

Groton, Conn., May 25.—(AP)—The submarine Sealion, the latest underseas craft built here for the navy, slid smoothly off the ways late today in a solemn setting and minus her prospective commander, Lieut. J. K. Morrison Jr. of New London, who was busy assisting in salvage operations at the New Hampshire scene of the Squalus sinking.

The usual band music, joyous shouts and whistles that accompany a submarine launching, were dispensed with today in view of the Squalus tragedy. Mrs. Claude C. Bloch, wife of Admiral Bloch, commander in chief of the United States fleet, served as sponsor of the black hulled Sealion at a brief ceremony.

The Sealion is slightly larger than the Squalus, which was built at Portsmouth, N. H.

ACCUSED WIFE SHOOTS HERSELF AT BEER PARTY

A young wife responded to her husband's accusations in swift fashion last night. She drew a revolver and shot herself. She is Mrs. Margaret Stockwell, 25 years old, mother of a daughter, Mercedes, 7.

Mrs. Stockwell, her husband, LaVerne, 28, a railroad fireman, and a friend, Miss Virginia Perak, 22, of 5059 Jackson boulevard, were drinking beer in the Stockwell cottage at 2734 Harrison street, when, police said, Stockwell accused Mrs. Stockwell of "running around while I'm at work."

Mrs. Stockwell stood up. "If you haven't any faith in me I might as well kill myself," she cried. Then she drew a pistol from her blouse and shot herself in the left shoulder, police reported. She was taken to the Bethany hospital. Later Mrs. Stockwell said it was all a mistake, and she was sorry she had shot herself.

LANTZ MEASURE FOR EMPLOYMENT PEACE ADVANCED

Sen. Benson Denounces Foes' Whispers.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—The Lantz employment peace bill, now supported by small tradesmen as well as farmers, was advanced today to second reading, the amending stage, in the senate.

By taking this action Senator Simon E. Lantz [R., Congerville] indicated that he is ready to meet an expected onslaught by opponents when the senate reconvenes on Wednesday. It is probable that a motion will be made to strike out the enacting clause of the bill, which would kill it.

Professional labor leaders are fighting the bill, which is similar to those recently enacted in Wisconsin, Oregon, and Washington. It would require ten days' notice before a strike is called. So-called stranger picketing and secondary boycotting would be outlawed. Rights of collective bargaining, however, are fully recognized.

Benson Assails Whispers.

Arnold P. Benson of Batavia, leader of the G. O. P. minority in the senate, today issued a statement in which he denied that the Lantz bill is a party measure.

"This is in no sense a Republican measure," he said. "The Republican party has been and is now in favor of the principle of collective bargaining, and believes firmly in the right of any worker to affiliate with labor organizations for his protection.

"Present efforts, in a whispering campaign, to picture G. O. P. members of the senate as opposed to organized labor are typical of the vicious system of political propaganda now used in frantic attempts to continue the Illinois New Deal in power."

Support in Both Parties.

Benson did not indicate his position on the Lantz bill, which was recommended for passage by both Democrats and Republicans in a 14 to 7 vote by the committee on agriculture.

He pointed out that the Republican party's stand for improved conditions for workers was made clear at the state convention last year. Since then party members have advanced bills to provide $30 a month pensions to persons over 65, and to liberalize the workmen's compensation act, he said.

BUSINESS MEN OF ENGLEWOOD BACK LANTZ BILL

Directors of the Englewood Business Men's association yesterday indorsed the Lantz labor peace bill now pending in the Illinois state senate, and urged its immediate passage.

"This association, after careful study, unanimously petitions the members of the senate to pass the Lantz bill as it is written and without amendments for the purpose of fostering industrial peace," the resolution said.

The bill, introduced by Senator Simon Lantz of Congerville, would limit picketing in labor disputes and provides that ten days must elapse between the time a strike is voted and is put into effect.

HORNER URGED: DOUBLE LIQUOR, PAUPER TAXES

Plan Is Offered to Meet Relief Request.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—Details of a plan to raise additional relief funds by doubling the state liquor and pauper taxes were discussed today with Gov. Henry Horner. The plan may be presented to the legislature next week.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago told the governor on Tuesday that at least $4,000,000 monthly is needed as a state contribution to finance the relief load throughout Illinois after July 1. The governor replied that the treasury could not stand a contribution of more than $3,000,000.

Chicago Getting 65 Per Cent.

The governor was told today that doubling the liquor gallonage tax would produce $10,000,000 annually. If all of this were made available for relief it would raise the monthly state gift to $3,833,000.

Senator Harold G. Ward, the mayor's legislative spokesman, said today that Chicago requires about $3,500,000 monthly for its relief load. It now is receiving about 65 per cent of the state grant. A similar percentage applied on the proposed new $3,833,000 state contribution would yield only about $2,500,000 monthly, or one million less than the professed requirement.

Liquor Bill Pending.

This could be met partially by doubling the pauper tax which brought the city $4,383,000 this year. That amount already has been collected and spent. Doubling this levy would produce an annual total of $8,766,000 or $730,000 monthly—within approximately $250,000 of the need.

Senator Ward has pending on the senate calendar a bill to double the liquor tax. At present the state collects the following gallonage levies: Beer, two cents; light wines, below 14 per cent alcoholic content, ten cents; heavy wines, twenty-five cents, and hard liquor, fifty cents.

Senator Ward introduced the bill for the purpose of providing aid to dependent children. A possibility discussed today was that half the increased revenue the measure would produce might be diverted to relief and the other half earmarked for its original purpose.

Nudelman Sees Horner.

If this were done, the proposed new relief contribution would be cut by $5,000,000 but some compensation for this would be afforded by a reduction in the relief rolls, as children eligible for the dependent contributions would be taken from the relief rolls.

S. L. Nudelman, state director of finance, conferred with the governor today on figures requested at the Tuesday conference with Mayor Kelly. It was reported he told the governor that the sanitary district of Chicago had agreed to reduce its $6,000,000 pegged levy bill to $5,500,000.

Some action also may be taken on the pegged levies of the Chicago Park district, which were introduced at 10½ millions for 1939 and 11 millions for 1940 and 1941.

The legislature recessed today until next Wednesday noon.

MEXICO CHANGES SEIZED HACIENDA INTO LEPER FARM

Old Mansion a Hospital; Colony of Houses Built.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—If the ghosts of the house of Zoquiapan could return to their old hacienda today, a major surprise would greet them.

Southeast of Mexico City 25 miles on the road to Puebla, the government has expropriated the old plantation and is converting it into a modern leper colony.

A new brick wall twelve feet high and half a mile long separates the grounds from the asphalt highway. Inside, the old plantation home is being completely remodeled into the main hospital building.

Stalls Divide Wards.

There are private rooms for the insane with windows so arranged that they cannot escape. In the main wards a concrete partition extends from the wall at intervals of fifteen feet. That is, the large room presents a stall effect, with each stall holding two beds. It makes semi-private rooms out of the wards and the open center aisle gives the nurses the same latitude of operation that open wards afford.

The main building has operating rooms, X-ray laboratories, dentist offices, and offices for the staff of physicians and technicians.

On the 200 acres of rolling terrain, surrounding the main building, forty-eight entirely new buildings are being completed. Eight of them are service buildings — for examination rooms, laundry, dining halls, and kitchens. These contain the latest equipment and machinery from the United States.

Village of 40 Houses.

Then there is a village of forty one-story concrete houses of varying sizes. These will accommodate patients who are not in need of constant hospital care.

The village is laid out with streets and a general dividing line separates the women's section from the men's section. Many lots were left vacant for landscaping with trees and flowers. In addition there are many acres of ground left for gardening, so the institution will be practically self-supporting.

The institution will accommodate 1,000 sufferers. Beyond the wall and across the highway are new concrete houses which are the quarters for the staff. The houses have sun porches. The garages are modern even to greasing pits and upstairs are quarters for servants.

MRS. JENNY LEE ANDERSON.

A charge of bigamy against Robert A. Anderson, 21 years old, 2110 Milwaukee avenue, a WPA worker, was dismissed by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the Felony court yesterday. Wife No. 1, Mrs. Jenny Lee Anderson, 1603 North Richmond street, appeared in court with papers showing she had obtained a divorce on April 24. Anderson paid for it, she said, in order to validate his marriage to Lorrain Starck of Crown Point.

SUE TO BAN USE OF MILWAUKEE IN BEER SLOGAN

Suit to restrain the Bismarck Brewing company, 2762 Archer avenue, from using the label "Milwaukee Style Beer" on their products was filed in Federal court yesterday by the Joseph Schlitz Brewing company of Milwaukee. The petition states that only concerns in Milwaukee make the brew known as Milwaukee beer, which, the suit says, represents "results of excellent and careful brewing." An accounting of profits made from the sale of the Bismarck company's beer also is sought. The case has been assigned to Judge James H. Wilkerson.

SHUN EUROPE'S WAR INTRIGUES, DEWEY WARNS

War in Europe can and probably will be avoided, Charles S. Dewey, former assistant secretary of the treasury and once financial adviser to Poland, said yesterday. He based his prediction on conversations with various European leaders during visits to France, Germany, and Poland from which he and his wife have just returned.

Dewey warned against the United States becoming too deeply involved in European intrigue or making moves that European nations could construe as supporting their warlike attitudes. He said, however, that the United States should send its ambassador back to Germany immediately so he can report authentically on what is going on behind the scenes. [Hugh R. Wilson, the ambassador to Germany, was called home by President Roosevelt last December.]

The problems revolving about the Free City of Danzig and the Polish corridor that separates East Prussia from Germany proper will in all likelihood be solved without armed conflict, Dewey predicted.

"Polish leaders neither seek nor contemplate war," Dewey said. "They are willing to make reasonable concessions that do not impinge on Polish frontiers or independence. The time is almost ripe for working out the whole Polish-German situation by compromise, with proper regard to the future of minority groups."

This year Straw Hats really

MAKE SENSE!

When our fathers wore hard hats (and boiled shirts) the stiff straws of yesteryear were considered a great relief in hot weather. But straw hats failed to keep pace with changing standards of comfort—and a good many men have passed them up in favor of light weight felts.

This year, JOHN CAVANAGH LTD. have imparted new comfort to the conventional sailor—and in addition have brought out a good-looking lot of new soft straw hats—with all the flexibility of a felt hat—but much lighter and infinitely cooler. Blocked in felt hat shapes these new hats are becoming to more men—and in tune with leisure and country clothes.

Even though you will probably want a sailor for business—these new soft straws offer such refreshing changes that we're sure you'll want two or three of them besides.

YOUTH VS. AGE IS EPISCOPAL ELECTION ISSUE

Diocese Will Name Aid to Bishop Stewart.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Next Wednesday's special convention of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago to elect an assisting bishop to the Rt. Rev. Dr. George Craig Stewart, finds observers confused in their predictions as to which nominee is likely to receive the episcopal purple.

Will the new bishop elect be an elderly leader who would forswear future election as bishop? Or will the new suffragan bishop be a younger man who might be expected to succeed to the office?

These alternatives, proposed by Bishop Stewart in an eleven point description of the types of men to be considered in naming his assistant, leave the coming election highly unpredictable, representatives members of the clergy and laity said.

Randall Is Leading Elder.

Several clergymen predict the election of the Rev. Dr. Edwin J. Randall, executive secretary of the diocese. Dr. Randall, veteran of the diocese, fills Bishop Stewart's specifications if a senior member of the clergy is to be chosen.

The Rev. Dr. William B. Stoskopf of the Church of the Ascension, La Salle and Elm streets, has aggressively advocated Dr. Randall's election. He has had the strong backing of the Catholic club of the diocese.

Leading laity, however, insist upon the election of a vigorous young man who can assist actively in liquidating diocesan indebtedness of $500,000.

While Bishop Stewart has refused to name his candidate, rural and mission clergy report that the bishop's official assistants, Archdeacons Frederick G. Deis and Norman B. Quigg, are actively proposing the election of the Rev. Ray Everett Carr, rector of St. Peter's church, 621 Belmont avenue.

First Ballot Choice Predicted.

One leading city rector predicted the Rev. Mr. Carr's election on one of the first ballots, and possibly the first. Other clergymen, however, predicted equally speedy decisions in favor of the Very Rev. Gerald G. Moore, dean of St. Luke's pro-cathedral, Evanston, the Rev. G. Carlton Story, Church of the Mediator, Morgan Park, and the Rev. Dr. Herbert Prince of Lake Forest.

In view of the confusion, many veteran observers, both clerical and lay, now feel that a dark horse with strong leadership qualities and youth will finally be elected. Some of these observers explained, however, that the convention may end in a deadlock.

One member of this group who is the rector of a strong suburban parish said:

"Our votes on every ballot will go to the Rev. Dr. Dudley S. Stark."

Dr. Stark is rector of St. Chrysostom's church, 1424 North Dearborn parkway.

Another smaller group of clergymen would go outside the local diocese for a new assisting bishop. The name of the Rev. Dr. Don Frank Fenn, of Baltimore, Md., is most frequently mentioned by members of this group.

Mentioned for Church Post

Below are six possible selections for the office of assisting bishop to the Rt. Rev. Dr. George Craig Stewart of Episcopal diocese of Chicago.

SALTIS DENIES PATERNITY OF 2 OF WIFE'S SONS

Joe Saltis, prohibition day beer baron, filed an amended answer yesterday to the divorce suit of his wife, Anna. In the answer he denied he married her on Nov. 1, 1912, and denied paternity of two of the four children born to Mrs. Saltis. They are Joseph Jr., 27 years old, and Edward, 22. He admits being the father of Emil, 24, and Josephine, 19. Saltis did not specify any other marriage date.

Saltis is seeking to obtain support money from his wife while the divorce is pending, while Mrs. Saltis is asking support from him. Hearings before Charles J. Mueller, special commissioner appointed by Judge Robert C. O'Connell, are to be resumed next week.

SUBTERRANEAN TRANSIT (2)

By CALEB

EXACTLY what is the extent of the already-begun Chicago Subway system? Where will it go? What will it cost? How will it operate? What will be its facilities? When will it be ready? What will it do to present transportation? How will it benefit Chicagoans? . . .

Construction engineers in charge of this work refer to the present undertaking as the "initial subway system." That suggests later developments in contemplation which, however, have no place in this current discussion. The present project comprises two distinct routes. Route Number 1 is the "State Street Subway." It will begin with a connection at the four-track North side "L" north of North Avenue. It will continue along private right-of-way to, and down, Clybourn Avenue; thence to Division Street; through Division to State Street; and out State street to a connection with the three-track South side "L" near 14th Street.

Route Number 2 is the "Dearborn Street Subway." It will begin with connection at the Logan Square "L" near Milwaukee and Paulina; thence down Milwaukee to Lake; through Lake to Dearborn; and out Dearborn to a stub terminal on Congress Street.

The total length of the State Street subway will be 4.22 miles; it will have a double-track tunnel; and is estimated to cost $21,750,000. The Dearborn Street subway, also double-tracked, will be 3.34 miles long, and will cost $18,250,000. The present project, therefore, calls for a total expenditure of $40,000,000, and the work is to be substantially completed by June 30, 1940—roughly, eighteen months from the beginning of operations. Of the contemplated cost, 45 per cent, or $18,000,000, will be borne by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, and the construction is to be inspected by P. W. A. Project Engineer D'Esposito and his staff. . . .

The State Street subway will have seven stations: North Avenue; Division and Clark; Chicago and State; Grand and State; Lake to Van Buren; Harrison and State; and Roosevelt and State. The Dearborn Street subway will have five stations; at Division, Ashland and Milwaukee; Chicago and Milwaukee; Grand and Halsted; Lake and La Salle; and Randolph to Jackson.

How these stations will be approached—their passenger accommodations—interesting engineering problems of the subway's construction—facilities for ventilation—improved transportation results—and similar details, are matters to be given consideration here in the early future.

DEMOCRATS ACT TO CLEAN HOUSE BY PROSECUTION

Hope to Keep Dewey Off Front Page.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—With Thomas G. Corcoran, White House idea man and lobbyist, as ringmaster, President Roosevelt is planning to stage a three ring circus of income tax and other federal criminal prosecutions in an effort to overshadow the able performance being given in the administration of justice by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York county.

Thos. G. Corcoran.

The purpose of what the administration hopes will be the "biggest show on earth" is to dwarf Dewey and clean out the dirt in the Democratic household for the 1940 campaign. Both of these ends will serve to advance the third term hopes, which observers here are confident the President is nurturing.

With the whole country to roam and range over for legal violations, and the entire resources of federal investigating and prosecuting staffs at its call, the administration is confident that its drive will thrust Dewey's single handed campaign against crime off the front pages.

Like Three Ring Circus.

The federal drive will take on the aspects of a three ring circus because it is planned to have prosecutions under way in important centers simultaneously or follow in rapid succession. The belief is that the public will be so busy watching the government cases the New York county prosecutor will get no attention.

The White House was first annoyed over Dewey's jailing of deserving Democrats, but became alarmed when his prosecutions brought him national fame and made him a Republican possiblity for the presidential or vice presidential nomination in 1940.

In the 1938 gubernatorial race in New York the White House exerted every effort to effect Dewey's defeat when he opposed the reëlection of H. H. Lehman, Democratic governor, in the hope that a defeat would kill him politically. Instead, the heavy vote Dewey polled increased his stature throughout the country. In popular polls, being conducted today, he leads for both first and second place on the Republican ticket.

President Roosevelt is also aware that, whether or not Dewey gets any place on the Republican 1940 ticket, he will campaign for the G. O. P. and make the charge that the New Deal is nursing some unsavory characters at its bosom.

For this reason the administration is anxious to wash its dirty linen before it is called upon to face the accusing fingers of the electorate. A start was made in the action against Thomas Pendergast, Democratic boss of Kansas City, who shortly will begin serving fifteen months in prison for income tax evasion.

At the same time the administration will be able to continue to use the income tax drive as a weapon against its enemies, a practice begun against the late Andrew Mellon, capitalist and former secretary of the treasury, who was not exonerated until after his death. At present the administration is proceeding against M. L. Annenberg, publisher, who aided in defeating the New Deal in Pennsylvania.

Job Given to Corcoran.

The task of building the department of justice to the administration plan was given by the President to Corcoran, who is credited with its creation. Corcoran moved into the department of justice when Frank Murphy, lame duck governor of Michigan, was made attorney general.

When he was recently questioned about his frequent appearances in the department of justice Corcoran said: "We knew Murphy's deficiencies when we appointed him and I'm seeing that he does the right thing."

In the last week Corcoran put a former Harvard classmate, O. John Rogge, in the post of assistant attorney general in charge of criminal cases, which had been held by Brien McMahon, the choice of former Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

The post is a key position in the administration of justice. All criminal investigations go through the office which is a clearing house for United States district attorneys.

Two days ago Corcoran moved to secure another key post for the administration campaign, by getting James W. Morris, assistant attorney general in charge of the tax division, kicked upstairs into a federal judgeship.

Corcoran hopes to induce Randolph E. Paul, considered an outstanding authority on federal taxtion, to coöperate in the drive by taking over the Morris post. Paul is a member of the New York law firm of Lord, Day and Lord and co-author with Jacob Mertens of "Federal Taxation." He was a special assistant in the treasury's tax evasion drive of 1937.

Want Some Judges Out.

Linked into the three ring circus the administration is building up is a campaign to force the resignation or retirement of federal judges considered undesirable.

This movement began when Martin Manton, former federal circuit judge at New York, was forced to resign on information secured by Dewey that the jurist has exacted loans from litigants in his court. The administration forced the resignation. Within a few weeks Federal District Judge Edwin S. Thomas, friend of Manton, who has been questioned by the grand jury investigating the Donald F. Coster-Musica drug swindle, also resigned.

Attorney General Murphy ordered an investigation of the federal bench. As a result of this investigation seven federal judges were marked for removal.

CANADIAN WHEAT CAPITAL GREETS KING AND QUEEN

Farmers of Saskatchewan Crowd Regina.

REGINA, May 25.—(AP)—Overalled farm folk rubbed elbows with top hatted dignitaries today in welcoming King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain to this capital of Canada's wheat empire.

Intermittent showers, in one of the rare times they were not appreciated in this agricultural country, preceded the arrival of the silver and blue royal train which brought them here from Winnipeg.

The train pulled into the flag festooned depot to the din of blaring bands and the royal salute was fired as the king and queen emerged to be greeted by Lieut. Gov. and Mrs. A. P. McNab and Canada's minister of agriculture, J. G. Gardiner.

Round of Receptions.

The formal welcome was held almost in privacy as the station had been cleared before their arrival. There wasn't a cheer when they stepped from the train, hidden from public view, but an ovation greeted them when they stepped into the open from the station doorway.

From the railway station they drove to the city hall, where Mayor A. C. Ellison welcomed them.

The royal procession moved from the city hall to the Saskatchewan legislative buildings, where Premier W. J. Patterson and Mrs. Patterson were hosts at a reception at which legislators and their wives were formally presented.

Arrive with Horses.

A great number of horse drawn vehicles lined the royal route. Scores of farm families came by every means of conveyance to see their king and queen. Tanned by sun and wind, many of the men came in their overalls; others in their Sunday best.

In the afternoon the king and queen inspected the headquarters barracks of the mounted police and had tea there. They dined at the government house.

In the evening they left for Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, and Calgary. They will rest in Banff on Saturday and arrive at Vancouver on Monday.

FIND KING GREETS PRESS IN ORDER TO MAKE A HIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 25.—The royal display of democracy in receiving and shaking hands with members of the press by King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain in Ottawa, Canada, last week was for foreign consumption. This was disclosed today.

It will not be repeated for the benefit of English newspaper men who had hoped the precedent set in Ottawa would be followed up when the sovereigns return to London, according to Sir Eric Mieville, in charge of press arrangements at Buckingham palace.

Sir Eric told English newspaper men that the reception at Ottawa was put over by the high powered press agents of the royal trip, Walter Thompson and George Steward, to dispel "criticism in America which followed unfortunate events at the British embassy in Washington, D. C."

VIOLINIST ENDS HER OWN LIFE IN APARTMENT

Makes Certain Cat Is Safe Before She Takes Gas.

Mrs. Elaine Townsend, an accomplished violinist who became a secretary after estrangement from her husband, was found dead yesterday by three police detectives who broke down the door of her gas filled apartment at 1648 North Fairfield avenue.

Mrs. Townsend's body was lying on the living room floor. A blanket covered her head and the open gas fixture in the fireplace. An artery of her left arm had been severed with a razor blade. She had stabbed herself in the left breast with a pair of scissors.

Mrs. Townsend was 29 years old. She was reared in China, where her father, Dr. Henry Lee Hargrove, for many years was president of Koiffend university. He was a professor at Hunter college, New York, at the time of his death in 1938. Mrs. Townsend was married to Stanley Russell Townsend in New York in 1932 after her graduation from Barnard college. Townsend was a graduate student at Northwestern university from September, 1935, to June, 1938, during which time the couple lived in Evanston.

Goes to Work as Stenographer.

Townsend became an instructor last fall at Bucknell Junior college, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Last September Mrs. Townsend went to work as a stenographer at the Leo Burnett Advertising agency at 320 North Michigan avenue, where she was employed until her death. Townsend left Wilkes-Barre late yesterday for Chicago.

Mrs. Townsend lived alone in the apartment, which was filled with old furniture, stacks of books, and filing cases of memoranda on her travels. Detectives were summoned to the flat by neighbors who smelled gas.

Cat Is Saved from Gas.

As they searched the place after finding the body they opened a closet door. A magnificent Persian cat stalked out. It had been put there by Mrs. Townsend to insure its safety from the gas.

A note, written in pencil, was found on a table. It read, in part: "Please [underlined] keep my husband's name out of this. Neither he nor any one else has anything to do with my desire to die. My only disappointment is in life and my lack of suitability for it—mentally. I do realize that it is bad to waste my perfectly good body. I'm sorry."

GEN. MARSHALL IN BRAZIL FOR A TWO WEEKS' VISIT

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 25.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. George Marshall, future American army chief of staff, came here today on the cruiser Nashville for a two weeks' official visit. He was greeted by Brazil's chief of staff, Gen. Pedro Aurelio de Goes Monteiro and, with the five officers accompanying him, was escorted through lines of brightly uniformed soldiers and marines to his hotel.

An official call on President Getulio Vargas and a dinner by American Ambassador Jefferson Caffery made up today's program. Tomorrow the visitors will begin a tour of Brazil's defenses.

Gen. Goes Monteiro will accompany Gen. Marshall on his return to the United States June 7 to repay the call. Gen. Marshall is to succeed Gen. Malin Craig as chief of staff when the latter retires Sept. 1.

BRAKEMAN GETS $32,500 DAMAGES FROM RAILROAD

Norvel H. Lilly, 49 years old, of Durand, Mich., was awarded $32,500 damages from the Grand Trunk Western railway for personal injuries yesterday. A sealed jury verdict was opened before Judge W. W. Damron of Harrisburg in Superior court here.

Lilly, a brakeman, fell from an ice covered locomotive tender at Ferndale, Mich., on Feb. 6, 1937. He suffered a fractured vertebra and, according to testimony, is permanently crippled.

The railroad's counsel opposed bringing the suit in Illinois, but Attorney Samuel Cohen, representing Lilly, argued it came within the scope of the federal employers' liability act. This permits an injured employé to begin an action wherever the road operates. Lilly sued for $50,000.

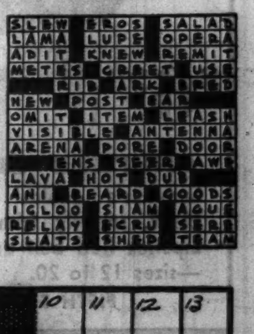
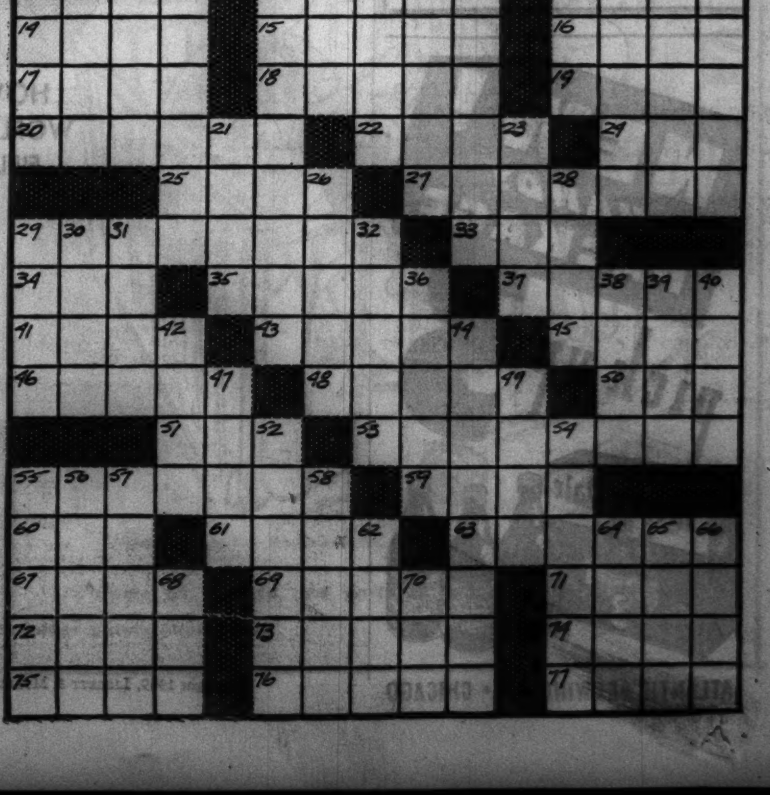
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





GEIGER RESIGNS FROM U. S. BENCH AFTER 27 YEARS

Veteran Jurist Ill at Home Nearly Seven Months.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., May 25.—[Special.]—Ferdinand A. Geiger, federal judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin for 27 years, has resigned because of ill health. Confined to his home by illness for nearly seven months, his prospects of returning to the bench soon were dim, physicians advised Judge Geiger. He was appointed by President William Howard Taft March 30, 1912.

Judge F. A. Geiger.

Judge Geiger, who is 71 years old, announced his resignation today from his bedside.

Calls Resignation Necessary.

"I forwarded my resignation to the President Monday," he said. "I have not received a reply, but I presume it is in his hands. After seven months' absence it seemed to me that the resignation was practically necessary. My doctors have not given me the assurance that I would be able to work within a reasonable time and for that reason I thought it only right to resign."

Under a recent act of congress federal judges who retire are entitled to $10,000 a year retirement pay. But Judge Geiger in resigning did not retire under the meaning of the statute, and will not receive further remuneration. His letter to the president specifically stated that he was resigning.

Judge Geiger was a Democrat appointed by a Republican President on the recommendation of Emanuel L. Philipp, a Republican governor, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Joseph V. Quarles.

Former United States Senator F. Ryan Duffy has long been picked by politicians as Judge Geiger's probable successor. Duffy, who was defeated last year, was a New Dealer during every day of the six years he was in Washington. His voice and vote always were ready to respond to the President's direction and his friends confidently claim he is sure of the appointment to the federal court here.

Doubt Duffy Will Get Post.

Others interpreting Duffy's defeat last fall as an evidence of absence of influence in Wisconsin doubt that he will get the appointment. The effort of the administration to unite La Follette support back of the New Deal candidate for President next year is advanced as a reason why Roosevelt may be more apt to consult the La Follettes than the Democrats in making the appointment.

There even is a belief in some quarters that the job may be offered to Philip F. La Follette, former governor.

Clashes with New Deal.

Judge Geiger clashed with the New Deal in 1937 when he summarily dismissed a grand jury which was investigating the relations of the three principal automobile manufacturers with financing companies. He had learned that the government prosecutors were negotiating with counsel for the defendants for a consent agreement, which, if signed, presumably would have resulted in a dismissal of the charges before the grand jury.

Attorney General Homer S. Cummings complained to Hatton W. Sumners, chairman of the house judiciary committee, that Judge Geiger was interfering with the department of justice and the grand jury and obstructing justice.

Judge Geiger never made any public comment on the charges, but the Wisconsin bar hastened to his defense. A delegation representing both the state and the Milwaukee county bar went to Washington for a hearing Jan. 25, 1938, and presented briefs to justify his dismissal of the grand jury. In a recent public dismissal of the charge, Chairman Sumners said Judge Geiger's record was as clear as if no complaint ever had been made against him.

Roosevelt Signs Record $773,000,000 Naval Bill

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt this evening signed the $773,049,151 record breaking peace time naval appropriations bill for 1940. There was no ceremony. The bill provides funds for the initiation of construction of twenty-three new warships, continuance of work on 121 vessels previously provided for and for 500 airplanes. Among the twenty-three ships authorized are two 45,000 ton super battleships.

MOSCOW TO POUR $7,727,265,000 INTO WAR CHEST

Defense Budget 50% More Than in 1938.

MOSCOW, May 25.—(AP)—A soviet Russian defense budget of 40,885,000,000 rubles [nominally $7,727,265,000] was announced tonight. The announcement was made after Sir William Seeds, the British ambassador, visited Vladimir Potemkin, vice commissar of foreign affairs, and presented him with new British proposals for a British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact.

The defense budget—representing an increase of more than 50 per cent over the 27,000,000,000 ruble [$5,103,000,000] figure for 1938—was made public at a night session of the supreme soviet parliament amid cheers of the deputies.

Boasts of Soviet Might.

"There is no power that the soviet people, led by the communist party and the great Stalin, cannot crush," declared Arseni Zveref, finance commissar, who submitted the budget.

It was not clear what the increase in ruble expenditure would be in actual tanks, airplanes, and artillery, since the value of the ruble varies.

The budget nevertheless indicated the determination of Dictator Josef Stalin to put the nation's whole resources behind strengthening the national defense.

It included anticipated expenditures for both army and navy and compared with anticipated expenditures of 154,957,000,000 rubles [$29,286,873,000] for all purposes.

Total Expenditures Rise.

The total estimated expenditures represented an increase of about 25 per cent over 1938 and more than 60 per cent over 1937. The estimated income for 1939 was given as 155,670,000,000 rubles [$29,421,630,000], of which a business turnover tax is expected to bring in about 92,000,000,000 rubles [$17,388,000,000].

Of the total expenditures those for national economy were estimated at 59,310,000,000 rubles [$11,219,590,000] and those for social and cultural measures at 38,564,000,000 rubles [$7,288,596,000].

FINNS TO FORTIFY ISLES

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, May 25.—The soviet government's objections to fortifying the Aaland Islands will be ignored by Finland, whose military experts believe the extensive defenses will be completed this summer.

Finnish university students volunteered to work upon the fortifications for six weeks without pay during their summer vacations. Because of the acute labor shortage it is believed the offer will be accepted.

Maj. Gen. Genie Badoux, Belgian expert who designed the new fortresses along the German frontier, is assisting the Finnish staff to complete their plans to make the Aaland Islands impregnable. The Finns have extended their defenses since the British-Russian negotiations for a mutual assistance pact began.

[Finland and the Aaland Islands formerly were a part of czarist Russia, which took them from Sweden in 1809. Upon the breakup of the Russian empire Finland declared itself free, drove out the Russians, and set up an independent state which included the Aalands. In 1921 twenty-two nations signed a convention whereby the 300 islands were neutralized. Soviet Russia, which is fighting the Finnish-Swedish proposal to fortify the islands at the current league of nations council session, is not a signatory of the 1921 neutralization convention.]

Finns Defy Russia

(Story in Adjoining Column.)

Finland yesterday disclosed it would ignore soviet Russia's objections to fortifying the Aaland Islands (indicated by arrow). The defenses are expected to be completed this summer. Finnish university students have volunteered to work upon the fortifications for six weeks during vacation without pay.

SAILOR KILLED BY TRAIN.

A young man believed to be Hester H. Gilley, 23 years old, a sailor attached to the naval hospital at Great Lakes Naval Training station, was killed early today when he was struck by a North Western railroad train in Waukegan. Cards in the victim's pockets indicated he was Gilley, whose home is in Holton, Ind.

JAPANESE WARN FOREIGN VESSELS FACE SEARCHING

American Ship to Enter Danger Zone Today.

SHANGHAI, May 25.—(AP)—A Japanese navy spokesman warned today that foreign ships entering waters in the vicinity of the China coast were liable to be halted and searched by Japanese warships.

Such action as the stopping and boarding of two foreign liners in two days, the British Ranpura and the French Aramis, was necessitated, he asserted, because in the past ships flying foreign flags had been used by Chinese for military operations against the Japanese.

[The British government yesterday announced it had protested to Japanese naval authorities against the halting of the Ranpura Wednesday just outside Hongkong waters. A boarding party left the liner as two British destroyers summoned by wireless appeared. The French liner Aramis was reported halted seventeen miles northeast of Hongkong yesterday and detained an hour while a boarding party examined the ship's papers despite protests of her officers.]

The American liner President Coolidge, now en route from Shanghai to Hongkong, will enter the search zone tomorrow but the spokesman declined to say whether it was planned to board her.

Seek to Reduce Chiang's Supplies.

The spokesman also declined to say how far from the China coast the search zone extended but it was indicated it might be up to 100 miles. It also was indicated the Japanese planned to seize any military goods meant for Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's government found aboard foreign vessels.

"The Japanese have no objection to peaceful trading," he said, "but ships carrying articles used for military purposes may be held. It is not a question of the Japanese having a right to do so. It is something which is necessary and which we are doing. The Japanese can halt any ships to investigate their status."

The spokesman denied that boarding of the Ranpura and Aramis was connected with the Kulangsu situation, but the impression was general, nevertheless, that it was a new form of Japanese pressure to force Great Britain, France, and the United States to grant Japanese demands there.

Jap Demands Refused.

A Japanese naval party was landed May 12 on Kulangsu, international settlement on an island in the harbor of Amoy, and demands made for virtually complete control. British, French, and American warships were rushed to Amoy and each power landed parties. The Japanese demands were rejected.

Raid Chungking.

CHUNGKING, China, May 25.—(AP)—Japanese air raiders dropped 120 bombs in this provisional Chinese capital's business district tonight, causing about 400 casualties and destroying 250 buildings. Among the structures destroyed was the American Methodist Women's Missionary Society center.

BELIEVE HITLER MUST REBUILD FLOODED FORTS

Nazi Defenses Along Rhine Ruined, French Say.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STRASBOURG, France, May 25.—Complete reconstruction of the first line of the German fortifications along the Rhine frontier has become necessary after waters of the Rhine river accomplished what Nazis proudly announced could not be done by the most powerful French war weapons.

This, at least, is the opinion of well informed French quarters here. On the French side of the Rhine they have taken turns observing the damage done to the German underground fortifications by Tuesday night's sudden rise of Rhine waters. The river rose more than seven feet in a few hours.

The alarm sounded by German troops in the fortifications after they found themselves suddenly knee deep in water had a rapid echo on the French side, where there was concern at first as to whether the French fortifications might suffer the same fate.

French Stronghold Dry.

The fear was dispelled, however, after French soldiers, hours after the Nazi alarm, found their boots as dry as before, and after French engineers reassured army officers that they had thought of what they believed the Nazis must have forgotten in their hurry—namely: the possibility of abnormal floods which occur on the Rhine at intervals of ten to fifteen years.

French observers described vividly the scene on the German side of the Rhine, where whole German garrisons rushed at night from their barracks in Kehl to the Rhine shore fortifications in a desperate effort to save what could be saved.

The catastrophe came so unexpectedly, however, that the French think only the smallest part of the great stock of ammunition could have been brought out into the open through the narrow fortification exits before the floods had done their work of destruction.

Damage Extensive, French Believe.

The fact that the Rhine shore fortifications are one of the oldest parts of Germany's Limes lines, together with the guess that the fortifications almost certainly were equipped with cannon, machine guns, and ammunition when inspected by Reichsfuehrer Hitler some days ago, makes the French believe that damages were very high.

Frenchmen think, however, that the most important lesson for the Nazi army was the demonstration of what was referred to as a more than simple method to paralyze Germany's first line of defense by replacing the natural floods with an artificially created flood wave on the Rhine river.

A President Visits

President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua and his wife at Union station.

President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua arrived in Chicago last evening for an overnight visit. He will leave at 11:30 o'clock this morning on the North Western for San Francisco and will sail for Nicaragua.

Included in President Somoza's party were his wife and daughter; José Benito Ramirez, Nicaraguan minister of foreign affairs; Henry De Bayle, minister to the United States, and military aids and representatives of the department of state. They spent yesterday at Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., where President Somoza was interested in the work of the agricultural school.

19,400 ITALIANS IN SPAIN TO BE BROUGHT HOME

ROME, May 25.—(AP)—The government announced today that 19,400 Italian soldiers, the last of more than 40,000 admitted officially to have been sent to Spain during the civil war, were to be brought home. The last contingent including some 10,000 men who took part in Gen. Francisco Franco's victory parade in Madrid, will receive a conquerors' welcome in Naples and Rome.

Fascists expected King Vittorio Emanuele to go to Naples to greet them within the current month. About 100 Spanish officials will accompany the soldiers for a review in Naples. Reports that Franco would be among them were not confirmed.

Officials listed 3,132 Italians killed in Spain. Altogether, Italian casualties totalled 13,987. Fascists say 2,000 of the wounded were disabled permanently.

It is estimated Italy spent about $526,000,000 aiding Franco.

WAVE GUN IN TAVERN; JAILED.

John Moriarity, 40 years old, 7337 East End avenue, and Owen McCabe, 40, of 1641 East 74th street, both unemployed, were sentenced yesterday to thirty days each in the county jail by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in Felony court. They were arrested in a tavern at 7508 Stony Island avenue after one of them flourished a gun while demanding drinks.

Draft Ordinance to Make Congress St. an Artery

The city law department, at the request of Commissioner of Public Works Oscar E. Hewitt, has drafted an ordinance designating Congress street as an arterial highway. The highway would extend from Grant park west to the city limits. It was explained that if the ordinance is passed by the council and approved by the state highway department gas tax funds can be spent for paving.

POST-WAR SPAIN THRIVING; NATION NEAR TO NORMAL

2,500 Mile Tour Indicates Bumper Harvest.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BURGOS, May 25. — Spain is working toward its first peacetime harvest in four years. A 2,500 mile tour around the country has shown me flourishing crops of all sorts, despite all war damage and the heavy drain on manpower for the army.

Potentially Spain is well able to feed its own population. One of the chief aims of the Nationalist government is to develop agriculture as far as possible, so that farmers shall be better off, the country well fed, and the balance of exports against imports improved.

Wheat, barley, rice, and other grains, olives, and wine all are produced in Spain. All seem to be thriving this year.

Much Fruit Rotted.

Even as the war went on, there were men left to keep the farms going except in the actual fighting zones. It is only in the eastern region longest held by the Republicans that crops have really suffered in the last year. Even there the only trouble was that farmers refused to tend and harvest crops they expected to see confiscated.

Through the Levante region there are miles of orange orchards with the fruit rotted or dried up on the trees because it was not harvested and the trees were not properly tended. But the next crop is expected to be good.

Starting in the great Rioja wine region in the north, the traveler sees many miles of carefully tended vineyards, the vines cut back to within a foot or so of the ground so as not to go to wood. The growers are pleased with prospects for the year.

Sheep on Plains of Castile.

There the great bulk of Spanish table wine is produced. Rioja wines go all over the world.

Between there and Burgos lies one of Spain's poorer regions, agriculturally. The plains of Castile are famous for their bleakness and the cold winds that sweep over them. But all along there are fine flocks of long coated sheep that make up for the difficulty of raising crops.

Like most of Spain, that region is poor in dairy products, but there is no lack of mutton. Since the slaughter of cattle has been restricted because of war conditions, the people of Burgos have had more than their fill of mutton to eat.

Getting into the south, there is every sign of plenty. In Seville, oranges and olives both are expected to give good crops this year, while a little farther south in the great cherry region around Jerez de la Frontera growers see signs of a good year ahead.

Andalusia Looks Prosperous.

All Andalusia looks prosperous and the inhabitants eat better than is possible in Burgos or many other northern cities.

Cities such as Malaga and Granada, long in Nationalist hands, seem well off, with food plentiful. Malaga used to be known as one of the reddest cities in Spain.

As soon as the former front line is crossed in the trip up the eastern coast there is a marked change. It is easy to tell where the front was. Bridges and culverts for several miles along the winding road overhanging the sea have been blown out. The car has to detour over precarious looking temporary bridges and slither down temporary roads built around the wreckage of culverts.

In Almeria, the first town of any importance after crossing the lines, signs of war damage are still evident all along the waterfront.

More Food Needed.

Food conditions have improved, but the inhabitants still say they could use more, despite all that the Nationalist relief service has poured in since the war ended. It is a long while since they have had all they could eat, and Almeria is in a poor and almost barren area just below the rich lands of the Levante.

Once past that region, the country blooms again, though peasants along the road say they have no food to dispose of, while those in Andalusia were glad to produce lunches of eggs and garlic sausage with home made bread and wine. But the fields seem full of rich crops and the towns are well fed.

One peasant explained it by saying their last crops had been taken from them by the Republican army and they had to wait until the next harvest. From his doorstep he pointed out fine fields of wheat, oats and barley, with rows of mulberry trees for silkworms growing between them.

"There was no silk last year," he said. "We would not bother with it. But there will be plenty this year, and there was plenty of seed hidden where it could not be found. Anything that would keep—seed, silk or wine—was buried where the Republicans would not find it."

Murcia seems entirely untouched by the war. In the city the shops are well stocked and the people seem well fed. Cafés have plenty of supplies to offer their customers, both in drinks and "tapas"—bits of hors d'oeuvre to take with their vermouth or sherry.

The region around is rich and green, a big basin of fertile farmland set among the hills, and all the farms look thoroughly prosperous.

It is along the coastal cities that the damage of war appears. Bombarded because of their use by Republican ships, their waterfront districts always show signs of punishment.

Ships Sunk in Harbor.

In Alicante there are four oceangoing vessels sunk in the harbor, and not a single building along a mile of quayside was undamaged. As one of the other cities once noted for being Red, Alicante is heavily garrisoned by Nationalist troops, but there were no signs of friction. The Reds have fled and the Republicans have accepted Franco, and they are delighted to be at peace and well-fed again.

Food in Alicante is sufficient. Though bread still is rationed out, it is good bread and the ration is generous—a small loaf for each person each day.

Beyond there the food situation seems practically normal. In Valencia, so recently surrendered, there is plenty of good food, plenty of real coffee [while Burgos depends largely on synthetic coffee], and the crowded cafés have practically anything the customers want, even to ices.

There again the port is badly battered. As one of the chief sources of supplies, it was constantly hammered by aircraft. A Nationalist officer said that forty-two vessels had been sunk there before the end of the war.

But the city shows no signs of damage beyond churches that were burned before the war ever started by bands of anarchists.

In the brief time it has been at peace, the city has returned almost to normal. The one striking legacy left by the war in all the recently-conquered cities is the huge number of idle men.

That is rapidly remedied, however, as factories are reopened and industry begins to operate again. It is evident only where there has not yet been time to get machinery in motion and get the men back to work.

Weed Out Former Enemies.

Beyond Valencia the cities have had time to settle down to peacetime work again. Weeding out of former active enemies is still going on, but those not accused of misdeeds are living a normal life.

There is one dead spot along the coast at Nules, where the two armies faced each other for months. The town of Nules is little more than a rubbish heap of rubble and broken plaster. Bridges still being repaired all through Catalonia are about the only other evidence of war.

Returning to Burgos, the route lies through regions in Nationalist hands for many months, by way of Saragossa and Logroño, where only the uniforms still in evidence show that the country has been at war. For all the huge cost to the country, the material damage left is slight beside the nation's productive power.

MAN'S PROUDEST BIRD FLIES INTO CHICAGO TODAY

Giant New Plane to Be on Exhibit a Week.

Chicago is to get its first glimpse today of the Douglas DC-4, a huge forty-two passenger, four-engined air-liner. The craft, which is the largest and finest land plane built in the United States, is a forerunner of the liners that will be flying passengers, mail, and express on coast-to-coast airways in 1941.

The big plane, which weighs 62,000 pounds fully loaded, is scheduled to land at Chicago airport between 5 and 6 p. m. today. It will arrive from Cheyenne, Wyo., where a crew of United Air Line test pilots has been putting it through severe full load takeoff trials.

No Hangar Large Enough.

It will be taxied to a place on the airport ramp near the United Air Lines' hangars, and will be on view there until next Thursday morning, when it is scheduled to fly on to New York. Several flights will be made on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. The plane will not be placed in a hangar, because none at the airport is large enough for it.

This plane is three times as large as the Douglas DC-3 machines flown by the major transport lines today. It was ordered three years ago by United, American Airlines, Eastern Airlines, Pan-American Airways, and Transcontinental and Western Air.

On its design and construction $2,400,000 was spent by the air lines and the Douglas Aircraft company of Santa Monica, Cal. According to Douglas engineers, the latest developments in aeronautical science and lessons learned by commercial air transport operators throughout the world have been aplied in building it.

To obtain the utmost safety the engineers used four motors instead of two as in earlier transports. They designed a tricycle landing gear that prevents ground loops and permits cross wind landings and takeoffs with complete safety and perfect control.

The big machine gains flying speed more swiftly than its smaller brothers and actually will climb over a 50 foot obstacle in 500 feet shorter distance than the DC-3. It can be landed and stopped safely in two-thirds of the distance needed for the DC-3.

Top Speed 245 Miles an Hour.

Its landing speed is 70 miles an hour. It cruises at 200 miles an hour at 65 per cent of full power. Its top speed is 245 miles an hour. It is the most luxurious passenger carrier ever built, with ample room for its passengers, a complete kitchen, lounges, and sleeping compartments.

The DC-4 has been flying for nearly a year and now has more than 122 hours on its log book. The trip east is its first flight away from Santa Monica. It is to be flown by pilots from all the companies that subscribed to its building costs, so their officials can decide whether to order more planes of this type.

Wins Daughter

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Belle Shulhafer in court with daughter, Gloria, age 12.

Mrs. Belle Shulhafer liked to hum as she worked about the house. But, she testified yesterday, her husband, Irving, preferred to get his music from the radio. Once, as she was humming "Home, Sweet Home" he slammed a door on her, hurting her hand. Again, when she attempted another tune, he slammed another door, and her foot was injured.

Judge Rudolph Desort granted her a divorce, custody of a daughter, Gloria, 12 years old, and $10 a week for the girl's support. The father got custody of a son, 17. Irving Eisenman, Mrs. Shulhafer's attorney, said there was an out of court property settlement in lieu of alimony.

Mrs. Shulhafer lives at 3143 Ainslie street. Shulhafer, liquor dealer, lives at 5036 Sheridan road.

SEIZE BROTHER OF SLAIN GALVIN FOR JOB FRAUDS

People wanted to give him money so he took it.

James Galvin.

This explanation was given yesterday by James Galvin, 54 years old, who confessed to Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Bugan that he had duped several persons into thinking he could get them jobs on the police force.

Galvin said he couldn't remember all the names or all the details. Bugan estimated that at least eight job hunters lost about $5,500.

Galvin, a brother of the late Michael Galvin, slain teamsters' union czar, had been sought since January on three indictments in connection with the job sales. He was arrested Wednesday night.

Three of those who complained against Galvin are James J. Walsh, 1407 North Leclaire avenue; John McAuliffe, 3302 Flournoy street, and David Levine, 4743 North St. Louis avenue.

Senate Confirms Virginia Law Dean as Federal Judge

Washington, D. C., May 25.—(AP)—The senate confirmed today President Roosevelt's nomination of Dean Armistead M. Dobie of the University of Virginia law school to be federal judge for the western Virginia district. Dobie was appointed after the senate had rejected Mr. Roosevelt's earlier nomination of Floyd H. Roberts. Senators Glass and Byrd, Virginia Democrats, had objected to Roberts.

TEN ARRAIGNED AS MURDERERS IN PHILADELPHIA

Mass Death Probe Brings Three Guilty Pleas.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—[Special.]—Ten men and women were arraigned in court today on charges they murdered five men in an insurance murder plot. Investigators believe that about 100 persons were killed in eastern states by members of a syndicate that made a business of slaying.

The mass arraignment was the largest in Philadelphia court history. Three who pleaded guilty will appear before a court of three judges who will hear evidence and fix punishment. The seven who denied guilt probably will be tried in groups.

Admits Guilt in Drowning.

The first plea of guilty was entered by Morris Bolber, who admitted responsibility for the murder of Roman Mandiuk, a baker, whose exhumed body showed traces of four poisons.

A like plea was made by Samuel Sortino. He was charged with drowning a cripple. The third to plead guilty was Paul Petrillo, a South Philadelphia tailor accused of practicing witchcraft as a mask for plotting insurance killings. He is charged with two poison slayings.

Deny Parts in Mates' Deaths.

Three women were among those who pleaded not guilty. The widow of Bolber's victim, Mrs. Agnes Mandiuk, denied she had any part in her husband's death. Another widow, Mrs. Josephine Romualdo, pleaded not guilty to charges that she killed her husband, Antonio, a lamplighter.

Mrs. Christina Cerrone denied murder and manslaughter charges in the drowning of the cripple, Rafaele Caruso, to which Sortino confessed.

Not guilty pleas also were entered by David Brandt, a typewriter salesman indicted in Mandiuk's death; Cesare Valenti, charged with the murder of Charles Favato, common-law husband of a widow who has pleaded guilty to poisoning him, her stepson, and another man, and Rafael Polselli and Amedeo Muscelli, charged with murdering Giuseppe di Martino.

Raped by Two Youths, Says Girl, 18; Names One

Stockyards police are investigating the rape of a young girl by two young men last night. The girl, 18 years old, said she was dragged into an areaway in the neighborhood of 47th and Elizabeth streets and attacked. She gave the name and address of one of the rapists.

Imprison Ex-Convict Who Was Saved in Air Tragedy

Quincy, Ill., May 25.—(AP)—Isadore Edelstein, one of two men rescued from a transport plane which was forced down in the Pacific ocean last Nov. 29, was taken to the state penitentiary at Menard today to serve one to two years for possession of burglar tools. Illinois authorities have been asked by Washington state officials to return Edelstein to Washington as a parole violator after he finishes his sentence. Edelstein, just paroled from the Washington state prison, was en route to San Francisco, Cal., when the plane in which he was riding dropped into the sea. Five persons aboard the plane perished.

PRESIDENT OF THE CHICAGO HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE—ORGANIZED TO PROMOTE WISER SHOPPING AND BETTER HOME MANAGEMENT

Mrs. Fribley says: "Since our organization was established to help women get better values in shopping we study a product carefully before giving it our recommendation. I found 9 out of 10 of our Board Members use American Family Flakes in their own homes. These flakes give such rich, thick suds they get clothes clean easily. They spare housewives the laborious rubbing which is so hard on them and their clothes. That's why we can say you really get your money's worth when you buy American Family Flakes!"

Try These Amazing Flakes . . . See for Yourself

Why You Can't Afford to Use Cheap Chips

DON'T wait for bitter experience to show you that the real cost of soap is not the price on the package, but its effect on your clothes! Thousands of women have switched to American Family Flakes for the thrillingly easy way it gets clothes dazzling white! . . . With much greater safety than is possible with many harsh granulated soaps or with inferior cheap chips that require ruinous rubbing!

American Family Flakes are not loaded with harmful chemicals or harsh alkalis that fade colors, weaken fabrics long before their time. Instead their thrilling washing results are solely due to:

1. Thicker, Richer Suds!!! Rigid tests in our laboratories prove that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than the next 3 leading brands sold in Chicago, including granulated soaps.

2. Speedy Suds!!! Paper-thin, these flakes dissolve amazingly fast in water. Build up quickly into tubfuls of thick, billowing suds.

3. Active, Long-Lasting Suds!!! Especially made for Chicago's hard water, American Family Flakes make creamy, active suds that really stand up! Not the thin, lazy suds that many cheap chips make.

Say good-bye to back-breaking ruinous rubbing, boiling and bleaching. Even grimiest spots disappear without hard rubbing—and the rest of the dirt seems to soak loose almost like magic!

You'll thrill to see your white clothes come out dazzling white. Colors retain their gay brilliance, wash after wash! Really safe for even the finest washables! Also unexcelled for dishwashing. And so safe for hands!

Get a package of American Family Flakes today . . . And in the long run, see for yourself—it's cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes! A Procter & Gamble product.

HOW SOB SISTERS PUT ST. CHARLES ON DOWNGRADE

History Shows Scandals Followed Laxity.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

Escapes and scandals at the St. Charles School for Boys started immediately after the school was turned over to the politicians and sob sisters, its history reveals. They have continued as one superintendent after another tried unsuccessfully to stem the tide.

Many legislative committees, aided and abetted by the professional social workers, have investigated the school in the last twenty years. They have found many things wrong with the institution, but so far nothing has been done to correct the deficiencies except to try to cajole the inmates by kindness and flattery into being good boys.

Citizens at Last Get Help.

The joint legislative committee under Senator Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton], which recently investigated the school, is the first of these committees to give any indication of actually doing something about St. Charles. At least the people of St. Charles, a prosperous beauty spot of the Fox river valley, are hopeful that it will do something to prevent the city from getting continued black eyes as a result of the scandals arising at the institution. So far the committee has provided St. Charles with trained guards and obtained passage of a bill to require a fence around the unwalled institution.

The so-called training school started on the down grade with the death in 1922 of Col. C. B. Adams, a Spanish-American war veteran, who, as superintendent, had kept his charges disciplined. It was then that the social workers went to work on the institution and transformed it from a place of strictness, military drill, and vocational training, to one of free and easy treatment of inmates. Col. Frank D. Whipp, then a state official, stepped into the position of superintendent temporarily.

A Young Tough Escapes.

In 1923, the records reveal a young tough, Herbert Ziegler, 16 years old, escaped from the school and came to Chicago. He engaged in a running gun battle through the downtown district with police.

In September of the same year Clarence [Red] O'Brien, 17 years old, a brother of Smiling Jack O'Brien, who was hanged for murdering a Chicago policeman, led an escape of seven inmates. Two months later a wholesale escape of twenty-six young hoodlums occurred.

The complexion of the school was beginning to show a radical change by that time. Young toughs made up the bulk of the inmates as is shown by the following table of the number of inmates in the school for felonies:

Crime—	Years 1924.	1925.	1926.	1927.
Burglary	23	23	40	72
Rape	2	2	1	8
Robbery	35	37	59	33
Forgery and theft	130	171	194	128

The same history chart of the school shows there were 63 escapes in 1924, 111 in 1925, 89 in 1926, and 152 in 1927.

Reformation is Tried.

Maj. William J. Butler was brought in in an attempt to stem the tide in 1926. He promptly discarded the free and easy methods of the social workers. His career as superintendent was short and spectacular. The sob sisters put it to an end.

The major found he had a tough lot. The social workers had effected the abandonment of the John Worthy school, a walled, disciplined place for young toughs on the west side of Chicago. Through control of the Juvenile court they had managed to fill St. Charles with hoodlums, who ordinarily would have been imprisoned in the John Worthy school. This institution finally was torn down to make way for the present Criminal court and county jail.

"We have murderers here, big fellows educated in all the rottenness of the world," said Maj. Butler after looking over his charges. "They are really men with long records and have no place beside boys."

Installs Military Discipline.

Butler went back to the military style of Col. Adams. Military drill, military squats, and finally the strap, or old fashioned paddle, as a last resort for those who did not behave, became the rule of the institution.

The sob sisters howled long and loud, and Maj. Butler was ordered to replace his system in 1927 with one of Boy Scout activities. Within a few months the townspeople of St. Charles and adjoining cities were up in arms when Nathaniel Moffett, a colored escapee, 16 years old, attacked Mrs. Richard Hunter, the wife of a Chicago advertising executive. Immediately a vigilante committee was organized to combat the wave of attacks and robberies. A return to military training and corporal punishment was demanded.

But Foes Oust Him.

Within a short time Butler went to the mat with the social workers, who demanded that he use a psychiatric laboratory, ensemble singing, and parlor music in lieu of spankings and military drill and squats.

"These sob sisters would have us nurture on lollypops and soda water felons recently weaned from a diet of white mule and raw alky," Butler replied.

"Saluting and coming to attention is oppressive," replied the sob sisters.

The furor after the attack on Mrs. Hunter was forgotten, and Butler was ordered to march on to make room for a superintendent who would satisfy the sob sisters.

CONVICT PAROLED BANK BANDIT IN $111,000 ROBBERY

James E. Murray, who served a prison term for his part in the $2,000,000 Rondout, Ill., mail train robbery in 1924, was convicted yesterday by a federal court jury in Pittsburgh, Pa., of participating in the $111,000 robbery of the People's National bank of Clintonville, Pa., last Oct. 14. Murray was arrested in Chicago on April 16 by federal agents. He was accused of driving the bandit car. Murray denied the charge and asserted he was in Chicago on the day of the robbery. He was paroled in 1930 after serving five and one-half years for the Rondout robbery.

Prison Sentence Stayed Because His Wife Is Ill

John Maloney, former oiler in a city pumping station who is under a one to fourteen years prison sentence for manslaughter, was granted a sixty day stay of sentence yesterday by the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield. Maloney pleaded his wife is ill and is not expected to live. Maloney was convicted of killing a child with his automobile in 1937.

49 COOK COUNTY MEN AMONG 95 GIVEN PAROLES

Paroles for ninety-five state prisoners were ordered yesterday by the Illinois parole board. Forty-nine of them were sentenced from Cook county.

Of those receiving paroles twenty-three are at Stateville, two at Joliet, forty-two at Pontiac, and twenty-eight at Menard. Among the Menard parolees is George C. Blaeuer of Chesterfield, Macoupin county. Blaeuer, former chief clerk of the state house of representatives, was convicted of burning his house to collect the insurance. He served a year and twenty-two days of a one to ten year sentence.

W. C. Jones, chairman of the parole board, said each parolee must have a job and a sponsor before he can leave prison.

FRANKIE PARKER, 19 OTHERS TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

With nineteen other prisoners, Frank Parker, once known as the millionaire airplane bootlegger, was taken to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth last night to start serving a two year prison sentence. He was convicted in federal court on a conterfeiting conspiracy charge. Parker also is under a one year sentence in Criminal court as a result of his conviction with George [Bugs] Moran on another conterfeiting charge.

PEACE BY POWER POLITICS.

The Danzig border incidents taken by themselves might be ominously suggestive of action along well known lines. Here is the almost conventional procedure when a cause of war is being sought. It is not only easy to provoke the incidents, it is sometimes very difficult to suppress them.

Although the border episodes have the familiar character and may, indeed, be intended to keep the pot at least simmering, the tension in Europe seems, even if deceitfully, to have eased off. Many Europeans now believe that the immediate danger of war which was contained in Hitler's uncompromising demand for Danzig and a passage-way across the corridor has diminished. At least the Hitler formula appears to be in suspension. Heretofore it has required decision, brusqueness, and success. It has not tolerated interference and has demanded prompt satisfaction. Herr Hitler took Josef Beck's reply to his demands in silence and thus far all he has done has been to sign the military alliance with Italy and to inspect his fortifications.

Hitler has not been incalculable before. He has inflated himself upon demonstrations of a simple purpose. If people heard his words, they knew what his acts would be. It may be too much to say that he hesitates but, confronted with what must be regarded as a firm resolve on the part of opposing powers, he at least is biding his time, and may be soberly counting the costs.

British statesmanship has not lost all of its ancient shrewdness. Its present day problems have been probably as disturbing and critical as any encountered in the progress of the empire. The British trade lines, particularly through the Mediterranean, have not been so threatened since Trafalgar. The empire's position in Spain has been enveloped in new doubts. A Spain in debt to Britain's enemies has arisen. New methods of warfare have made Italy powerful and Fascist developments have made it unfriendly. Palestine, instead of being a negligible country in imperial consideration, has become a dangerous front susceptible to Italian and German intrigue threatening to influence the Mohammedan world with which the empire so extensively deals.

Considering what Spain means to British trade through the Mediterranean, it might appear that the British played a dangerous game and stood to lose, no matter which side won that war. It may be that Mr. Chamberlain is still far from a successful solution of those complications, but Gibraltar has not as yet entered into his troubles. His government took Turkey away from Germany and although his settlement of the Palestine question has made him trouble, he has thrown in with the side which, throughout the world, could make him even more.

Mr. Chamberlain now is using a cautious hand with soviet Russia, maneuvering around an alliance which politically and socially is one of the most distasteful he could consider. But if he lands Russia, he may breathe more freely, because then the forces lined up against Hitler and Mussolini must be computed as formidable, even if Stalin would be unable to deliver anything commensurate with the bolshevik pretensions. It may be that the royal visit to Canada and the United States is interpreted in Germany and Italy just as the British ministry would like it to be, and with an exaggerated meaning. Such a visit in Europe would be regarded as a ceremonial sealing of an understanding.

The peace may be uneasy and deceptive but Hitler is taking his time with unaccustomed caution, possibly fearing that a misstep now would be the end of him and the end of the era which he embodies in his strange person.

DISHONESTY UPHELD.

In a 5 to 4 decision the federal Supreme court has placed its approval upon a dishonest act. The decision came in the case of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company. This corporation had issued bonds in 1912 and had agreed to repay the debt in American gold coin or in equivalent amounts of certain European currencies. The question to be decided was whether, in view of the gold resolution of 1933, the company could evade its promise to pay in foreign currencies.

The five judges of the majority, four of whom were Roosevelt appointees, voted for repudiation. Their opinion was written by Mr. Justice Black. The minority opinion, written by Mr. Justice Stone, called attention to the circumstance that neither in the joint resolution of congress nor in the discussion which attended its passage was there any reference to such a state of facts as this case presented. To vote for repudiation was, therefore, to place a tortured interpretation upon the words of the resolution. The majority therefore went out of its way to justify dishonesty.

The decision once more disclosed the kinship of the New Deal with the totalitarian régimes. In Germany, too, the law is defined as that which is in the mind of the Fuehrer. Contracts are therefore swept aside when political expediency dictates. The fact that a free economic system can operate only when the courts enforce the honest carrying out of obligations freely undertaken does not impress the New Dealers as a point in favor of honesty.

PIONEERS AND BUROCRATS.

A federal commission with the high sounding title of the Civil Aeronautics authority was set up in Washington a number of months ago to boss the aviation industry in all its branches. The idea seems to be that this industry, which has accomplished more in less time than any other of which we have knowledge, can't get along without nursemaids to direct it. Pretty soon, if they haven't done so already, the burocrats will think they invented the airplane, devised all the improvements, and are alone responsible for the unrivaled achievements of American planes, flyers, engine designers, and transport companies.

The truth of the matter is that the pitiful place holders in Washington have accomplished nothing unless the hampering of progress can be called an accomplishment. They and their pretensions can best be appraised in the light of the records of such flyers as Lindbergh, Rickenbacker, and Post or such designers as Sikorsky, Douglas, Boeing, or Martin, to say nothing of the Wrights and Curtiss.

Fortunately the material for such a contrast is readily available in Mr. Sikorsky's recent autobiography, which he calls "The Story of the Winged-S." Mr. Sikorsky was born in 1889 and by the time he was 10 years old was dreaming of skyliners. He was sent to the Russian naval academy in Petrograd, but left it before he had completed his course because he wanted to fly. He enrolled in the engineering school at Kiev, but as time went on he found less and less time for academic studies. The boy was too busy designing and building airplanes with his own hands and learning to fly them. His family was by no means a wealthy one, but his enthusiasm was so great that they financed his early ventures from their limited savings. His pilot's license dates from 1911. The next year he was recognized as Russia's leading airplane designer.

He pioneered the multiple engined plane and in this field was far ahead when the war came. His bombers performed with great distinction on the Russian front.

Then came a series of obstacles which only a passion for achievement could have overcome. He quickly sensed that there was no room in revolutionary Russia for a man of independent ideas and fled first to France and then to America. The war was over; our government had more planes than it wanted; the transport services had not yet come into being. He eked out a living teaching mathematics and astronomy to Russian immigrants in night schools. His enthusiasm must have been contagious, because before long his pupils had sunk their little savings in the Sikorsky Aero Engineering corporation and some of them were working for him for next to nothing. The equipment of the factory was primitive, but a plane was turned out which proved to be a success.

Successes and disappointments followed. The plane which he designed for the trans-Atlantic flight was destroyed in a take-off accident in 1926 and by the time a successor had been financed and built Col. Lindbergh had made his flight to Paris and the opportunity was gone.

But Sikorsky persisted with results which are familiar. His planes have pioneered the commercial crossings of all the oceans. There has been steady and uninterrupted progress in the direction of safety, speed, and comfort. The other distinguished airplane designers were pursuing the same objectives and, if they had not been disposed to do so of their own accord, the demands of the transport companies would have forced progress in these directions.

And now we have the Civil Aeronautical authority presuming to tell men like Sikorsky what they may do and what they may not do. It seems fair to conclude that the burocrats are moved as much by jealousy of other men's achievements as by greed for power.

CRIMINALS AND THE INCOME TAX.

A prison term of a year and three months is a light sentence for Tom Pendergast, the crooked Democratic boss of Kansas City, but it is remarked that he is old, ill, and done for. If he comes out it will be as an ex-convict.

Justice does not find much satisfaction in the reflection that from Capone to Pendergast so many gangsters and corruptionists have been caught for punishment not in the acts which gave them profit, but because they did not make a proper split of their corrupt gains with the government which sends them to prison. If they had paid their taxes they might be enjoying both crime and wealth.

The income tax penalty is one the government may use or not use at will. It alone has knowledge of the failure to pay. It may compromise or prosecute. In Louisiana it started to prosecute and then compromised when Huey Long died and his followers made their peace. There is bound to be a smell of the extraordinary procedure of the star chamber in such administration of law. Dewey's method of getting the criminal for his crime goes to the roots of the evil.

LAZY.

Yesterday morning the tug Chicago Harbor No. 4 passed under the Michigan boulevard bridge while it was closed, towing a derrick barge belonging to the Chicago department of public works. The boom of the derrick was lowered to permit passage without a bridge opening. Yesterday afternoon the Michigan boulevard and Wabash avenue bridges were raised to permit the same equipment to move back to the barge's berth west of Wabash avenue. Several hundred motorists and the occupants of a dozen buses were delayed for no better apparent reason than that the city employés on the barge were too lazy to lower the derrick boom so it could pass under the closed bridges.

Editorial of the Day

BUSES POPULAR IN DETROIT.

[Detroit Free Press.]

The April passenger report issued by the department of street railways shows that buses carried 63.5 per cent more passengers than in April, 1938. Street cars carried 9.17 per cent fewer passengers in the same period. An increase in revenue and a 12.02 per cent increase in the total number of passengers reflects the obvious value of bus service.

Here is a plain statement of the public preference for buses and the benefits to be obtained from their use.

Interurban trolley cars have long since disappeared from the highways.

How long must it be before Detroit, the fourth city of the United States, rids her trafic laden thoroughfares of rattletrap street cars grinding and screeching along their tracks?

A LEAD WITH THE LEFT.

A Michigan avenue bookshop places conspicuously in its show window a photogravure of an old Russian peasant woman labeled "Stalin's Great Aunt." The price mark: 19 cents. What shall we add to this plain statement of fact as an excuse for our ribald laughter?

Evanston's most famous myth died day before yesterday with the removal of the old automobile that inspired it. The subject was treated comprehensively in this column last fall. . . . We know of others in a similar pattern: A flood-lighted house near the Bahai temple, and a cobwebby vacant apartment in Woodlawn. In both cases the myth is one of sex frustration by death. Maudlin schoolgirls with feeble imaginations are apparently the inventors of these tales.

Chicago, famous for its architects, invited many New Yorkers to contribute designs for the buildings of its world fairs of 1893 and 1933. New York, in preparing for its fair, forgot to invite a single Chicagoan. . . . At any rate, a Chicago architect tells us so.

DAUGHTER'S BOY FRIEND.

My daughter, my foolish young daughter,
Has a boy friend whose style I detest;
He picks out our porch of an evening,
And settles for pleasure and rest.

Last night, last night in the gloaming,
There he came up the walk to our door—
I raged, for events of the future
Cast none of their shadows before.

The twilight held hazards, real hazards;
He was sopped by my busy lawn spray,
Then the screen door nudged his white flannels,
The screen door, green painted that day.

O Conscience! (Yes, where were you, Conscience?)
Did I warn or regret? O, no, no!
I even took pleasure announcing,
That my daughter had gone out with Joe.

"Windy City" Symposium.

Arthur A. Gilbert's remarks [May 22] concerning the origin of the term "Windy City" may be right. During the late nineties when the wind in front of the Masonic Temple lifted my skirts and four white petticoats clear over my head I was willing to concede that Chicago was the windiest city in the world. [Mrs.] H. A. Julellah.

* * *

When the Republican convention which nominated Lincoln for President was held here the citizens were very windy talkers. This caused Chicago to be known as the Windy City. I have read this somewhere. Edmund F. Swan.

* * *

In a dim recess of my mind stirs a faint recollection that Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, gave Chicago its nickname of "Windy City" after a visit here. He had been subjected to much bragging about the city, and said that Chicago people were very "windy." Edna J. Salmen.

[The Linemaster will settle this argument: Chicago has been called the Windy City because it is windy. Its low rating in windiness by the weather bureau doesn't mean a thing. Such statistics seldom do. It may be only seventeenth in the windy catalog, but its winds are more gusty, nagging, and vexatious than those of any other large city in the world.]

Oratory with a Horse Pistol.

More than a half century ago Bob Ingersoll made a speech in Fond du Lac, Wis., for the Republican candidate for President. Bob, as everybody should know, was one of the greatest orators America ever produced. He made the speech in a circus tent—no hall was big enough for Bob's audience. He took his place at the speaker's stand, carefully but conspicuously laid a horse pistol on the desk before him, and said:

"I intend to speak my honest sentiments. I do not say that every Democrat is a horse thief. But I DO say that every horse thief is a Democrat."

Thus Bob had everybody's sympathy, even including the Democrats who happened to be present. Arthur J. Richardson.

Dim Cathedral of the Trees.

The park was a dim green cathedral this morning [May 23]. Overhead the heavy foliage of the elms shut out the sky and much of the light, and the branches arched in long, fine lines to the very roof. Underfoot the thick grass deadened every footfall. There was a light fog that muted the occasional bird song, and seemed to reflect the dense greenness, so that everything swam in a green and opalescent light. The air was heavy with the incense of flowering shrubs. Then, suddenly, to the east, the sun burst through the fog, and became a great golden window in the cathedral of the park. Helene.

LIVER EXTRACT FOR UREMIA.

THAT some of our elderly friends need skilled and watchful medical supervision is a matter of common knowledge. So much can be done for their comfort and peace of mind that it would seem little short of criminal to dismiss them with the statement, "O, well, you are in your seventies and, of course, your vessels are brittle. You are certain to encounter a host of aches and pains."

No self-respecting physician should be content to sit idly by while these worthwhile people struggle along with a constantly mounting blood pressure, with arteries that are becoming more fragile, and with a heart muscle that is losing its elasticity. He must know full well that sooner or later a cerebral accident will occur.

Part and parcel with advancing years the kidneys may be involved and not infrequently the victim will exhibit signs of uremia — a condition brought on by the lowered efficiency of these structures.

Strangely enough, in this particular situation a remedy lies at hand—namely, liver extract. Results following its use have been well nigh spectacular. With a patient unconscious because of the retention of waste products, it seems to neutralize the toxins and promote the flow of urine. It is as though the influence of a chloroformlike substance had worn away with a return of the individual to his aforetime alertness. Adherence to this plan has brought about improvement not only in uremia but in cirrhosis and certain other types of liver disturbance.

The case is reported of a 72 year old woman who had exhibited a high systolic level for at least ten years. Her physician realized that her renal organs were failing and he was not surprised to receive word that from a state of stupor she had drifted into unconsciousness from which she could not be aroused. On examination she showed the typical manifestations of uremia. The urinary secretion was scanty and the percentage of albumin high.

Despite the unfavorable outlook the administration of two cubic centimeters of liver extract was begun at six hour intervals. The material was injected directly into the muscles. By the second day the renal output had doubled and it continued to rise coincident with the return of a clear mentality. Within two weeks all headache and nausea had disappeared and the patient was relishing her food. A month later recovery from this episode was complete.

She remained well as long as the doses were continued—two each day. Later an effort was made to determine her behavior when deprived of this supporting element. As was anticipated, she again lapsed into coma. A second convalescence ensued with the resumption of the program outlined above and no difficulty has since been encountered on a maintenance quota of one cubic centimeter twice daily.

Similar developments occurred in a woman of 65 who had shown a high pressure for fifteen years or more. At times she gave evidence of advancing lethargy and mental sluggishness, whereupon the use of liver was instituted. Within forty-eight hours a marked change for the better was noted and it was found that this patient also could be kept well on two cubic centimeters a day. On increasing the quantity all indications of languor vanished.

There is something strange about this whole procedure. The purified extracts—those employed to combat anemia—appear to be without avail. In other words, we are forced to conclude that in many of the commercial preparations the particular neutralizing principle which these sufferers require has been lost. On the other hand, the crude, unrefined product brought the desired effect.

While extensive clinical trials have not been made, enough straws point the way to warrant a thorough study of this valuable and important therapeutic suggestion. The chances are that some chemical fraction present in the hepatic tissue affects the circulation as well as the secreting machinery of the kidneys.

O. K. IF IT WORKS.

M. J. W. writes: You recently published an inquiry from a correspondent who felt quite all right on waking in the morning. After breakfast, however, he complained of trembling and weakness. In my case these symptoms disappeared after I stopped the use of cream. I now take my coffee black. How about it?

REPLY.

You are probably allergic to milk or to one of the proteins which it supplies. Another explanation is suggested in the fact that you may not assimilate butter fat at all well. The effect of this material is to bring about contraction of the gall bladder and a nervous reflex from this structure may be responsible. If the plan succeeds in your case by all means keep it up.

FACE TWITCHES.

J. J. D. writes: What is the cause of twitching of the left side of the face under the cheekbone? It comes and goes.

REPLY.

Some irritation of the nerve supplying this area is responsible. Look for a source of infection about the mouth, teeth, ears, tonsils, etc. Fatigue may be at the bottom of the whole thing.

[a] 360 degrees. [b] 90 degrees. [c] 45 degrees.

3. What capital city was called the "Forbidden City"?

PUBLISH WPA LISTS.

Harvey, Ill., May 24.—I think the resolution introduced by Mr. Martin to make public the names and salaries of all WPA workers receiving a salary of $100 or more is a good thing. I suggest they not limit it only to the $100 salaries but publish the names and salaries of all WPA and relief workers, regardless of salary. Then post this list in the post-office of each town or community. This would give the community a chance to know if all such jobs are justified. Since the taxpayers are supporting this movement they certainly should have some say as to whom they are supporting. As it is now many of the chiselers are only known by the WPA workers themselves. They can see it all around them, but they are afraid to say anything, afraid of their jobs. Any citizen not bound by the WPA could feel free to report any one holding these jobs with nothing to worry about.

ARM SIGNALS.

Chicago, May 23.—Your editorial on the use of arm signals by automobile drivers was timely. There are at least three good reasons why every operator of a motor vehicle should use arm signals: [1] It is a state law; [2] it is a courtesy to other drivers and courtesy prevents accidents; [3] it furnishes legal protection for the driver who gives the proper signals in the event of an accident.

I would like to suggest that THE TRIBUNE devote some daily space to the illustration or description of these proper arm signals so that automobile drivers may become thoroughly conversant with them. B. N. W.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOCUS-POCUS.

Chicago, May 23.—Great jumping white rabbits! One baby has coming what the other baby owes. The billions of national debt is one great cock-eyed blessing. Mr. Roosevelt says don't worry. It's all in the family. Nobody pays it. Did any hocus-pocus like this keep the babies or anybody else from being pushed over the precipice in Germany or any other country, when their inflation panic came? E. W. C.

THERE'S KENTUCKY, FOR INSTANCE.

Chicago, May 22.—Why pick out isolated cases of senators whose elections are perhaps tainted with fraud and corruption? Just what New Deal senator can be named whose election was not secured by political use of the WPA, political heat on other reliefers and, in states where big city machines exist, by outright intimidation? COL. O'KORN.

TAGGING IN A COLD WIND.

Glencoe, Ill., May 24.—Why should not some mention be made of these men and women who tagged for poppy day? About 9 a. m. I drove south through north shore suburbs and had to pass a great number of volunteer men and women taggers. Planning for a bright, warm day, they stood on breezy corners with cold hands and a drafty biting wind whipping their shoulders; yet greeting every car and passerby with a warm smile. I will say that each person tagging was carrying on, in the spirit of the boys who were no longer here and for whom the poppies were a sign and a pledge. POLLY BALLOU THOMPSON, Ex-"Y" Girl.

WOULD REVIVE SHUT-IN DAY.

Chicago, May 23.—A few years ago there was a movement started for a national Shut-In day on the second Sunday of June annually. The florists of America aided by messenger boys would deliver a bouquet of flowers to every shut-in whose name and address were sent in. It was carried on for two years and gave much comfort and cheer to many I know.

Lilac day is a beautiful thought but it does not reach into the homes.

There are many who would never see a flower except for Shut-In day. One day a year would not hurt any one and would create much happiness.

FRANTIC PAVING.

Chicago, May 23.—Topping all ridiculous, insane, and childish arrangements are the recent acts on the part of the municipal, county, and state highway authorities and the WPA in repairing simultaneously all north and south bound through streets west of and including Ashland avenue.

Ashland avenue has been under repair from 39th street to 47th street; Western avenue from Ogden avenue to 35th street is closed entirely to trafic; California avenue at 31st street is under repair, as is part of Kedzie avenue from 31st to 35th streets, in addition to which there is a bottle-neck bridge on Kedzie avenue over the canal. GRADUATION AND POLITICS.

Chicago, May 25.—The proposed "graduation rally" in Soldiers' field is one of the new ideas of our board of education that will meet with the stern resistance of the senior students of our high schools and also their parents. Every parent likes to see his child graduate. That is only possible in a school auditorium. In the vastness of Soldiers' field it will be impossible to see or recognize one's own child.

The parents of Chicago also realize that this proposed show has no other reason than to give the leading politicians of Chicago an extra opportunity to indulge in unearned self-praise before an audience of at least 90,000 people, an audience they otherwise would never be able to call together. The parents of Chicago see through this maneuver and refuse to be used for such an audience. The less they hear and see of the Chicago politicians the better they feel.

GRADUATES' PARENTS.

[An announcement from the superintendent of schools, printed Friday, said that graduation exercises would be held in the school auditoriums as well as (later) in Soldiers' field.]

THE FLAG AND THE OATH.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 23.—Since we are going to have a law passed to have children salute the flag in schools, then we ought to have a law passed that all public officers [whether elected or appointed] take the oath of office in the presence of an American flag and at the end of the oath salute the flag.

VINCENT P. KIELPINSKI, D. S. C.

THEIR SHINGLES STOLEN.

Chicago, May 23.—Warning to home builders: We are building our home in Park Ridge. Some time last Saturday night thieves stole more than half of our roof shingles from in front of our new house, which is nearing completion. If any one has knowledge of this crime, please notify Park Ridge police.

CLOSING ESTATE.

Chicago, May 12.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father died six years ago. 1. How long does it take for a lawyer to have the Probate court to give him a final closing statement of the estate? The estate consisted of two houses, all clear of debts, taxes, and no inheritance tax on same. The value of same was $7,000.

2. What sort of statement should I have to prove it has been closed? My married brother wanted his share, so I bought his share for a quitclaim. The attorney told me he had it entered in Probate court as such.

3. Now the brother tells my mother that it never had gone through probate to give us a clear title.

4. Isn't probate necessary before putting in joint tenancy?

5. I paid my attorney $400, the amount we agreed on when he started the case, which included court costs, bonds, and attorney fee. Now, when I call on him for the closing statement he says he will make a note of it and mail it to me.

6. If I didn't pay him in full could he have hurried things along? L. B.

1. In general, the estate should be closed shortly after the expiration of the year for filing claims. Your question is not entirely clear to us.

2. You would not necessarily have any statement but you can examine the records in the office of the clerk of the Probate court.

3. In general, probate would be necessary in order to produce a readily salable title to real estate.

4. See 3.

5. You might ask the clerk of the Probate court to bring pressure to bear on him to close the estate.

6. You do not give us sufficient facts to determine whether he is unreasonably delayed. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FARMERS BACK 3 COUNTY WAR ON MOSQUITOES

Find Slough Draining Adds to Tillable Land.

"I was born and raised on this farm and this is the first time I've ever seen that part of it ploughed. It makes the farm look strange to me, but I'm glad that it can be done."

As Farmer Charles V. Mochel made these remarks yesterday he pointed to what had been a slough in the center of his 120 acre farm. For three generations his family has owned the land fronting on 63d street between Cass road and Fairview avenue. He is 56 years old and proud of the fact that his grandfather was the original settler on this land.

The draining of Farmer Mochel's slough is part of the mosquito abatement project being carried on in Downers Grove township of Du Page county. A Tri-County Mosquito Abatement committee has been formed in an effort to clean up other sloughs and mosquito breeding places in Lake, Cook, and Du Page counties.

Farmers Hate Skeeters, Too!

Some doubts have been expressed about the willingness of farmers to coöperate in a mosquito abatement program. Farmers, it was said, are accustomed to mosquitoes and don't mind them. THE TRIBUNE sent a reporter to find out if this were true. He learned:

1. Farmers don't like mosquitoes any better than do city folk.

2. The drainage of land is a big inducement to the farmers even where they think they could stand the mosquitoes.

Farmer Mochel paid $800 for the tile used in draining his land. The ditches were dug and the tile laid by WPA laborers. Mochel estimated that twenty-eight more acres have been made available for cultivation by the drainage work.

"One good crop out of those acres and I'll have my money back," he agreed. "Then, too, we've gotten rid of a pest hole of mosquitoes and a pit of black mud that often forced us to wash our cows before we could milk them."

Old Line Is Extended.

An old line of tile, draining a slough southwest of Farmer Mochel's land, stopped short of the culvert under 63d street and drained into Mochel's slough. The owner of the farm to the southwest bought 350 feet of new tile and the line was continued to the culvert, where the water is emptied into a mosquito abatement ditch.

The culvert is northwest of Mochel's land, on which there were two sloughs. A network of tile was laid from these sloughs through the culvert to the abatement ditch. A catch basin was used to permit the flow of drainage water from small tile lines in one of the sloughs into the larger main line to the abatement ditch.

It was necessary to tear out the 63d street culvert and rebuild it 2½ feet lower to prevent the drainage water from backing up in the new tile system and carry it instead into the ditch.

Neighbor Gets 8 More Acres.

Edward Meadel, whose adjacent farm is north of 63d street, also is tilling new land made available to him by mosquito abatement drainage work. The extra water from Mochel's farm and a slough on Meadel's land are being drained because a listless, meandering creek has been straightened and deepened into a new abatement ditch.

"This has been a slough for years," Meadel said. "The drainage ditch dug by the mosquito people has given me at least eight additional acres—maybe more—out of my forty acre tract."

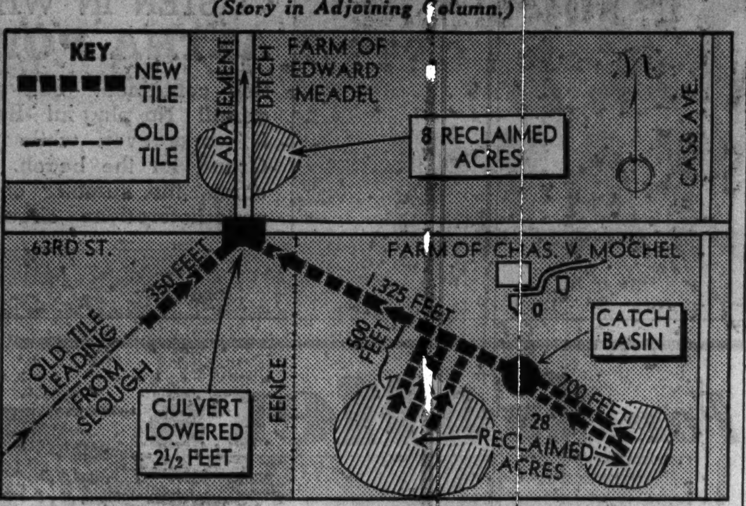
William Hess, whose farm is at the corner of 83d street and Willow Springs road, said that the Des Plaines Valley district had drained the southeast corner of his farm with the result that it has become a fine pasture.

William Eichhorst was not home but his wife said they had been glad to spend $175 for tile, even though it meant a lot of scraping. Mosquito project drainage on their farm made five more acres of land usable.

J. Lyell Clarke, sanitary engineer for the Des Plaines district, and Ford Charlton, in charge of the Downers Grove project, said they expect little trouble in getting farmers of Lake county and the rest of Du Page county to coöperate.

Mosquito Abatement Aids Farmers

(Story in Adjoining Column.)



The mosquito abatement program is helping farmers reclaim sloughs, as this map of representative Du Page county district shows. Farmers wishing to reclaim the land buy the tile and WPA labor lays it. The heavy black arrows indicate flow of drainage. In this instance the 63d street culvert was lowered to permit water to drain from sloughs into abatement ditch. This ditch was built through the Meadel farm and served to drain eight acres for him.

GOOD FARMING METHODS URGED TO CURB WEEDS

Demonstration Is Held at Yorkville.

Weed eradication through good farming was stressed at a district weed control demonstration in Yorkville yesterday in connection with the state-wide fight against weeds. More than 300 farmers, weed and township commissioners, highway officials, and others from Kendall and neighboring counties attended.

J. C. Hackleman of the University of Illinois said clean cultivation was the best method he had ever found for eradicating weeds in crop fields. J. J. Pieper, also of the university, a specialist in pasture management, said: "Nothing controls weeds better than a good turf and that is equally true for a lawn or a pasture field."

Advise Clean Crop Seeds.

Both advise using only clean crop seeds and cutting weeds in pastures, meadows, and on vacant land before the weed seeds mature.

L. A. Moore of the state department of agriculture said every effort was being made to enforce the state's noxious weed laws. Enforcement in the past has been lax, he declared.

The spread of Canada thistle in Illinois was cited as an example of how weeds may flourish despite laws against letting them grow. Moore said Canada thistle has been outlawed in the state since 1872 and that today there are a thousand acres of the weed for every acre at the time the law was passed. He estimates that Canada thistles now are growing on at least 100,000 acres of Illinois farm land.

Shows Thirty Kinds of Weeds.

More than thirty kinds of weeds, pulled from fields and roadsides near Yorkville, were brought to the meeting and identified by Joseph E. Barnes of the state department of agriculture. They included Canada thistle and field bindweed, considered two of the worst noxious weeds in the state.

A control demonstration was held in the afternoon on the Anderson farm near the village of Helmar. Field cultivators equipped with broad shovels, commonly called duckfoot shovels, were used on a field infested with thistles. Repeated cultivations with these machines are effective in controling thistles and bindweeds. Small patches were sprayed with sodium chlorate.

W. P. Miller of Yorkville was in charge of the meeting and the field control demonstration.

Give your taste a chance to vote

WE have learned from experience that the more people we can persuade to test Fleischmann's Gin in competition with other brands, the faster our business grows.

So we ask you to make this simple experiment:

Mix your favorite gin drink two ways: with Fleischmann's Gin and with any other brand on the market.

Taste each critically.

We'll abide cheerfully by your decision.

The first plus to which we call your attention is the superior quality of our spirits, every drop distilled in our own distillery at Peekskill-on-Hudson.

Next note the delicate flavor. See how perfectly it blends with vermouth and fruit juices.

We also point out the extra dryness of our gin. This imparts an added zest to mixed drinks that most people find pleasing.

Give your taste a chance to vote. Compare Fleischmann's with any other gin you care to select.

We know the chances are very good you'll learn to say Fleischmann's from that time forward.

WIDOW QUINLAN RISES TO DEFEND BUBS' GOOD NAME

Says He Never Hid Behind a Woman's Skirts.

Michael [Bubs] Quinlan, before he was assassinated in a south side chop suey restaurant in 1934, had been known variously as a beer runner, a labor slugger, a hoodlum, a gambling house bouncer, a handbook operator, and a public enemy.

But, his widow said yesterday, he never was accused of hiding behind a woman's skirts. He was not one to run to a woman for money. And now a woman had claimed she stole for Bubs! Mrs. Mae Quinlan marched to the state's attorney's office.

"I've come to clear my husband's name," she declared.

Objects to Testimony.

Mrs. Quinlan objected to statements of Mrs. Josephine Hodelka Nylen, made in Criminal court last week before Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley. Mrs. Nylen was on trial for embezzling $11,748 from the village of Summit. She testified she gave the money to Bubs Quinlan because she loved him. He needed it to pay a $20,000 auto accident judgment.

That story, said Mrs. Quinlan, was incredible. Capt. Daniel F. Gilbert of the state's attorney's staff took her to Judge McKinley, and she told why she thought so.

"I don't want to cause any one any harm," said Mrs. Quinlan, an attractive, well dressed woman. "But any one who knew Bubs knew he would never stoop to a thing like this. He is dead and cannot speak for himself. I know the facts and I know he never had a handbook in Summit as she [Mrs. Nylen] said.

No Woman Chaser, She Says.

"It's true my husband made his living out of handbooks. He made money easily. He could have got all the money he needed at his trade, or he had plenty of friends who would have lent it to him. I know positively he wasn't a woman chaser. I'll hire a lawyer and bring in fifty witnesses if necessary to prove he didn't take any money from Mrs. Nylen.

"I know just where Bubs was during the time she mentions," Mrs. Quinlan went on. "He was home. He was having some trouble. Whenever he went outside he had a bodyguard with him."

Mrs. Quinlan declined to give her age or address, but said she has two sons, one 17 years old and the other 16. Judge McKinley assured her she would have a chance to tell her story when hearing of the case is resumed next Thursday. Appeased, she walked out, her head held high.

BLOOMINGTON WOMAN DIES AT 91.

Bloomington, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. Catherine Freitag, 91 years old, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held at Minier tomorrow.

In Safety Court

Joan Meriault, accused of drunken driving, wins delay in court.

Miss Joan Meriault, 26 years old, denied yesterday before Judge Thomas Green in Safety court that she had been drinking when her car struck another at 55th street and Wabash avenue, May 22. Nevertheless Judge Green sentenced her to five days in the County jail and fined her $25. Then he continued the case to June 29 on a motion to vacate sentence. She lives at 5016 Cottage Grove avenue.

A charge of driving while intoxicated against Mrs. Patience Courtney, 24 years old, 4241 Kenmore avenue, was continued to June 2. Mrs. Courtney was arrested at her home May 24 after she struck three parked cars while attempting to park her own machine. Police charged she had been drinking.

TRAIN HITS CAR IN WILMETTE; DRIVER INJURED

Henry Olson, 45 years old, was seriously injured last night when his automobile was struck by a fast North Western passenger train at Forest avenue in Wilmette. Olson, a gardener living at 302 Greenwood avenue, Glencoe, incurred a possible skull fracture, and faces the possible loss of his right hand. He is in the Evanston hospital.

Wilmette police said the crossing gates were not lowered as the train approached at a speed of 60 miles an hour. According to Sergt. Herman Vance, one towerman operates the gates at two crossings—Forest avenue and Elmwood avenue—from a post midway between the two. Vance said railroad men took the towerman off duty after the accident, and promised to surrender him if he is wanted.

Mrs. Ethel Thomas, 65 years old, 1331 South Kedzie avenue, died yesterday in the Mount Sinai hospital of injuries suffered Thursday night when she was struck by an automobile in front of 3204 Douglas boulevard. The driver of the car was Barnes Sawyer, 7042 Eberhardt avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 330 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 259 were killed in Chicago, where 7,681 were injured in the same period.

HUBBARD RAISES LEGAL POINT ON SUPERHIGHWAYS

Gets Opinion Contending Vote Is Necessary.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—The $120,000,000 road program pending before the legislature must be submitted to a state-wide vote before it can be realized, according to a legal opinion obtained by Senator Nicholas L. Hubbard [D., Mount Pulaski].

The program calls for $90,000,000 in superhighway construction in Chicago and $30,000,000 in local road building downstate.

State's Share 60 Millions.

The bills have been advanced to third reading in the senate under the generalship of Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicago], Mayor Edward J. Kelly's spokesman, who has been guided by the legal advice of the corporation counsel's office. By their terms the state would issue $60,000,000 in ten year notes, half for use in Chicago, and the city and Cook county would each issue $30,000,000 in twenty year notes, all without a referendum. The notes would be retired with future gasoline tax revenue.

"I have confidence in the author of the opinion I have received," said Senator Hubbard, "but I don't care to disclose his identity at this time."

Senate Vote on Wednesday.

Senator Ward plans to call the road bills for passage on Wednesday. Hubbard said this afternoon that he will then call the attention of the senate to the legal opinion he obtained.

His opinion reads in part:

"In view of the language of section 18 of article 4 of the Illinois constitution and of decisions of the Illinois court in cases herein cited and in other cases involving the same principles it would seem that the proposal to authorize issuance of state anticipation warants payable solely from gasoline tax revenue would constitute an indebtedness which is required to be submitted to referendum. If the court were to hold otherwise it would be necessary practically to overrule these precedents or to make some finely drawn distinctions."

BILL PROPOSES ILLINOIS ADOPT CITIZENSHIP DAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—Illinois would have an annual Citizenship day, when persons reaching voting age during the year would take part in ceremonies to impress them with their new responsibilities, if a bill introduced in the senate today becomes a law.

"We are adopting this good idea from Wisconsin, where the practice is being hailed as a real guide to better citizenship," said Senator George C. Dixon [R., Dixon], who with A. P. Benson [R., Batavia] is sponsoring the bill.

Thousands of new voters participated in all-day ceremonies at Manitowoc, Wis., May 21. A number of Wisconsin communities are now holding such ceremonies and the plan is expected to spread throughout the country.

REVIEW CAREERS OF THREE MORE IN JUDICIARY RACE

Sketches of Slusser, Kudlick and Russell.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[This is the eighteenth of a series of stories on candidates in the judicial election of June 5. Today's sketch discusses three Republicans.]

Thomas H. Slusser has held several public offices and was general attorney for A Century of Progress. He had a notable war record, spending sixteen months overseas. He was wounded in the Aisne-Marne offensive.

Thomas A. Slusser. [Moffett Photo.]

He is one of the six Republican candidates indorsed by the bar association, polling 871 votes in 2,083 ballots. The association committee on candidates styled him a man of excellent character and a lawyer of fine ability. "He is energetic, painstaking, and competent," the report read, "and is well qualified."

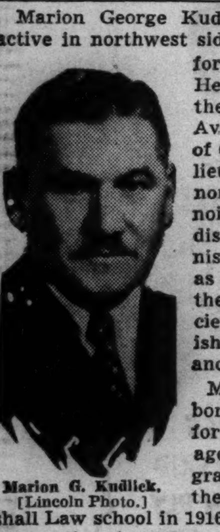
Born in Ohio.

Mr. Slusser was born at Wauseon, O., 56 years ago. His father, the late Mazzini Slusser, was a judge of the 16th Illinois circuit. Mr. Slusser received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1907 and began practice in Chicago that year. During the world war he was a first lieutenant in the 126th infantry and later was with the army of occupation.

He was special assistant state's attorney of Du Page county in 1922 and 1924, special assistant attorney general of Illinois in 1928, and an assistant state's attorney in Cook county in 1929. He is married and has five children. His home is a 5835 East Circle avenue.

MARION G. KUDLICK

Marion George Kudlick has been active in northwest side civic groups for many years. He is counsel for the Milwaukee Avenue Chamber of Commerce and lieutenant governor of the Illinois-eastern Iowa district of Kiwanis. He has served as president of the Chicago society of the Polish National alliance.



Marion G. Kudlick. [Lincoln Photo.]

Mr. Kudlick was born in Chicago forty-six years ago and was graduated from the John Marshall Law school in 1916. He has been in practice since then, specializing in probate, chancery, and real estate litigation.

Thrice a Candidate.

He was a candidate for judge of the Municipal court in 1922 and 1928 and for clerk of the Municipal court in 1936. He devotes much time to sociological studies, one of his particular interests being Y. M. C. A. work. During the war he was commissioned a second lieutenant at Camp Gordon, Ga. He was the organizer and first commander of the Arthur Kelly American Legion post.

Mr. Kudlick lives at 5350 Hutchinson street. He is married and has a son. The bar committee report on him read: "His trial experience has been limited. He is energetic, honest, even tempered, and attentive. To a fair degree he possesses the qualifications for judge of the Circuit court." In the voting he received 217 votes on the 2,083 ballots.

JOHN A. RUSSELL

John A. Russell is another of the nominees for the bench who began life as a newsboy. He was born in Chicago forty-seven years ago and was graduated from the Darwin grammar school and studied at the Lewis institute for two years, working his way through by selling papers.

John A. Russell. [Moffett Photo.]

He took his prelegal work at the University of Michigan and his law degree at the Chicago-Kent college. He opened his practice in Chicago in 1916. During the war he was in the navy, being stationed at the Great Lakes Training station.

Past Commander of Legion.

He is a past commander of the North Town post of the American Legion and also a past judge advocate of the 7th district of the Legion. He lives at 5510 Sheridan road, is married, and has two sons. The sons have both won school letters for tennis, but Mr. Russell boasts that he can beat them at the game.

The bar committee's report on him stated: "As a trial lawyer he is vigorous, aggressive, and experienced. He possesses legal ability. We are not satisfied that he possesses the requisite qualifications for judicial office." The lawyers gave him 324 votes on 2,083 ballots.

GETS LIFE TERM FOR ATTACK ON STUDENT NURSE

John Sylvester Johnson, 27 years old, colored, 5811 Indiana avenue, was found guilty of rape by a jury in Criminal court yesterday. Judge George Fred Rush overruled a motion for a new trial and imposed the sentence of life imprisonment fixed by the jury.

Johnson was charged with attacking a student nurse near the University of Chicago campus on April 24. He was arrested May 3 after he had written her a letter asking her to meet him at 58th street and Cottage Grove avenue. The appointment was kept by Policewoman Ingrid Olson and several policemen.

BOTH SIDES HURL BOSS CHARGE IN JUDICIAL FIGHT

Oscar Carlstrom Speaks for G. O. P. Ticket.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Cook county's judicial campaign took on new fervor last night. Republicans charged that the Democratic coalition is boss picked. From Democratic headquarters came counterarguments that the coalition ticket means a free judiciary without politics.

Oscar E. Carlstrom, former attorney general of Illinois, in a radio speech, extolled the Republican ticket.

"Without a free judiciary," he said, "there can be no assurance our free American institutions can continue to exist. Where judicial positions are filled by vote of the people, there should be given the voter a privilege of choice. This choice is denied the voter when major political parties select a slate of candidates on a coalition ticket.

Recalls Revolt of 1921.

"In 1921, a powerful political organization desired control of the judiciary. The citizens revolted. An independent ticket was put in the field and was elected. A similar situation confronts the voters today. Another powerful political organization holds every other important office in Chicago and Cook county. In the conferences looking toward coalition it presumed with effrontery to tell the Republican party whom it could and could not have on the coalition ticket. This domination the Republican party refused to accept, and it put a full ticket on the ballot."

In support of the Democratic coalition ticket, the Citizens' Nonpartisan judicial campaign committee put out a booklet, headed "Honest fusion versus dishonest confusion."

"Judicial coalition," it said, "has always operated to defeat boss rule of the courts of Cook county. It assures the opportunity for present Republican and Democratic judges to stand on their records in the election.

False Promises Charged.

"Present Republican judges, in keeping with precedent, accepted nomination by the Democratic convention, along with Democratic sitting judges. A bitter fight for control of the Republican party developed. Present Republican judges were not assured nomination by the Republican party, but were by the Democratic party. But they remain Republicans. They have courageously defied the bosses. They will not be dominated by politicians. Thinking voters will not be fooled by false promises and smoke screens of misrepresentation emanating from the political backers of the opposition to coalition."

EVICT PHYSICIAN WHO OPERATED ON KILLER BANDIT

Dr. Siegmund Hirschfeld, 69 years old, who performed a razor blade operation May 3 on a gunman shot by police in a tavern holdup, was evicted from his apartment at 833 Sheridan road yesterday. Agents for the building said Dr. Hirschfeld had failed to pay the $47.50 monthly rental for March, April, and May. He had been a tenant since November. Furniture from the apartment was piled in the rear of the building under orders from two deputy bailifs. It was later removed by a van sent by Dr. Hirschfeld. The operation, performed by Dr. Hirschfeld at the point of a gun, was on Orville Watson, one of two gunmen who killed an undertaker and fatally wounded a policeman in an attempted holdup at 4623 North Western avenue. Both Watson and his companion later were captured. They are awaiting trial for murder.

FARLEY ENDS HIS TOUR WITH A FEEL OF CITY'S PULSE

Postmaster General James A. Farley paused in Chicago yesterday at the end of a sixteen day tour that has been regarded by politicians as a mixture of official business and 1940 pulse feeling. Farley is Democratic national chairman, but in a recent national poll he stood second in popularity to Vice President Garner as a 1940 Democratic candidate.

Farley's tour took him to the west coast, where he appeared at Postal day at the San Francisco fair. En route he addressed twelve gatherings of postmasters and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen at Cleveland.

Asked where the 1940 Democratic national convention would be held, Farley said Chicago, Boston, Kansas City, St. Louis, New York, San Francisco, and Los Angeles all want the convention. The national committee does not expect to take up the question until fall.

While in Chicago the postmaster general talked over the political situation with Mayor Kelly, an invited caller. He left on an afternoon train for Washington.

DEATH IN AUTO HELD SUICIDE.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide yesterday in the death from motor exhaust fumes of Edward W. Young, 30 years old. His body was found dead in his car parked in Thatcher Woods on May 15. He lived at the Oak Park Y. M. C. A.

Capt. Michael Naughton, head of the police department Scotland Yard detail, values his stamp collection at $2,200. Patrolman Marvin E. Floren, assigned to the detail, took the stamps and sold them. He confessed to Capt. Naughton on April 29, and yesterday the police trial board ordered him discharged for conduct unbecoming an officer. He had been on the force 10 years. He lives at 2052 West 71st street. Capt. Naughton recovered his collection in a stamp collectors' store.

QUIZ DAUGHTER OF SLATTERY ON STOCK DEALINGS

Prosecutor Conceals All Details of Inquiry.

Mrs. Ethel Johnson, daughter of Senator James M. Slattery, appeared at the state's attorney's office yesterday and was questioned secretly for an hour and a half concerning stock transactions carried on in her name while her father was chairman of the Illinois commerce commission.

One of the deals under scrutiny was the purchase of $23,000 of Commonwealth Edison company stock while Slattery was in a position to influence rates and rules of the utility.

Goes Secretly to Office.

A subpena for Mrs. Johnson's appearance had been issued Tuesday. She ignored it until yesterday, when she went secretly to the prosecutor's office with two of her brothers, Albert and James Slattery. First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley kept details of the questioning secret.

The spiriting away of Mrs. Johnson recalled the circumstances of the questioning of Charles [Chick] Evans, one time champion amateur golfer, on Tuesday. Evans was employed at the La Salle street investment firm at the time of the stock transactions. He went to the state's attorney's office and, after questioning, left by a fire escape, eluding reporters.

Admits Knowing of Deals.

Senator Slattery has stated in Washington that he knew of the stock deals made by his daughter. He said he had given Mrs. Johnson the $23,000 from his safety deposit box as her share in the settlement of the estate of the senator's first wife. After Mrs. Johnson sold the shares at a $2,000 profit, the cash was replaced in the same safety deposit vault, he said.

It was disclosed yesterday that the senator was in Springfield last Saturday and Sunday and had a private conversation with Gov. Horner. The subject of the talk was not learned.

BEAT SLATTERY QUIZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—The house today turned thumbs down on an investigation of the Illinois Commerce commission during the period James M. Slattery, who was recently appointed United States senator, was its chairman.

Representative Arnold L. Lund [R., Riverside] was rebuffed to the tune of 88 to 14 when he attempted to take his resolution calling for the Slattery investigation from the executive committee. The house decided it should remain in committee, where it probably will be pigeon holed, until the close of the session July 1.

Lund demanded the inquiry because of Slattery's statement that his daughter, Mrs. Norbert Johnson of Chicago, invested $25,000 in public utility stock while he was head of the commerce commission—the body which regulates utilities.

"We have a duty to perform, when it comes to our attention that there may be something wrong in a body which is under our jurisdiction," Lund asserted. "If I were accused in the public eye, as is Mr. Slattery, I would want a chance to be vindicated."

This statement loosed a furious assault on Lund and Richard J. Lyons, the 1938 Republican senatorial nominee, by Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, the Democratic floor leader.

Tax Expert Brings $900 Suit Against Barrymore

Before beginning his performance at the Selwyn theater last night John Barrymore was served by a deputy sherif with papers in a $900 suit filed against him in New York. The suit was brought by Julius Lefkowitz, a tax consultant, for money he asserts is due him for income tax assistance given Barrymore and his estranged wife, Elaine. Papers were sent from New York to Attorney Saul Epton here.

PERMITS GIRL TO LIVE WITH GRANDMOTHER IN IRELAND 90 MORE DAYS

Mary Ellen Hogan, 5 years old, will continue to live with her grandmother in Whitegate, County Clare, Ireland, for ninety days and perhaps for longer than that.

Maurice Hogan.

Mary Ellen's father, Maurice Hogan, 6526 Normal boulevard, has pending a petition to vacate a court order requiring him to bring the girl to this country. He is seeking to divorce the child's mother, Mrs. Marion Hogan, 5516 South Winchester avenue.

Last week Hogan told Judge Robert C. O'Connell he would go to jail rather than return the girl here to become the center of a court fight. He reaffirmed this stand yesterday.

Judge O'Connell continued the case for ninety days. He instructed Hogan's attorney, Norman Becker, to have an investigation made of the child's home and environment in Ireland and a report given to the court.

FORMER CONVICT TELLS OF $25,000 MANTON BRIBERY

Letter He Received from Judge Bared.

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—A further description of the cash and carry system of justice charged to Martin T. Manton was given from the witness stand in federal court today.

Manton, former presiding judge of the federal Circuit Court of Appeals, is said to have operated the system before his resignation and his indictment for conspiracy.

The witness today was Morris Renkoff, ex-convict and intermediary in the alleged fixing of the Schick-Dictograph case in 1936.

This is the case in which Manton and his co-defendants, George M. Spector and William J. Fallon, are accused of holding up the late Archie M. Andrews, head of the Dictograph Products company, for $55,000 to procure a decision from the circuit court in his favor against the Schick Dry Shaver company.

Manton and Spector are on trial on a charge of having conspired to obstruct justice and to defraud the government of the impartial services of Manton.

Fallon, who has been called the bag man and bribe solicitor for Manton, and two other co-defendants, Forrest W. Davis and John L. Lotsch, a lawyer, have pleaded guilty.

Tells of $25,000 Payment.

Renkoff, named as a co-conspirator but not indicted, testified today that he met Andrews in 1936 shortly after a patent case decision had gone against Dictograph in the Brooklyn Federal court. He said he knew Fallon and offered to help Andrews out.

After negotiations, he testified, he reported to Andrews that his case could be taken care of in the Circuit court on two conditions, a payment of $50,000 in cash and the substitution of Milton Weisman, a lawyer, for his counsel in the appeal. One of the conditions was accepted. Weisman was retained but the fixing price was reduced to $25,000 which, Renkoff said, was eventually paid.

Letter Forced from Judge.

Benjamin Golder of Manton's counsel brought out another case by cross-examination of Renkoff. This concerned Renkoff's claim that he paid $7,500 to have Judge Manton reverse his conviction of receiving stolen bonds. Manton was unable to prevail in a three-judge court and Renkoff's money was returned, he said. Renkoff then exacted from Manton, the tenth ranking judge in the federal system, on threat of exposure, a letter recommending presidential mercy, he testified.

"Judge Manton gave me a letter to the attorney general in which he stated I was innocent. That letter is right here," he said.

MILK DRIVERS SPURN APPEAL FOR WAGE CUT

Ignore the Advice of Their Union's Leaders.

Chicago's union milk wagon drivers met last night and refused to reconsider a proposal—voted down unanimously on May 8—that they accept a wage cut of $8 a week.

Milk dealers and officers of the union had urged acceptance on the ground that lower distribution costs are necessary if the firms employing union men are to meet the competition of independent companies.

Motion Howled Down.

Last night's meeting, held in Plasterers' hall at 332 South Marshfield avenue, was attended by about 1,500 members of the union. One member who rose to ask a reconsideration of the wage cut was howled down. Robert G. Fitchie, president of the union, declared the motion out of order.

The base scale of pay for the drivers is $48 a week, and the drivers have a contract calling for that rate for another year. The reduction would be voluntary. Union officials said they favored a cut because, under present conditions, business is going to firms that sell through stores and there is a progressive loss of jobs by union drivers. Five hundred have been laid off since last September.

Price Cut a Cent on May 12.

On May 12 the large milk concerns cut the delivered price of fluid milk 1 cent a quart. The present price is 11 cents. Stores offer it for 9 cents and in some cases for less.

Executives of the companies have asserted they were losing money under the old rate and that they have been forced also to take the major share of the price cut. They made the reduction, they said, to prevent reduction of their volume of sales.

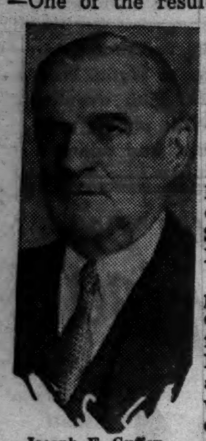
STAR OF GUFFEY WANES IN WAKE OF GRAFT EXPOSE

Doubt U. S. Senator Can Be Renominated in 1940.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harrisburg, Pa., May 25.—[Special.]—One of the results of the revelations of graft and corruption under the capitol dome here during the administration of former Gov. George H. Earle is the political liquidation of United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey.



Joseph F. Guffey.

Guffey, once powerful leader of Democratic forces in the Keystone state and a potential vice presidential candidate in 1940, has slipped so far in the esteem of his own party that it is doubtful whether he can win the nomination to succeed himself in the senate next year.

In the national arena Guffey's political demise is more marked. The grizzled Democratic boss will be lucky if he can control more than half of the delegates to his party's national convention next year. He had the delegation in the hollow of his hand at the 1928, 1932, and 1936 conventions.

Political Scandals Blamed.

There are several reasons for Guffey's downfall, but all hinge on the scandals of the Earle administration, which the senator himself took a part in uncovering.

Guffey, backed by John L. Lewis, czar of the Congress of Industrial Organizations [C. I. O.], attempted unsuccessfully to gain complete control of the party organization at the Democratic primary a year ago. The Guffey-C. I. O. slate was beaten in a race in which Gov. Earle won the nomination for senator and Charles A. Jones became the nominee for governor.

In the pot calling the kettle black primary race, Guffey's candidates hurled charges of corruption at the governor and his followers. The latter replied in kind.

Dozen Under Indictment.

Today, as a result of a grand jury investigation into the charges, twelve prominent Democratic leaders are under indictment. Among them are three members of Earle's cabinet—State Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence, who was secretary of the commonwealth; Ralph M. Bashore, ex-secretary of labor and industry, and Roy E. Brownmiller, ex-secretary of highways.

Although Guffey swung around to publicly support the Earle-Jones ticket after the primary, the rank and file county leaders blame the senator for the defeat at the general election. Judge Arthur H. James, Republican nominee, was elected governor, while the G. O. P. incumbent, James J. Davis, returned to the senate.

The leaders charge Guffey failed to work for Earle's election because he would have been forced to divvy up the federal patronage had Earle gone to the senate.

Accused as Betrayer.

In an attempt to absolve himself Guffey several weeks ago left Washington on a hurried trip to Harrisburg where he entered a Democratic caucus of state senators. Several of the senators accused Guffey of "betraying the party" and he hastily departed.

Among those who attacked Guffey to his face as a "double dealer" was Senator Leo C. Mundy of Luzerne county. Mundy was the nominee for lieutenant governor on the Earle-James ticket last November. Mundy is regarded as a likely candidate against Guffey next year.

John B. Kelly, the Democratic boss of Philadelphia, is openly opposing Guffey. It's a cinch the delegates to the national convention from the city of Brotherly Love will follow Kelly.

Louis J. Fruchter of Reading, secretary of the Pennsylvania Democratic Newspaper Publishers' association, recently sent out letters to prominent Democrats demanding a change in the party leadership. The letter was generally interpreted as aimed at Guffey. The graft charges were mentioned.

G. O. P. Registration Grows.

Meanwhile, in the skirmishing for 1940, the Republican registration is rising while the Democratic is on the decline. In Allegheny county which includes the Democratic stronghold of Pittsburgh, the Democrats have lost 25,000 in registration since the election.

Last fall the Democrats carried Allegheny county by only 30,000 votes, as compared with the 190,000 lead which the county machine piled up for Roosevelt in 1936. A similar trend is noted in the other counties from one end of Pennsylvania to the other.

Welcome, Sailors

Old and new style straw and summer hats are illustrated here because today is straw hat day, officially proclaimed by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The old standby—a sailor of sennit straw.

A straw sailor of sennit weave, but softer and more pliable than the old sailor.

Waterproof woven cloth to blend with sports ensemble.

It's straw hat day! Felts are off; sailors and panamas are on.

Cold weather delayed the opening of the season, which usually comes on May 15. But today's the day, and officials of the Chicago Association of Commerce don't see how you can miss it.

Hundreds of store windows in the loop and every neighborhood shopping center will be crowded with straws of all shapes and sizes, says the association.

Perfect weather brought out thousands of straws yesterday in advance of the grand opening.

SUBWAY WITHOUT ART IS A RATHOLE, ALDERMEN LEARN

Subway riders in New York feel like rats in a hole because the subways lack art executed by the federal art project of the Works Progress administration. The council transportation committee learned this fact yesterday from Gerard Lambert, assistant to the state director of the art project.

He suggested that members of the Chicago Artists' Union should decorate the city's new subways, under WPA direction and on WPA wages but with materials furnished by the city. That would keep Chicago subway riders from feeling like rats in a hole, too.

Lambert said that the artists would like to decorate the subway stations with designs in tiles, with frescoes [possibly in baked enamel for durability], and with murals in oil. After listening the council committee asked the city's subway engineers to consider the plan and make a report.

LOOP MERCHANTS TO ASK SHALLOW SUBWAY TUNNELS

Seek Change in Plans; Cite Danger to Buildings.

Loop merchants and property owners are organizing to protest the construction of low level subways under State and Dearborn streets in the loop, as provided by the present plans. They want to have the plans altered to provide for high level [close to the surface] subways.

This was disclosed yesterday by Russell Tyson, chairman of the Property Owners' Committee on Subways for Mutual Protection. Most of the owners of the large loop buildings on State and Dearborn streets are members of the committee. Tyson indicated that the committee would ask Mayor Kelly to support the request for high level tunnels.

The city's original plans called for a tunnel 18 feet below the surface of State street. Present plans call for tunnels 40 feet below surface. The change was dictated by the Public Works administration, which refused to give the city a grant of $18,000,000 unless its plans for low tunnels were accepted. The subways are expected to cost $40,000,000.

Engineers Cite Savings.

The move for high level tunnels has been given impetus by estimates of construction engineers that use of low tunnels will make necessary the expenditure of millions of dollars to safeguard loop building foundations against collapse. Engineers said that the original plan for high level tunnels would have resulted in less disturbance to foundations, because digging would have been less than half as deep as for low tunnels.

Tyson said an informal poll of the 100 leading business men who attended a meeting of the Down Town council showed that a majority still favors changing the plans to provide high level subways.

"Many of us favor the change," said Tyson, "for these reasons:

"First, for convenience to riders. Transit passengers, particularly women shoppers and their children, would find it easier to get to the street level from a depth of eighteen feet than from a depth of forty feet.

Could Raise State Street.

"Second is the greater cost that Dearborn and State street building owners estimate will be required to safeguard their building foundations if a low level subway is built.

"Third, use of the cut and cover method to build tunnels close to the surface would mean that State street could be raised to its proper level. [Under the cut and cover method an open ditch is dug and a temporary plank road is placed over the ditch to accommodate trafic.] State street in the loop now is about a foot below the level of the sidewalk. The cut and cover method would require repaving of State street, and the street thus could be raised."

FAVOR LIMITING MORNING PARKING IN MILWAUKEE AV.

Elimination of parking on the west side of Milwaukee avenue, from Des Plaines street to Carmen avenue, between 6:30 and 8:30 a. m., was recommended yesterday by a council subcommittee on trafic. Attempts to have members of northwest business organizations agree on a similar no-parking rule for the evening rush hour failed. Engineers of the Chicago Motor club reported to the subcommittee that 68 per cent of the cars parked in that area belong to store and business proprietors; 21 per cent are salesmen's cars; 7 per cent belong to motorists who park near the loop, and 4 per cent to neighborhood shoppers.

SNITE WORSHIPS FOR FIRST TIME AT SHRINE TODAY

Reaches Lourdes After 5,000 Mile Trip.

BY MAURICE ENGLISH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LOURDES, France, May 25.—Fred B. Snite Jr. of Chicago, the pilgrim in the iron lung, reached his long sought goal late this afternoon when the automobile trailer carrying his paralyzed body arrived at the shrine of Lourdes after a three day trip across France.

Early tomorrow morning Snite will begin the usual religious devotions undertaken by pilgrims to Lourdes by hearing mass. The devout believe that fulfilling the prescribed ceremonies may lead to a miraculous cure.

Arrives at Solemn Moment.

Snite reiterated upon his arrival that he has come to Lourdes less in search of health than to offer thanks for having been kept alive since he was stricken three years ago while in China. He is 28 years old.

The trailer, accompanied by a passenger car and two trucks carrying special emergency equipment, swung into the grounds of the shrine, which lies in a deep valley beneath the snow crested peaks of the Pyrenees, at a particularly solemn moment in the religious routine of Lourdes.

A procession of thanksgiving was starting to move toward the chapel built over the grotto where, the devout believe, the Virgin appeared to Bernadette Soubiroux, a youthful peasant girl, in 1858.

Pray for Recovery.

Hundreds of residents of the Pyrenees countryside mingled with priests and pilgrims to watch the iron lung being taken into the infirmary, where Snite will be cared for during his stay here. Many of them knelt and prayed for his recovery.

The last portion of the trip from Bordeaux to Lourdes was made eventful only by the crowds of sympathetic onlookers who surrounded the trailer and tried to peer inside at every stop and by the spectacle of peasants running from their work in the fields to wave encouragement to Snite as his caravan sped through the countryside.

Plan to Open Viaduct at Monroe Street Tomorrow

The new Monroe street viaduct across the Illinois Central tracks east of Michigan avenue will be opened tomorrow noon, if weather today permits paving to be completed, George T. Donoghue, park district general superintendent, announced yesterday.

FRUITADE FOR 50 IS A CHALLENGE TO THE GUESSER

So It's Best to Follow an Exact Recipe.

While it's a simple matter to prepare a fruity drink without a recipe for one or two persons, it's almost impossible if there's a crowd to be served. Fruit juices and water with sugar or sirup to sweeten may be a good mental formula for fruitades in small quantity, but there's bound to be trouble if accurate proportions aren't prescribed for a large punch bowl.

Lemonades and lemon flavored drinks are especially likely to cause difficulty if there isn't a recipe to follow, for it often is difficult to tell whether an ailing lemonade needs more or less of sugar or water to bring it to that desirable perfection of flavor.

Fifty glasses of lemonade may be made from this recipe, to serve fifty persons moderately thirsty, or twenty-five immoderately so.

LEMONADE FOR FIFTY.

7½ pounds sugar
2 quarts water for sirup
3 quarts lemon juice
6 quarts cold water

Boil sugar and two quarts water together for 10 minutes and cool. Combine with lemon juice and cold water. Put cracked ice in glasses before filling with lemonade.

MINT LEMONADE.

Use the preceding recipe, but add a cup of mint leaves to the hot sugar sirup as it cools. Strain them out before adding the sirup to the lemon juice and water.

GINGER ALE LEMONADE.

Use the recipe for lemonade, substituting three quarts ginger ale for three quarts cold water. Add the ale just before the lemonade is to be served.

Mint leaves may be used to flavor ginger ale lemonade if they are added to the hot sirup and strained out after 10 minutes or so.

Killdeer Family Departs; Playground in Use Again

Baseball was resumed yesterday on the playground of the Monroe school in Hinsdale. For mama killdeer and her three babies have gone away. Three weeks ago the little bronze hued bird settled down on the baseball diamond. All games were stopped so the bird could bring up her family. On Tuesday the three baby killdeers were born and yesterday the killdeer family flew away.

SEEKS A WAY TO TELL HIS GIRL SHE IS BIT TOO FAT

Doris Blake Has a Plan for Young Man.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

How is a boy going to tell a girl he is in love with that she is too fat?

The girl in question has everything—except the svelte lines. Her face is beautiful, her hair a magnificent blonde, and natural. She is smart as a whip, and, curiously enough, her beau reports, one of the best dancers that ever got on a floor, and her personality is rich in good humor, her character an enviable one.

But the excess weight stands against all these fine qualities, it seems, in suitor Don's judgment. He tells that he has asked her girl friend to suggest that she go on a diet. She doesn't take the hint from her girl friends.

"How can I tell her?" asks Don. "It's for her own good only that I would do it, if I can work up the courage, unless you can suggest some other method of approach!"

We suspect that it isn't for the girl's own good only, Don, but that's all right. You're not wanting to appear the man who can't see girl-quality for her excess avoirdupois. But if any one can work the magic remedy, you're the one, provided she cares for you and appreciates your better qualities as you do hers.

You cannot take her out some romantic evening and, under an enticing moon, commit the bad news to her, you know, Don. But there's a system. It may hurt her a bit, too, if she's sensitive. You can slyly call attention to how well her friends look with their slim lines. You can say: "That dress June has on isn't such a hot dress, but it looks fine on her because she is so slim!" Or you could say something to the effect that Lu manages to look like a fashion plate on her limited allowance; you guess it must be because she can get such good buys in the smaller sizes.

Not much finesse to the way we've put these comments, but you can supply the finesse, perhaps, by choosing the apt moment and the mood in which your girl seems most receptive.

There are innovations galore in the new shower equipment on the market for warm weather use. . . . One interesting shower head has a fitting which provides the bather with a perfumed shower.

A gadget attached to the shower head holds a bath tablet or a few salts, and your shower water is perfumed as it leaves the shower head. . . . And those modern shower heads mounted on a tube with a ball and socket joint so you can direct water on you at any angle are a big convenience.

Puzzled about how to finish that basement ceiling? . . . A plasterboard can be attached to joists and painted or left unpainted, as you like. . . . Or, again, you can place plasterboard between joists and your joists will give you the effect of beams.

The day seems to be passing when we will have to grope our way down the cellar stairs to a bulky fuse box on the basement wall when anything goes wrong with our lights or lighting equipment. . . . For those unwieldy boxes are disappearing and we see new and remodeled kitchens with a fuse panel on the wall.

This snappy type of fuse box will give your household lighting circuits protection with a minimum and attractive use of space. For the home of average size the four circuit panel is often used. This measures only about 7½ inches square. Not expensive either.

YOU DON'T NEED PERSONAL MAID TO USE HAIR BRUSH

Don't Wait for Riches to Have Beauty.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We heard a woman just over the thrifty border line declare the other evening that if a legacy should drop into her lap she'd run right out and hire a hair brushing maid.

"I wouldn't ask her to do anything else," said the woman. "Just brush and brush and brush!"

"Do you brush your hair a lot yourself?" a bystander asked.

"No. Not very often, because I'm always hoping that wish of mine might come true."

Well, we all have our legacy-wishing weaknesses, but that's a fairly silly one, yes? All the days slipping by and the years, when the hair might be developing inordinate beauty without benefit of legacy. Women are heard to say the same thing about reducing. They say, "If only I could afford a masseuse." Or, "If only I could afford to go to a milk farm or other reducing spot for a month or six weeks."

There is harm in this sort of daydreaming because it numbs the will to immediate effort.

Better to assume that the legacy never will arrive. It rarely does, if ever. Besides, if you are the sort of person who waits for windfalls, you're still the same sort of person. You wouldn't have the maid around brushing your hair. Too much trouble. You wouldn't keep appointments with her or with the masseuse, because you are cultivating the lazy you which abides within you even with a turn of fate.

But, speaking of hairbrushing, we wish you could see what has happened to a head of hair under our direct observation the last couple of months. You'd never know the same head. You'd not believe the miracle that lies in a hairbrush actively employed unless you'd seen first the dull, dry, lifeless looking mop this head was in the beginning.

Sorry we can't give a before and after picture of it, but photography would not register the youthfulness, aliveness, color-restored result of ten minute brushing morning and night.

DANCE HIGHLAND FOR JOY; HERE'S NEW BUN RECIPE

Try raised Scotch buns for a delicious hot bread. Rolled oats give these buns something of that same crunchiness you expect of a good oatmeal cookie. They're easier to make than most yeast rolls.

RAISED SCOTCH BUNS.

1½ cup milk
1¼ cups rolled oats
3 tablespoons shortening
5 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cake compressed yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
2 cups all purpose flour.
2 cups whole wheat flour

Add oats, shortening, sugar, and salt to scalded milk. Cool to lukewarm; stir in yeast which has been dissolved in the cup of lukewarm water. Slowly beat in bread flour and whole wheat flour, mixing until smooth and light. Cover and let rise overnight. Beat for 2 minutes in the morning and turn into greased muffin tins, filling half full. Let rise until dough reaches rims of the pans. Bake in a moderately hot [350 to 375 degrees] until done, about 30 minutes.

MEAT WILL TAME STRIDENT FLAVOR OF WILD GREENS

Greens such as mustard and dandelion must be tamed down a bit by mixing other vegetables or meat with them before they are acceptable to an unaccustomed palate. Either of these greens may be baked in a loaf with a ham and tomato filling.

STUFFED SPRING GREENS.

1 quart cooked chopped greens [dandelion, mustard]—about 2 pounds
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup cooked ground ham
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 teaspoon horseradish
Canned tomatoes, sieved
4 strips bacon

Place half the cooked greens in a layer in bottom of greased baking dish. Combine bread crumbs, ham, butter, chopped onion, and horseradish with enough sieved canned tomatoes to moisten. Arrange this mixture over greens and top with layer of remaining greens. Cover with strips of bacon and bake in a moderately hot oven [375 degrees] for twenty minutes or until bacon is done.

HERE'S A BASKET FULL OF TIPS FOR PICNICKING TIME

Grocers Provide Alluring Displays for Week-end.

BY MARY MEADE.

It won't be the grocers' fault if the unofficial opening of the picnic season on Memorial day isn't a success. They have installed alluring displays of picnic foods in every department. Hams and chickens are offered as the pièces de résistance.

Ham seems to be a particularly wise choice for a week-end that has a holiday following on its heels. There are so many things you can do with this cut. To get the last penny's worth of variety out of your ham you might cut a thin slice or two from the thick end [your butcher will probably be glad to perform the operation for you] to serve broiled for Sunday's dinner; the whole ham then may be baked for your picnic, the shank bone saved for soup some day next week.

Baked Ham Bargains Offered.

You can buy baked ham all ready to take on your picnic, if you like. One chain is offering boned and rolled fresh [unsmoked] hams that are a good buy and will solve the carving problem.

If chicken is your choice, carry it along in a pot pie, roasted, or fried. Chickens for all three methods of preparation are being featured. Chuck pot roast should be one of the best buys on the market and is worthy of a place somewhere in your weak-end menus.

What would a family picnic be without a salad? A kind providence or smart food merchandising have given us many fresh vegetable bargains this week-end. Somewhere in the corner of that food hamper, tuck away a cucumber or two, several tomatoes, some radishes, green onions, and celery. The cucumbers and tomatoes are good buys this week. Other salad bits remain at reasonable levels. Since most head lettuce is up somewhat, you may find it practical to line the salad bowl with leaf lettuce this time. Asparagus, green beans, new cabbage and onions are your best bets for cooked vegetables, although most vegetables are still reasonable even where there are slight price increases.

Strawberries Are Cheaper.

By all means have strawberries—they are cheaper this week than they have been in a number of years in Chicago. They're good looking, fat, red berries, for the most part, too. If it rains and your Memorial day picnic plans fall through, you couldn't go wrong on a day spent with the preserving kettle. Part of the canning time could be profitably devoted to pineapple, which is cheaper again this week. You'll find sugar bargains to help cut canning costs.

For those who want to get really extravagant with outdoor eating, there is watermelon—still a luxury but getting down to seasonal prices. The same holds true of cantaloupe and raspberries. There are honeydews from Chile and mangoes from Florida. Both are expensive.

And don't forget the bottled beverages, packaged cookies, pickles, paper plates, napkins, and other picnic specials featured in most grocery stores.

Sweet Cherries Good Buys.

Sweet cherries and rhubarb are good buys. Recipes using sweet cherries are hard to find—perhaps because this fruit is so good to eat out of hand that it seldom finds its way to the table in cooked or semi-cooked form. Here are two recipes using sweet cherries.

FROSTED SWEET CHERRIES.

Choose large, firm sweet cherries. Wash carefully without removing stems. Drain. Beat the white of an egg until foamy but not stiff. Hold cherries by stem and dip into egg white; then roll in powdered sugar. Serve eight or ten on a plate in fan shape. Served with little cookies or cakes, this makes an excellent dessert for a heavy meal.

SWEET CHERRIES A LA RUSSE.

Wash, stem, and pit sweet cherries. Place in pastry lined tart shells, filling shells to top. For six tart shells combine 1 teaspoon of lemon juice, 2 tablespoons of sugar, and a few grains of cinnamon and sprinkle over tops of shells. Sprinkle with blanched and shredded almonds and cover each with 2 tablespoons of currant jelly. Bake in hot [425 degrees] oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until shells are done. Serve with whipped cream.

You'll also find good uses for sweet cherries in molded salads, fruit plates, and fruit cups, and as a topping for puddings, ice creams, ices, and sherbets. Sweet cherries are delicious with pineapple ice.

MALES ARE QUITE DEVILISH IN THEIR TASTE FOR CAKE

Here's Mahogany Path to Their Hearts.

Angel food may be the favorite at the bridge club, but leave it to a man and he'll vote for a rich, dark chocolate cake. Nine times out of ten it's a moist red brown member of the devil's food family that brings that hungry gleam to his eye. Here's the kind of cake he has in mind:

MAHOGANY CAKE.

4 squares unsweetened chocolate
1¾ cups sugar
1½ cups buttermilk
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or other shortening
3 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate over boiling water; add one cup sugar and one-half cup buttermilk and stir over boiling water until sugar is dissolved. Cool. Sift flour with baking powder, soda, and salt three times. Cream butter and remaining three-quarters cup sugar together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add about one-quarter of the flour mixture and mix thoroughly. Add chocolate mixturee, blending well. Add remaining flour alternately with remaining cup of buttermilk, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add vanilla. Bake in a greased 9 by 15 inch pan in a moderate [350 degrees] oven 30 minutes, or until done. If desired, cake may be split crosswise and put together layer-cake fashion, or bake in two 8-inch square layer pans.

MAHOGANY FUDGE FROSTING.

1½ cups sugar
¾ cup water
1 tablespoon light corn sirup
Dash of salt
4 squares unsweetened chocolate
4 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar, water, corn sirup, and salt, and bring to a boil in a small sauce pan. Cover and cook 3 minutes; remove cover and continue cooking until soft ball stage [234-236 degrees] is reached. Cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile melt chocolate over boiling water; add vanilla and butter. Remove from boiling water and add cooled sirup gradually, stirring constantly. Continue stirring until smooth and thickened. Replace over boiling water and stir until frosting is softened and of right consistency to spread. Remove from boiling water and spread on cake. Frosting may be kept over hot water to keep it soft while spreading, if necessary. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of two layer 8-inch square cake.

The River Bend Feud

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1939: By William MacLeod Raine.)

SYNOPSIS.

Jeff Hunter, an American mining engineer, awaits execution in a Mexican jail by order of Pancho Banderas, rebel leader. A peon friend helps him escape to Texas. Jeff meets Joan Raleigh, lost in the vastness of her feudal estate, and assists her home. He meets her brothers, Bill and Phil, and Phil's wife, Mary Lou. When they learn Jeff went to college with their cousin, Raeburn, he is invited to be their guest. An old feud against the Raleighs is being renewed under the leadership of Butler Lane, suspected of poisoning their aunt, his wife, and forging her will. Banderas, routed from Mexico, has joined Lane. Jeff offers to try to make peace with the better element, and with Jim Williams, starts for the ranch of Carl Nielsen. They are pursued and fired on by Banderas and his men, but manage to reach the Nielsen ranch. Banderas and his men appear. Jeff disarms the bandit and his men. Nielsen is shocked by the outlaws. The feud has prevented a romance between beautiful Olga Nielsen and Bill Raleigh. Next morning Nielsen leaves with Jeff for a conference with Phil Raleigh. Joan and Phil are missing—kidnaped in their own plane and made the prisoners of Banderas. Jeff, Jim Williams and Raeburn Raleigh trail Lane Butler to the ranch of his ally, Rannigan. When Butler leaves Jeff confronts Rannigan and is forced to shoot one of the gangster guards. He forces Rannigan to lead them to the kidnaper's hideout.

INSTALMENT XXXV.
A TEMPTING OFFER.

When they were alone with him Phil made a proposition. "Look here, general. This is a matter of money, of course. Lane means to get it and leave you holding the sack."

"He had better not try it," Banderas roared.

"Ah! But he will. He's a smooth double-crossing scoundrel. Why share with you, he will think, when he might as well keep it all."

"If he tried that I'll cut his heart out."

Phil shrugged. "Some satisfaction, I'll admit, but not enough." He leaned forward, persuasively, his eyes fixed on those of the Mexican. "Why trust him at all? Why share with him? You are the great Pancho Banderas. Must you play second fiddle to this dirty schemer? Let me deal with you and leave him out of it. Twenty-five thousand dollars, Pancho. For yourself. And you will have a great laugh at the man who thinks he can fool you."

The gaze of Banderas, fixed on Raleigh, did not see him but the prospect his suggestion had opened up. Joan could read the shifting thoughts struggling on that dark bestial face. She saw written there in succession cupidity, suspicion, malignant triumph, hatred, lust, uncertainty. He wanted the center of the stage, and just now Lane had it. To double-cross his leader and walk away with all the loot would be a victory worth celebrating.

Lane was trying to make a fool of him, was he? Well, he would turn the tables on him and leave the fellow holding the sack. But not for Raleigh's benefit. All his life he, Pancho, had hated the River Bend managing partner—hated him more even than the rest of the Raleighs, for the contemptuous scorn with which he had regarded him and eventually swept him from the place. He was not going to miss his revenge now.

When he spoke it was to answer Phil.

"So, Señor Raleigh, you buy me for $25,000—me, the poor mozo who was kicked off your place and warned never to show his face there again.

"Don't let it get you, Joan," he said gently. "We'll make it okay."

Kicked off at your orders by Jack Hauck." A devil of malicious triumph rode in the glittering pupils. "And where is Hauck now? I ask you, señor. I, Pancho, who always pay my debts. No, I spit at $25,000. When I am ready I will tell you what the ransom will be."

"With this money, general," Phil mentioned, "you could carry on to success your work in Mexico. Pay the back wages of the army of Armijo, and the men will be yours—not his. And we would remember the day we helped to start Gen. Banderas again on his way to the presidency of that great republic."

Pancho knew that Raleigh was tempting him. He was cunning enough to suspect mockery back of the manner of grave respect. Nonetheless it was still in his dreams that some day Mexico might lie at his feet. What did Villa have more than he, and if Villa had not flung away his chances he might have reached the top instead of Obregon and Calles. Raleigh had spoken the truth. By paying the wages of the grumbling troops he could win them from Armijo.

Abruptly he swung away. "We're starting now," he called to Sowder.

Phil helped his sister to mount. They moved into the mesquite, a single line of riders, led by Sowder. The party consisted of him, the gunman called Whitey, two Mexican mozos, Banderas, and the prisoners. Joan was tired. Her shoulders drooped, and when the going was rough she clung to the horn of the saddle. She knew her exhaustion was due largely to the insistent dread in her heart of what was to come.

At a wide place in the trail Phil moved up for a minute to comfort her. "Don't let it get you, Joan," he said gently. "We'll make it okay."

She smiled at him, wanly. "Of course we will, Phil."

. . . .

Laboring in the rear of the party, Old Jim bemoaned the luck that had set him afoot for long tramps on two successive days. Before he had gone a mile the tight cowboy boots were burning up his feet again.

"The Lord didn't give humans legs to walk on," he complained, "or else why for do we have cow ponies? My poor dogs are sure enough gettin' ready to howl again. If I ever get back to the River Bend I aim to retire on a pension and set in the sun with two chairs. One of them is to put my feet on, and I don't ever aim to lift them down except when I'm at grub or in bed."

"It's a long way to where I figure this camp is," Rannigan suggested. "If we was to go back and wait till morning——"

"Don't think for a minute you can pull any such shenanigan on us," the cowboy retorted vehemently. "We're going to the end of this trail, and I'll be right there with you if I wear off my old stumps and have to crawl on my hands and knees."

Rannigan had good reasons for not wanting to arrive at their destination. There would be a battle, of course, and on account of the disparity in numbers Lane's side would win. After that, unless Rannigan could escape unnoticed, he would be disposed of as a traitor and left in the bush for the buzzards.

He ventured another whining argument. "I don't see what you all figure on doing. You ain't got a chance. There's three of you, and Lane must have plenty of warriors with him. First off, three of his own guards, and I reckon Mallow is there—and like enough Fidler, though I wouldn't be sure about that."

"And your man Sowder, sent along to represent you," Rae said. "Don't forget him."

"No, sir. He's not my man. I gave him his time last week. . . . And Pancho Banderas is there, probably with several of the tough Mexicans who trail around with him. My idea would be for you to go back to the River Bend, rustle up a bunch of the boys, and get them here on a couple of trucks. That would be a sensible way to go at this."

So it would, Jeff mentally agreed—if Joan had not been in the hands of a villain without conscience and a ruffian without mercy. They could not go back to the ranch for help and get it here before morning, and by that time it might be too late. For Lane was playing against time. He had risked everything on a bold coup and he had to make it win. By stepping so far outside the law he had put himself in a desperate position which only success could justify. If he was pushed to the wall, if he saw vengeance closing in on him, he would make himself safe by destroying the victims who would be witnesses against him.

Judging by his own feeling, Jeff knew that Rae Raleigh's heart must be drenched with fear. It was bad enough for Phil, but at least he was a man, taking the chances that such a warfare involved. With Joan it was different. This gallant high-hearted girl, so scornful of meanness, so gayly sure of herself, had no place in such a situation.

"You said five-six miles," Old Jim complained to their guide. "We have done come twenty already. Fellow, if you're foolin' us we'll peg you out for the buzzards sure as I'm a foot high."

"Not so far now." Rannigan stopped, spreading his hands in a gesture of supplication. "Boys, I've played fair by you. If they know I brought you here I'll be bumped off sure. Lemme slip away soon as we sight the camp."

"We'll think about it," Jeff said, "if we can find a way to be sure you won't warn them."

A CAKE WITHOUT A FROSTING IS A FROST INDEED

But with New Filling It Is Mouth Filling.

The cake's frosting serves not only to tempt the appetite but is also the fresh pinafore that can dress up the family favorite. It's a matter of taste as well as appearance, for frequently a cake's distinctive flavor is in the filling or frosting.

The following frostings and fillings will make new cakes of your old recipes.

ORANGE CHOCOLATE FROSTING.
[For Plain or White Cakes.]

2 teaspoons grated orange rind
4 tablespoons butter, softened
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
2 squares chocolate, unsweetened, melted
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons orange juice [about]

Combine orange rind and butter, add half of sugar gradually, creaming well. Add chocolate, which has been melted over hot water, and salt; mix well. Add remaining sugar alternately with orange juice, until of spreading consistency. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of two 9-inch layers.

RAISIN NUT FROSTING.
[Especially Good on Chocolate Spice Cake.]

2 egg whites
1¼ cups granulated sugar
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
5 tablespoons water
1 cup finely cut raisins
1 cup broken walnut meats
⅛ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 square unsweetened chocolate [optional]

Combine unbeaten egg whites, sugar, and water in top of double boiler, beating with rotary beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from boiling water; add raisins, nuts, and lemon rind. Fold in chocolate carefully and spread on cake. This recipe makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of two 9-inch layer cakes or cake baked in an 8 inch square pan.

GINGER FROSTING.

1 cup granulated sugar
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup water
1 tablespoon light corn sirup
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup minced preserved ginger

Put sugars, water, and corn sirup in sauce pan and stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to boil and cook without stirring until soft ball stage [238 to 240 degrees] is reached. Cover for first 3 minutes of cooking period. Remove sirup from heat and pour in thin stream over egg whites, beating constantly. Add salt and flavoring and continue beating until frosting is cooked and thick enough to spread. Fold in chopped ginger and spread on cake. Makes enough frosting for top and sides of a two layer 9-inch cake.

TOMATO FILLING.
[For White or Spice Cakes.]

1 cup tomato juice
Grated rind of one lemon
⅝ cup granulated sugar
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Heat tomato juice with lemon rind. Combine cornstarch and sugar and add to tomato juice, stirring constantly. Cook until thick and clear, stirring continually. Add lemon juice and butter. Makes enough filling for a three layer 8-inch cake or a two layer 9-inch cake.

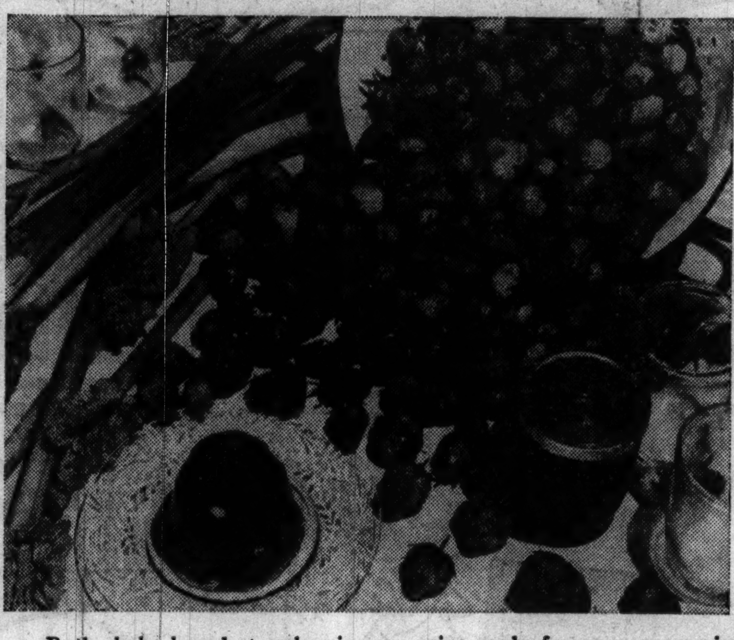
SOUR CREAM PRUNE FILLING.

2 eggs, beaten
¾ cup sugar
½ cup sour cream
1 cup chopped, cooked prunes
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix together eggs, sugar, sour cream, and prunes in top part of double boiler and cook over boiling water until very thick, about 20 minutes. Stir constantly. Remove from hot water, add lemon rind and vanilla, and cool. Makes enough filling for a two layer 9-inch cake.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: End of the Trial

Jelly Season Is Here



Both rhubarb and strawberries are price-ready for your preserving kettle. Because neither of these fruits contains much pectin a commercial pectin was added to the fruit juices to make this jelly. Put raw, cleaned fruits through food chopper and place in jelly bag to squeeze out juice. Bring four cups combined juices and eight cups sugar rapidly to a boil. Add one bottle pectin, stirring constantly. Boil rapidly for a half minute. Remove from heat, skim, pour quickly into hot jelly glasses and paraffin at once. This recipe makes about twelve jelly glasses. [Robert E. Coates Photo.]

FROZEN ASPARAGUS SALAD WILL DELIGHT GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Frozen asparagus salad in tomato cups is a main dish that will bring envious compliments from your luncheon guests.

FROZEN ASPARAGUS SALAD.
[Served in Tomato Cups—Serves 8.]

1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 cups cooked asparagus, chopped
Salt to taste
8 medium to large tomatoes

Fold mayonnaise into whipped cream, stir in chopped asparagus. Season to taste and turn into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator. Freeze until firm, stirring occasionally. Hollow out chilled tomatoes—pulp may be used in soups or for tomato puree or juice. Place on lettuce leaves and fill with spooned up frozen salad. Serve immediately.

Sudden Lake Breeze Blows Mercury Down from 83

Lake breezes that swept over Chicago shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday caused a precipitate drop in temperature. The mercury had climbed steadily during the day and had reached 83 when the wind rose. Half an hour later the reading was 70. Forecaster C. A. Donnel said that today would be unsettled, with mild temperatures. Abnormally warm weather was registered over much of the middle west yesterday, the maximum in parts of Iowa exceeding 100 degrees.

BLENDED FRUITS ADD VARIETY TO JELLY AND JAM

Now's the Time to Think of Winter Marmalade.

It's jam and jelly time—that is, if you want to find strawberries and rhubarb on the preserve shelf next winter.

You may have a little variety on the shelf this year by combining strawberries and rhubarb with other fruits. Make a rhubarb and pineapple conserve or marmalade; strawberry and pineapple and strawberry and rhubarb jams, and strawberry and raspberry jelly. You may want to try both whole strawberry preserves and the sunshine variety.

For all these and many other recipes for strawberry, rhubarb and other fruit jams, jellies, preserves, conserves, butters and marmalades see Mary Meade's new jelly booklet. It's called "Mary Mead's Best Jams and Jellies"—and the title is correct, since this is a collection of her choicest recipes.

Strawberry Muffins Are as Good as Muffins Can Be

Strawberry muffins are as good in their way as strawberry shortcake and that's saying a lot for any muffin. You'll like them for breakfast, for tea, and as delicious accompaniment to a party luncheon.

STRAWBERRY MUFFINS.

[16 small muffins.]

- 2 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1 cup crushed strawberries, sweetened
- 4 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Beat egg and add to unstrained berries along with shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Bake in greased muffin tins in a hot [425 degrees], oven for twenty to twenty-five minutes.

HAROLD TEEN—HE GOT OUT OF TOWN

IF YOU DON'T MIND WAITING, BERRY SUNSHINE IS FINE

Starwberry sunshine was the favorite preserve a generation ago. Nowadays strawberry preserves usually are made by quicker methods, and are quite as good. But there still is demand for the genuine old-fasnioned sunshine recipe, in spite of these speedier methods.

To make sunshine, choose sunny weather and red, ripe berries. Wash and hull 2 quarts of berries, add 3 cups sugar and stir just enough to mix, without crushing the berries. Heat in a flat pan over a low burner, stirring occasionally to keep from sticking. When the boiling point has been reached, remove from heat and pour into flat pans. Cover with panes of window glass and let stand in the sunshine for two days or longer, until the sirup is thick.

Dean Protests Street Car Terminal at Law School

Leon Green, dean of the Northwestern university school of law, yesterday told the council transportation committee that the operation of street cars in front of the law school makes so much noise that it interferes with the educational process. Dean Green objected specifically to the present location of the surface lines' terminal, where the cars reverse their direction. This terminal has been located in front of the law school at 357 East Chicago avenue near the outer drive since the outer drive was built nearly two years ago.

TRY BUTTERMILK PUDDING WITH A LEMON ACCENT

Buttermilk has many cooking uses, but for those who like to retain the buttermilk flavor none is better than a good buttermilk pudding. The lemon in this pudding is enough to accent, but not submerge, the characteristic taste of buttermilk.

LEMON BUTTERMILK PUDDING.

- 1-3 cup water, boiling
- 1¼ cup sugar
- ⅓ cup flour
- 2 cups buttermilk
- 3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 1½ tablespoons butter

Add sugar and flour, thoroughly blended, to boiling water, stirring constantly. Bring to boil then place over boiling water in top of double boiler. Add buttermilk slowly and cook, stirring constantly, for 10 minutes longer, or until mixture thickens. Pour a little of the hot mixture on the slightly beaten egg yolks and return to double boiler to cook for an additional 2 minutes. Add lemon juice, rind, and butter. Turn into sherbet glasses and chill before serving. Serve with a meringue or whipped cream topping.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Water Under the Bridge.

Hollywood, Cal., May 26.—Out on the 20th Century-Fox lot, writing some gag sequences for "Fallen Stars," which is to be a cavalcade of moving pictures, is Mack Sennett, who in himself is a cavalcade of pictures and fallen stars.

From 1909, when he signed on in the east at Biograph, Sennett not only had a ringside seat as the movies developed, but he also climbed into the ring and served as stand-in for the fighters, the referee, and the towel wavers.

His Keystone Cops, his Mack Sennett Bathing Beauties, his custard pies and his "Chase" scenes WERE moving pictures. . . . Virginia Fox, one of his bathing beauties, is now Mrs. Darryl Zanuck, boss of the studio where Sennett now is working.

It was on comedy that Sennett built his early film empire, and through his portals passed all of the great comics of the day. . . . One of the greatest was Ford Sterling and it was Sterling's threat to quit that led directly to the cinema debut of Charlie Chaplin.

Sennett needed a comedian. . . . He thought back to a little Englishman he and Mabel Normand had seen one night at the American theater in New York. . . . The little Britisher had worked as a heckler in a stage box in Karno's pantomine act and had a real talent.

Chaplin, contacted by Kessel and Bauman, who were Sennett's bankrollers and partners, turned down the movie offer, pointing out that he had forty weeks of vaudeville booked at $40 a week.

"Offer him three times as much per week," wired Sennett. . . . With much misgivings, Adam Kessel located Chaplin's troupe at Oil City, Pa., and signed him to a contract at $125 a week for a year. . . . That was in 1913.

The year is important because it explains why Kessel and Bauman, two Sheepshead Bay race track bookies, were in the movies. . . . Gov. Charles Evans Hughes had signed a bill outlawing race track betting, so the bookmakers had to seek greener pastures.

Had they but sensed it, Sennett, Kessel, and Bauman would have held onto Chaplin at all costs and had a life investment, but they didn't have the imagination to realize that this little Englishman's pictures would gross close to $60,000,000 in the next quarter of a century. . . . In fact, who could have imagined it?

What made it more difficult for the owners of Chaplin's contract was the fact that other astute business men were beginning to come into the movies, and forming companies, and waving attractive contracts in front of the performers who had won a following. . . . Essanay signed Chaplin to a contract at $1,750 a week.

By the time he had worked half a year on the Essanay contract Chaplin was the comedy toast of the world and exhibitors couldn't get enough of his pictures. . . . For ten years that terrific demand was to be continued.

In the meantime every company in the business had set out to capture Chaplin, steal him from Essanay as soon as his contract expired. . . . Essanay hired guards to keep these rivals away from the little Britisher while he worked on the lot at Niles, Cal., and always managed to have one of the company attachés with him when he went out at night to restaurants or cafés.

Nothing like it ever has been seen out here. . . . Chaplin, his contract finished, stopped off in Chicago to see George S. Spoor, business head of Essanay. . . . Spoor offered him $500,000 for the next year.

Chaplin was too bewildered by this fantastic sum of money to delay his decision. . . . He went on to New York. . . . On the mezzanine of the Hotel Astor he closed a deal with John Freuler of Mutual. . . . The deal called for $10,000 a week, payable each week, for fifty-two weeks and a bonus of $150,000 to sign the papers.

When the publicity was released that the 26 year old Britisher was to get $670,000 for a year's employment the world was stunned. . . . Editorial writers varied between assaults on such largesse and articles on the "whither are we drifting" formula. . . . Zukor's $104,000 contract with Mary Pickford became negligible.

All of these thngs and more, too, has Mack Sennett witnessed in this fantastic industry, because there are few out here who did not work for him at one time or another. . . . Carole Lombard, Marie Dressler, Director Frank Lloyd, Sally Eilers, Director Frank Capra, Ray Griffiths, Louise Fazenda, Mabel Normand, Bing Crosby, W. C. Fields, Mrs. Darryl Zanuck, Mrs. Hal Wallis—the Sennett alumni—would be a past and present history of the industry and the town.

Sennett had an amazing flair for picking people with talent, and if he didn't have the business acumen to match, that is hardly surprising. . . . The two rarely run hand in hand.

Out on the 20th Century-Fox lot the veteran Sennett has returned to the wars with all the enthusiasm he brought to bear on the problems of 1913. . . . Yesterday he turned in a comedy treatment, complete with gags, for one scene of "Fallen Stars." . . . Zanuck read it and enthused to Joe Schenck: "Times may have changed," said Zanuck, "but Sennett hasn't. He still hits the ball right on the nose."

Seersucker Dinner Dress

The seersucker dinner dress is cut with a circular skirt to accent the tiny bodice top. It is unusually lovely in the contrast of delicate pink and white stripes. The outfit is complete with a brief bolero of the same material. Slippers and other accessories are in summer pastels, china blue, leaf green, or vivid green and lipstick red.

It's Seersucker! The Best Bet of Summer Styles

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Seersucker arrives on time every summer and always repeats its success. Seersucker dresses for street and daytime wear are quite the neatest, smartest stuff in town.

Good looking simple one piece affairs come with a snappily flared skirt, short sleeves, and interesting details. And because of a particularly telling affinity, rickrack braid trims seersucker models to perfection.

Cypress green seersucker is considerably more eye catching because of the fine narrow white rickrack. Such a dress is the best buy of the season for all purpose summer wear . . . office, shopping in town, travel, spectator sports and country life.

Also popular are the trim seersucker two piece outfits that look like a suit. These come with short cool sleeves or with long sleeves. These are ideal costumes for travel. Blue and white, dubonnet and white, and tobacco brown and white narrow stripes make the classics for this sort of outfit.

The gayest and freshest of summer party frocks are of this crinkled seersucker. Snowy white affairs are contrasted with vivid costume accents. Swanky gray seersucker is made into stunning dinner dresses using the stripes in contrasting formation . . . bands about two inches wide going around in horizontal lines to contrast deep six inch band in vertical lines. These look three times as expensive as they are tagged. They tub beautifully and repeatedly.

Fashion photograph . . . a new summer dance dress of pale pink and white striped seersucker is cut with a slenderizing mid-riff belt section to accent the very wide circular cut skirt. There is a tiny bolero of the same material to make the complete costume, and two pink roses emphasize the deep V neckline.

Two Designs for Summer

IN THE SUIT TRADITION.

These two patterns create a frock and a jacket which, assembled, fashion a summer suit. The skirt is a jumper model with wide, comfortable shoulder straps, a youthful waistline, and wide flare to the hem, while the hipline is slim and molded. The blouse to be worn with this jumper is a frothy lingerie topper with shirtwaist collar and puffed sleeves. Rather wide lace trims this blouse, and tiny buttons are used down the front closing.

The jacket is a strictly tailored one with a single button fastening. There is an open rever collarline and long, simple sleeves that are squared at the shoulders.

There are many ways you can assemble this costume. The jacket may contrast or match the skirt. The sketch illustrates the idea. The blouse will, of course, harmonize. You need not use woolens and silks only for this outfit, because the cotton mixtures tailor beautifully.

Style No. 3332 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 2½ yards of 35 inch material.

Style No. 2825 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material for the blouse and 2½ yards of 39 inch fabric for the skirt.

Each pattern costs ten cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Coat for the Two Year Old Is Easy Item to Crochet

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A crocheted coat for the 2 year old is ideal for this season of the year when the weather is unpredictable. This is a simple garment to make, since only double crochet stitches are used. Soft cashmere, lightweight shetland or baby wool may be used. Contrasting white is used around the collar if desired.

For the instructions in crocheting the 2 year old child's coat, No. X-269, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

The Housewife

How would you like to serve ice cold beverages this summer without diluting them with ice cubes? It can be done if you use the colored balls which are filled with water. You simply place them in the ice tray of your refrigerator, freeze them, remove them and place them in the beverage glasses. They'll chill the liquid without diluting it or changing the most delicate flavor.

These tricky balls come in white golf ball imitations, in fruit shapes, and in silver metal. E. W.

Through the Looking Glass

We must confess that at first we couldn't see a great deal of sense to a little gadget recently introduced as a perfume applicator. But after using it, we like the idea so well we want to tell you about it.

The applicator is a companion piece to a bottle of one of the most popular of all perfumes sold in America, a fragrance that is typically French in its perfume-character and appealing to and on most types of women. It isn't the most expensive perfume by any means; in fact, it's definitly within range of the moderate-income woman, but its tremendous success is a tribute to its loveliness.

The gadget we have learned to like so well is literally a dauber, a tiny sponge with which to apply the scent quickly and economically to the skin. It's ideal for use with your purse flacons of perfume. You probably know from bitter experience how wasteful it is to up-end your perfume bottle, spill some on your fingers and then transfer the perfume from fingers to flesh.

With the clever little applicator you simply remove the flacon cover with a twisting motion, saturate the little sponge with the perfume and apply it by touching the sponge to the skin. Not a drop dribbles wastefully away.

Until you use this you really can't appreciate how convenient it is for applying your perfume skilfully. You can daub it quickly wherever you usually apply your perfume, beneath the ears, inside the elbows or on your wrists. And, if you're so inclined, you can sponge a little on your handkerchief or any washable linen you may be wearing. Don't ever put perfume on things you wear or use more than a day, though!—Eleanor Nangle.

June Regains Her Place as Bridal Month

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHAT a month for weddings June will be this year! The June bride is proverbial, but for a number of years there were not many fashionable weddings in the month of roses. For the last several years, however, June has become popular again and this year the list of June marriages is long and filled with well known names.

Several weddings of interest here are taking place in other cities, for some of Chicago's young men have gone far afield for their brides.

Two Connecticut ceremonies that will attract residents of this city are the one that will make Miss Mary Mitchell Wallace the bride of Richard Fitzgerald Baum, and another that will unite Miss Kathryn Murtagh Anderson and Frank Billings Nichols. The Baum-Wallace wedding will take place at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, June 10, in St. John's church, Waterbury, with a reception following at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Mitchell Wallace.

Miss Anderson and Mr. Nichols will be married at 4:30 o'clock on Wednesday, June 21, in St. Thomas' church in Fairfield. The Greenfield Hill Country club will be the setting for the reception that the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Christopher Anderson, will give immediately following the ceremony.

Miss Martha Borland Will Be Bridesmaid.

Only one Chicagoan will attend Miss Wallace, but young Mr. Baum will have several Chicago attendants. Miss Martha Borland is going east to be one of Miss Wallace's bridesmaids; the others will be Miss Ellen Knapp of New York, Mrs. Harrison Field of Cincinnati, Mrs. Louis Stott of Reading, Pa., Mrs. John Ogden White and Mrs. William Torres of Waterbury.

John G. Rouse Jr. of Baltimore will be his cousin's best man, and ushering will be another cousin, Gustavus F. Swift Jr., the bride's brother, Walter Wallace of New York; the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Alfred Gawthrop of Parlin, N. J.; Peter Ball, Luther Loomis and Louis Orr of New York, Penn Holsapple of Connecticut, and Malcolm Millard, Daniel H. Burnham III., John and Harry Nacey, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Baum will be going east for their son's marriage, and so will the Gustavus Swifts and their family. Young Mr. Swift is a student at Harvard. Young Mr. Baum will receive his master's degree at the University of Chicago next month, so he and his bride will have the whole summer for their wedding trip. They are undecided where they will live next winter.

Mr. Nichols' mother, Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr., is leaving Sunday for her summer home at Watch Hill, R. I.

Gene Manning Selects Wedding Attendants.

When Miss Gene Manning, the Lucius Mannings' eldest daughter, is married to Thomas Erskine Wilder on June 10 she will be attended by her sister, Meredith, as maid of honor, and by her youngest sister, Kay, as a bridesmaid. There will be three other bridesmaids including the bridegroom's sister, Miss Dorothy Wilder, Miss Jane Kreuscher and Mrs. Edward C. Nicholson [Lois Thompson].

Phelps Wilder will be his brother's best man and ushering will be Charles Fuller, Edward Emory, Walter Peacock, Thomas Potter and John Benson. The Rev. Ashley Gerhard will read the service in the afternoon at the Glen View club.

Mr. Wilder, son of the Erskine Wilders of Hubbard Woods, and his bride will go to Wisconsin on a short wedding trip, but later in the summer will take a longer trip with California their destination. They will live in Chicago. Miss Manning is postponing most of the entertaining that her and her parents' friends want to arrange until after the wedding.

Miss Wilder will exchange her bridesmaid's gown for a wedding gown the following Saturday, for she

The Old Guard Will Boost New Opera Season

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The governors of the Chicago City Opera company must feel as if their organization had had a blood transfusion with the announcement by Robert Hall McCormick, chairman of the board, that a new woman's board has been formed.

Serving on the board are twenty-three of the city's best known women, women who were boxholders and Friends of Opera in "the good old days," as those of the generation that remembers opera in the Auditorium and in the first days of the Civic Opera house call those days of the past.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., whose late husband was a vice president of the old opera company, and who herself was a vice chairman of the Friends of Opera, when that organization functioned as a box selling committee for the company, is the chairman of the new committee. The committee was organized yesterday at a luncheon at the Blackstone hotel. The committee will organize the permanent board. Mrs. Crane and her co-workers plan to work for the present company by selling boxes and tickets, by entertaining the various artists, in fact, by "doing what they can to advance the interest of the opera," as Mr. McCormick expressed it. He added "I wanted to have ladies on this board who are representative and who will contribute to the opera by their standing, by their affiliations, and by their opportunities to help. There are to be no demands and it is understood that each lady will give only such time and effort as is convenient to her."

Mrs. Crane's fellow workers will be her sister, Mrs. A. H. Patterson, Mrs. Tiffany Blake, Mrs. Walter Cummings, Mrs. William A. Nitze, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. James C. Ames, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, Mrs. Robert H. Cabell, Mrs. Stanley McCormick, Miss Elizabeth McCormick, Mrs. Charles H. Hamill, Mrs. William B. Hale, Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, Mrs. Charles C. Renshaw, Mrs. James M. Hopkins, Mrs. John Adams Chapman, Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, Mrs. Frederick Stock, Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, and Mrs. Howard W. Fenton.

With this committee working to dispose of the boxes for next season, which starts on Oct. 28, the boxes in the Civic Opera house should present a startling contrast to their appearance the last few seasons. The boxes are not in the traditional horseshoe arrangement in this modern opera house on Wacker drive, so they never can make the dazzling picture that one thinks of in connection with a brilliant operatic presentation. If they are occupied by men and women in formal evening clothes, however, they will add glamor and elegance to the scene, qualities without which grand opera is not the spectacle that it should be.

Chicago celebrates next winter the fiftieth anniversary of the first large scale opera here, so this is a fitting time for Mrs. Crane and others of "the old guard" to come to the fore and help the officers of the opera company make next season a memorable one.

Benefit for Newberry Center

[Theatrical Photo.]

Mrs. William Englehart Jr. is chairman of a supper-dance to be given at the Tam O'Shanter Country club tonight for the benefit of the Newberry Center league.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Margaret Eppig of Wilmette announces the engagement of her daughter, Rita, to Dr. James F. Kearney, son of Mrs. Daniel O. Kearney of Chicago. Miss Eppig is a graduate of Georgetown Visitation convent in Washington and of Mundelein college in Chicago. Dr. Kearney is a graduate of St. Ignatius High school and Loyola University Medical school. The wedding has been set for Aug. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howe of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Alice Armstrong, to Briggs MacKay Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin of Riverside.

Miss Howe is a granddaughter of the late Gen. S. C. Armstrong, founder of Hampton institute, and of Mrs. Armstrong of Holderness, N. H. Also of the late S. H. Howe and of Mrs. Howe, formerly of South Orange, N. J. She is a graduate of the Baldwin school of Bryn Mawr college and is a senior at Vassar college.

Welsh Singers Alert for Fine Music Effects

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The forty warm voices of the Chicago Welsh Male choir were heard in Kimball hall last night in a program that began with Bach and Handel, bowed to the folk music of the British Isles, and included a miscellany of modern songs. Robert Gomer Jones conducted. Piano accompaniments were the charge of William Notley Hughes.

The finely controlled sonority of the choir, plus the alertness of the director for fine musical effects, gave to each differing type of piece a richness and an expressiveness characteristic of Welsh singing at its best. Interesting that the love of Welshmen for their ancestral country should be able to establish here in the distant city of Chicago a stable organization capable of preserving a type of music making which is one of the glories of Wales.

The virile tone of the evening was softened not only by the many delicate color effects of which the choir is capable but also by the fact that the assisting artist was a woman. Mary Olmstead, soprano, sang operatic and miscellaneous music in an attractive little voice and with great charm of manner. Alberta Williams accompanied her.

Retiring Bursar Guest at Loyola Medical Dinner

Miss Josephine Leahy, who resigned last week as bursar of the Loyola school of medicine after 24 years' service, was a special guest last night at the annual faculty banquet at the Stevens hotel. Dr. Louis D. Moorhead, dean, was toastmaster.

Front Views and Profiles By June Provines

Identification.

It's Jack Wood's report: A man, poorly capped and sweatered, shuffled up to a bar followed by a sad little dog. Picking up the dog and setting him on a high bar stool, he ordered beer. The dog looked expectant and lapped up greedily some beer offered in the palm of his owner's hand.

"What kind of a dog is that?" asked a bystander.

"Part pipperese 'n' part peneranlam," answered the dog's master.

Bench Bingo.

The latest tale of judicial informality, relayed by F. E. Kolak, concerns Judge Mark Rudlich of New York City. He instructed a defendant accused of disorderly conduct to count by fives until stopped. When the defendant reached forty-five the judge shouted "Bingo!" and sentenced him to forty-five days in jail.

Urban Album.

Louis Bromfield was in town the other day on his way to the coast to write the script for a picture about Brigham Young. After years of living in Paris and in India he has settled near Mansfield, O., and is a dirt farmer, he says, and he settled in Ohio not only because it's home but because the soil is good. His daughters go to school in the vicinity. The Green Bay Tree, in which Elsie Ferguson played years ago, is now on the boards in London. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huston and Mrs. Huston's dachshund left for their home in California yesterday, leaving young women still sighing for older husbands after hearing Huston sing September Song in Knickerbocker Holiday. . . . Doris Dudley, in slacks, blonde hair flowing to her shoulders, walking a Great Dane and a greyhound, recently acquired from Orphans of the Storm, out of the Ambassador. . . . Will some one explain the significance of the little white picket fence inclosing a little white cross, both doll size, near the florist's at Western and Peterson avenues? . . . Also tell us who gets his mail at the old fashioned country tin mail box at Belmont and Sheridan road, where the trafic rushes past in four directions.

Definition.

A woman was trying to define the word predestination to an 11 year old boy. He listened patiently for a moment and then said:

"I get the idea; it's like saying a train is late before it starts."

Add Antique Rackets.

While a friend who is building a new home was selecting hardware for the new house at a manufacturer's showroom a man entered carrying a moldy old door knob. He wanted a repair made, he said, but under no condition was the knob to be polished. It was an antique, he explained. Came from Morro castle in Cuba. After he was gone the firm representative looked closely at the knob and scraped away a little of the dirt and mold in a certain spot. Then he showed it to our friend. The mark of the Chicago manufacturer was clearly visible.

"It's quite an industry," he explained. "We sell a lot of door knobs to Cuba. I guess they bury them in the ground for a while, then sell them for antiques. But our best sale is in New England. Tourists buy them right off the old houses as antiques. Then the house owner runs down in the cellar and puts on another knob to sell the next tourist hunting an antique door knob."

Stokowski Conducts in Garbo's Home Town; Critics Are a Bit Cool

STOCKHOLM, May 25.—(AP)—Leopold Stokowski, conducting in Movie Actress Greta Garbo's home town, received homage from a packed concert hall tonight, but Stockholm critics—reputed to be Europe's most rigid—were not so enthusiastic.

Main criticisms of the white-haired conductor, whose name has been linked romantically with that of Miss Garbo, were:

"Stokowski is no Toscanini." . . . "Good musician, but greater virtuoso." . . . "He succeeded best with Moussorgsky whereas his Brahms C minor symphony disappointed."

Avoid the Iron Hand When You Train a Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I forbid you to read such trash!"

"No, you cannot have any more money this week to go to the movies. Can't you find anything else to do?"

"O, turn off that radio! I'm so tired of hearing that kind of program! Can't you ever listen to anything but swing and murder mysteries?"

"You just stay home tonight. Your father says you may not go out with that crowd any more; they're not fit companions for you."

Driven to it, those parents felt—I mean the four who spoke like this to their children last night. They were each right in wanting their children's pleasure to be of a different sort, but I doubt if they'll get anywhere in protesting in that exasperating way. They will have to approach their boys and girls differently to get the result they want. But before making suggestions for that approach I do want to stop and say one or two things.

One is this, that because I'm going to suggest a seemingly roundabout way, I'm not implying you should never be direct with your children. There are times that call for forthrightness.

But, there are two approaches in dealing with the undesirable behavior of children—from little childhood up. One is the indirect approach, where you fill his hands and his life as much as possible with desirable activities and thoughts to shut out the undesirable.

The other is the direct approach—where, for example, you must say quickly and firmly, "No! No!" to the baby who reaches toward the hot teapot; or where, as another instance, you must be decisive as to party hours, or driving speed for your teen age son or daughter.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

The theory and aim of the World Bridge Olympic, held this year on April 27, is to present the rarer types of plays. There is no emphasis on coups or other advanced maneuvers that may occur only once or twice in a lifetime. The object is to familiarize players with certain groups or families of hands. One of the most interesting, as well as most instructive, was hand No. 11, as follows:

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q 10 6 4 3
♥ None
♦ A 7 6 5
♣ K 9 8 7

WEST
♥ K Q J 10 2
♦ Q 8 3
♣ Q 10 2

EAST
♠ 2
♥ 9 8 7 6 5 4
♦ 10 9 4

SOUTH
♠ A 9 8 7 5
♥ A 3
♦ K J 2
♣ A J 6

The bidding recommended by the committee was:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 hearts	3 spades	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	5 diamonds	Pass
5 spades	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

Admittedly, other sequences of bidding might be equally acceptable and, as a matter of fact, if the contestants reached the proper six spade contract, there was no demerit for the intermediate bidding. Some masters, for example, suggested that South might cue bid the hearts [bid five hearts] over five diamonds instead of five spades. Considering that South already had made one slam try in his four no trump bid, however, I strongly feel that a cue bid would have been overly aggressive, especially since South's trump suit needed considerable solidifying by North.

West's natural opening is the heart king and right here, at the very first trick, declarer must make a shrewd choice of plays. Analysis reveals that there is no advantage to be gained from discarding either a diamond or a club from the dummy and, indeed, either discard might seriously jeopardize the success of the contract. There is a possible finesse in both suits and, if declarer decides upon one of them and is successful, and if the suit breaks 3-3, he will not have to try the finesse in the other suit. But with absolutely nothing to go by, which suit in dummy is declarer to shorten, that is, in which suit should he attempt the finesse? Obviously, he cannot tell, and his better plan by far is to avoid guessing and put the onus on the defenders. To that end the opening lead should be ruffed in dummy and the four card lengths in diamonds and clubs preserved. Next, a low spade should be led to the ace and, when both opponents follow, but the king fails to drop, declarer should stick to his original premise that there is nothing to be gained from shortening either diamonds or clubs in dummy and, to preserve both suit lengths, should deliberately ruff away his ace of hearts before throwing West on lead with the spade king.

Now, it will be observed, if West exits with a diamond or a club declarer gets an automatic finesse and, by finding a 3-3 break in the same suit, avoids a finesse in the other suit. West's best defense is to continue with hearts, giving declarer the opportunity to ruff in one hand and discard in the other. As a countermeasure declarer should ruff in the dummy while discarding either a club or a diamond. If he chooses the latter discard he then leads a low diamond to the king and returns the jack to the ace, then ruffs the third round of the suit. As it happens, there is a 3-3 break and dummy's fourth diamond becomes established for the discard of the club six. If the suit declarer chooses to establish fails to break 3-3 he always can attempt the finesse in the other suit.

SILVERETTE WINS LINCOLN FIELDS' OPENING FEATURE

THE GUMPS—THIS GUY MEANS BUSINESS

LIGHTSPUR IS 2D IN PHOTO FINISH BEFORE 10,000

Favorite's Bid Fails in Stretch.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Ten thousand horse racing fans gathered yesterday at Lincoln Fields to see Chicago's turf season open under sunny skies. They watched Garrett Watts' Kentucky mare, Silverette, win the $2,500 Crete handicap by a nose in a photo finish, just lasting to lead John Marsch's Lightspur under the wire.

There were other tight finishes which gave the crowd plenty of thrills in the course of the afternoon. There were enough victories by well backed choices to send the spectators home happy, but not enough of those victories to freeze out the long shot players, who managed to put over a $42 horse before the day was very far along.

Lightspur Just Misses.

Nearly every one in the stands was holding his breath as Charley Kurtsinger drove Lightspur hard from the eighth pole home, cutting down Silverette's advantage inch by inch, for the Marsch entry was the favorite and Silverette was also stoutly backed. But Lightspur didn't quite make it for George Wallace rallied Silverette and kept her running just long enough to win.

The Calumet farm's Easy Mon was third, four lengths farther back. Silverette returned her backers $10.80, $5, and $4, after running the six furlongs in 1:12 over a fast track.

In scoring her victory, this 9 year old mare set out to run like a youngster, going to the front soon after the start and opening up a lead of a length and a half at the half mile. She was challenged on the turn by Lightspur, Easy Mon, and Olney, but she continued to outrun them. In the stretch her impost of 118 pounds began to tell, but she hung on with determination despite Lightspur's closing rush.

Causey Has a Big Day.

Trainer Bill Causey showed that he had Leo Beyda's horses in excellent form by sending four to the post to earn one first place and three seconds. Sure Swift won the fifth race for this Chicago stable and Red Moss, Delta Dan, and Imperial Jean were second in the first, fourth, and eighth races, respectively.

Trainer Roscoe Goose had the John Marsch horses ready to run. They took a first and two seconds in the three races in which they competed. Miss Baker, carrying Mrs. Marsch's colors, won the third. In addition to Lightspur's second place in the Crete handicap, Royal Blue earned a second place in the second race.

Beau Insco Triumphs.

The powerful Woolford Farm stable sent out Beau Insco to win the first race of the season, a six furlong dash. Jockey Warren Yarberry bringing him up fast in the stretch after he had been badly outrun during the early stages. His margin of victory was three-quarters of a length over Red Moss, with Majority Vote another three-quarters back in third place.

Majority Vote, breaking on the rail, went out to set the pace and was three lengths in the lead at the half mile. Red Moss was the only one near him at this point. The stretch run was a battle between these two until Beau Insco came charging up in the last sixteenth to take the lead away from both.

He Has Fast Company.

The winner was fairly well regarded in the mutuels, paying $9.20, $4.20 and $2.80. He ran the six furlongs in 1:14.1.

Beau Insco, trained by Ben Jones, is a stablemate of Lawrin, winner of last year's Kentucky Derby, and also of Technician, which was highly regarded at one stage of the speculation on this season's Derby. All three are by the same sire, Insco, which died several months ago.

Prairie Dog, a member of the Emil Denemark stable that has been training at the Hawthorne track since early April, showed that he had learned his lessons well by winning the second race on the program.

Long Shot Comes Through.

The first long shot of the season was put over in the fourth race when Little Tramp, owned by the Jacobson and Hough stable, got home at 20 to 1 odds.

Little Tramp, which hadn't started since the Oaklawn meeting at Hot Springs, escaped the notice of most of the betters largely because he hadn't been running in sprints during the winter season and had finished sixth the last time he had undertaken that sort of an assignment away back in December.

He showed plenty of early speed in yesterday's 6 furlong sprint, however, never being far from the pacemaker, during the run down the back stretch and around the turn. He went to the front vigorously in the stretch and held Delta Dan safe in the run to the wire, winning by nearly two lengths. He paid off at $42.60, $11.60, and $5.40.

BAER SAYS HE HAS REFORMED, BUT OLD FIRE IS GONE

It's an Effort Now to Trade Punches.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ferndale, N. Y., May 25.—On this warm, sunshiny day, easily the best the Catskills have produced this week, Max Baer called a halt in his ring drills before opening his final sessions preparatory to his battle Thursday evening with Lou Nova.

Max went on the road this morning, however, with Trainer Issy Kline following in an automobile. There was a time when Issy ran stride for stride with Baer, that being one way to encourage Max in a task he hated. But after Max gave Issy a sun lamp treatment last week and neglected to time it, Issy has had sufficient excuse to avoid such strenuous exertion as running five miles before breakfast.

Professes Love for Training.

Baer insists he no longer dislikes getting up early. He also professes sincere love for his training chores, and with characteristic candor he indulges in self-condemnation for wasted hours. He says he has settled down.

"Life seems a lot different to me since my father and mother died," Max confessed this morning as he loafed in front of his cottage. "And the little champ [Baer's 17 month old son] has meant a lot. You know," Max continued, "one reason why I want a chance to get back the championship is so he will be proud of his dad. I don't need the money. My annuities will soon start paying me a $1,000 a month, and I've already arranged for educational policies for Max Jr.

"I've done a lot of things I wish I hadn't, but I'm lucky that I woke up soon enough to have one more opportunity to make good."

It's a Slim Chance.

Baer doesn't realize, of course, how slim his chance is to regain the heavyweight title. He couldn't whip the man who now holds it four years ago, and it may be he'll not have the opportunity to meet Joe Louis. He must whip Nova first.

What has impressed us most about Baer in his boxing is the effort required to do the things he once did easily. He is in splendid physical condition, far better than he should expect to be for a man who had flouted training rules for many years. But his reactions definitly are slower. He seemingly cannot avoid punches he once blocked or slipped. He is far easier to hit than he was during his training for Louis.

Baer also lacks fire. When he trades punches he rouses himself with an effort obvious to any spectator. And he has boxed backing away continually, using a left jab more than the rousing right hand that felled Primo Carnera and Max Schmeling. There is no resemblance today to the youngster who stood toe to toe with Ernie Schaff in Chicago stadium in the memorable tenth round rally which ended with Ernie on the floor.

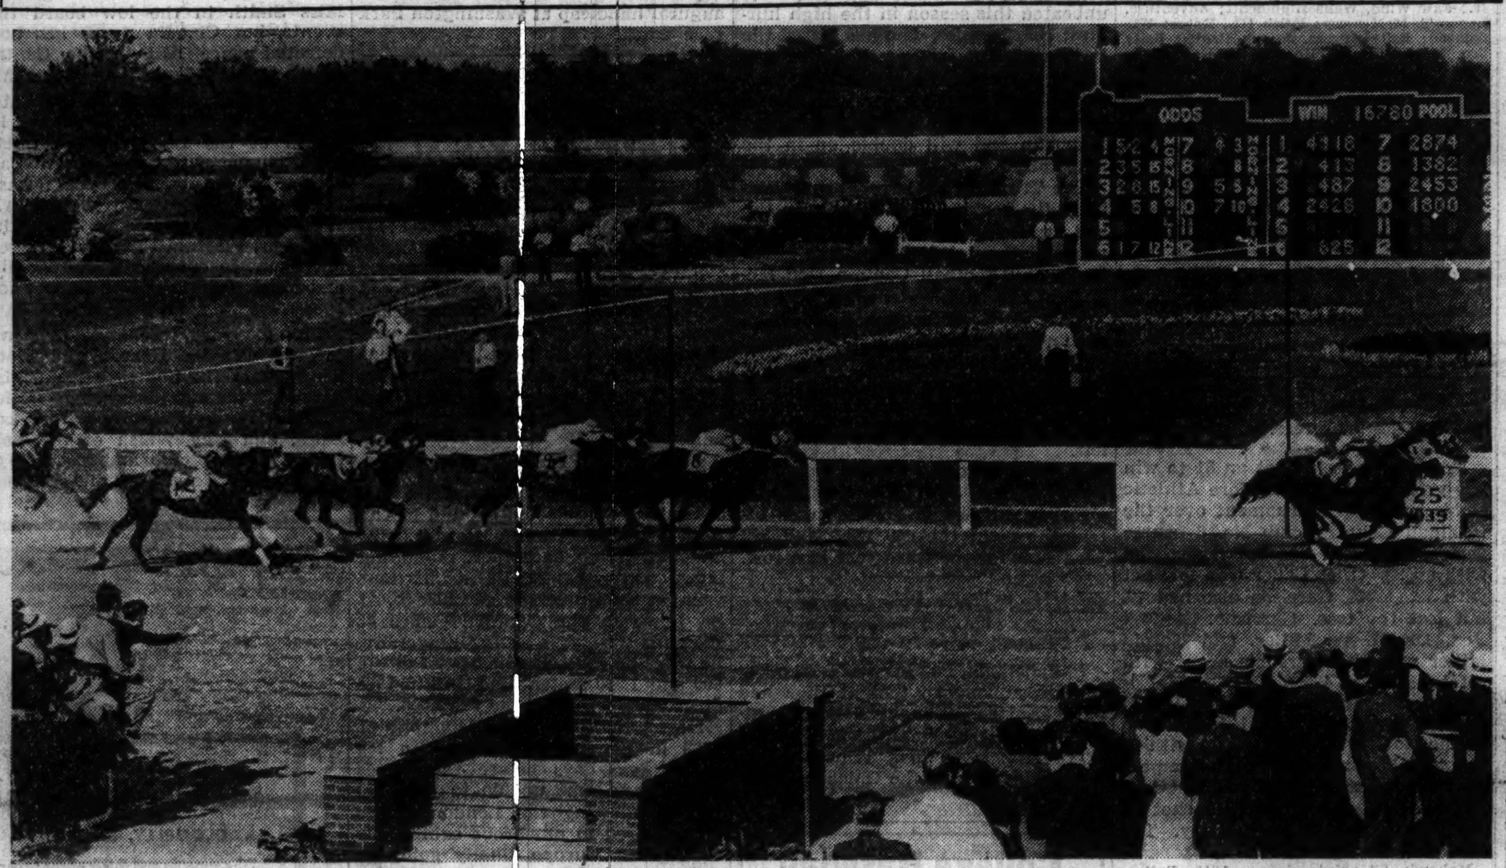
If Baer thinks he can outbox Nova for 15 rounds, he's headed for trouble. Nova, it is reported, isn't a puncher, but Baer certainly isn't a boxer.

Appears on Radio Program.

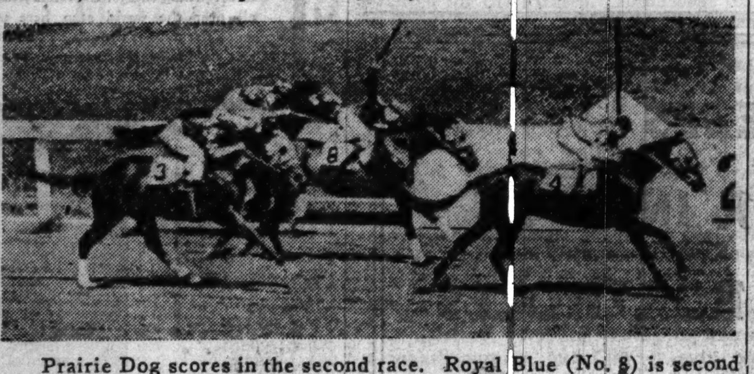
Ancil Hoffman, Max's manager, approved of today's layoff, and the jaunt to New York this evening to appear on a radio program. Hoffman thinks the break in the monotony of camp life will be splendid for Max. Baer will be back in his cottage, the one built for Barney Ross several years ago when he was training at Grossingers Country club, by 11 o'clock.

Ross and his wife are expected to arrive tomorrow for the Memorial day week-end. Eddie Cantor registered last night in the vanguard of more than 800 week-end guests. Baer, however, seldom visits the hotel or other cottages. His two meals each day, breakfast at 9:30 and dinner at 5:30, are prepared by his own chef.

And Another Chicago Racing Season Is On



Silverette, 9 year old mare, wins the Crete handicap, feature event of yesterday's opening day race card at Lincoln Fields. Lightspur, the favorite, is second in a photo finish, Easy Mon is third, and The Fighter is fourth. Ten thousand saw the races run under perfect weather and track conditions. [TRIBUNE Photos.]



Prairie Dog scores in the second race. Royal Blue (No. 8) is second by a length and a half, and Commission takes third.

Mays, Andres, Thorne Join 500 Mile Field

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—(AP)—Rex Mays fo Glendale, Cal.; Emil Andres of Chicago, and Joel Thorne of New Rochelle, N. Y., increased to twenty-one today the field of certain starters for the 500 mile automobile race here Memorial day.

The thrill of the day came when Floyd Davis of Springfield, Ill., went into a spin on the southeast curve while traveling 121 miles an hour on a qualifying run. He brought his speedster to a halt on the gravel apron and was not hurt. Later he made another qualifying attempt, going three laps at 117 miles an hour before stopping because of a lack of sufficient speed.

Mays was the fastest today. He averaged 126.413 for his ten mile test. Thorne, who has four cars entered, turned his four laps around the two and one-half mile oval at 122.117. Andres, driving a car entered by Jimmy Snyder of Chicago, qualified at 121.212.

The trials, to be resumed at 1 p. m. tomorrow, will be held again Saturday and Sunday.

Tonight members of the 100 Mile an Hour club held their annual meeting. The organization is composed of drivers who have gone 500 miles of an Indianapolis race at an average of at least 100 miles an hour.

Twenty-four drivers have accomplished the feat, but only eighteen are alive. Those who have died are Bob Carey, Stubby Stubblefield, Ray Pixley, Doc McKenzie, Chet Gardner, and Bill Cummings.

BOB CASSELS WINS BIG TEN MEDAL AS MAROON STAR

Bob Cassels, Big Ten pole vault record holder and captain of the University of Chicago track team, has been awarded the university's conference medal, T. N. Metcalf, director of athletics announced yesterday.

Cassels was captain of the Chicago basketball and track teams this year. He has won six major C's, three in each sport. He has scored in the Big Ten track meet for three successive years. A good student, Cassels earned his way through the university.

Song from Childhood.

I have heard the finest music
Played in concerts here and there;
I am thrilled beyond all measure
When the maestro's on the air.

I have gone to opera often
And the symphony as well;
And the bands of every nation
Have enthralled me with their spell.

But sometimes there comes an echo,
One that stirs a memory
Of a ballad long forgotten
That my mother sang to me.

And of all the deathless measures,
So delightful to recall,
That simple song from childhood
Seems to move me most of all.

ARMSTRONG WINS 15 ROUND VERDICT OVER RODERICK

British Foe on Verge of K. O. Four Times.

LONDON, May 25.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong blasted the British welterweight champion, Ernie Roderick, into helpless and bloody submission in fifteen rounds in Harringay arena tonight.

The little colored boxer from Los Angeles, fighting before a crowd of only 7,000, took no chances with his world welterweight crown. He took the aggressive in the second round and for the next fourteen rounds batted Roderick, 10¾ pounds heavier, all around the ring. Armstrong weighed 135 and Roderick 145¾ pounds.

There were no knockdowns, but Armstrong did everything else. He opened a cut under Roderick's left eye and raised a mouse the size of a walnut over Roderick's right eye. Four times—in the sixth, ninth, eleventh, and fifteenth—Roderick seemed on the verge of a knockout.

Courage Saves Roderick.

Each time the Briton's courage saved him. Especially open to Armstrong's whistling right hook, he would take it, shake his head, and stand open to take three or four more.

Armstrong, uncut on the face, but bleeding a little from an old wound inside his mouth, said after the fight: "He was a fine, game boy. I'm sorry I couldn't put up a better fight, but both my hands are sore and bruised."

The crowd, disappointing in size, didn't know what to make of Armstrong. In the first round Roderick stood him off, jabbing in the traditional style of British fighters. But in the second Armstrong, bobbing, weaving, and punching in the manner that made him first the featherweight, then the lightweight and finally the welterweight title holder, bored his way in.

Briton Has No Defense.

Roderick had no defense. Armstrong would come swarming in, shooting his left to Roderick's chin and pounding his right to the body. By the time the fifteen rounds were over and Roderick was breathless and blood-stained, there was a patch of red over his kidneys the size of a pie plate.

For about two minutes of the eleventh round Roderick came on. He started to lift left uppercuts to Armstrong's body and head and just for a moment the colored fighter was stopped.

Promptly he switched and started to stay away, sending long lefts and rights to Roderick's head. They connected, Roderick pulled up his hands and started to jab back, and the fight was lost.

Armstrong Goes for Body.

Spitting and snorting, Armstrong closed in and went at the body. Down came Roderick's hands again, up went Armstrong's hooks, and Roderick dragged his leaden legs through the last two rounds with Henry slamming him around the ring.

Even to the most rigid Briton there was no doubt as to the better man.

Chalky Wright of California, Armstrong's stablemate, beat George Daly on points in a match which followed the main bout.

LEIBER STRIKES OUT WITH TYING RUN ON SECOND

Philadelphia Pounds Vance Page.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Phillies ended their seven game losing streak yesterday by whipping the Cubs in Wrigley field, 8 to 7, though they didn't get away with it until Coach Sylvester Johnson struck out Hank Leiber with three runs home in the ninth, the tying run on second, two out, and the count three and two on the champs' clean-up hitter.

It was the third victory in four games this year for the Phillies, who beat the Cubs only four times in twenty-two games last year. In Philadelphia on May 2 Johnson beat the Cubs on a diet of four hits and Hugh Mulcahy spanked them the next day on a lean fare of five hits. Syl and Mulcahy combined their superlative talents yesterday.

Mulcahy yielded three runs on three hits and three walks in the first inning and one run on a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly in the third. From the third to the ninth there wasn't a Cub hit.

Base Runners Scarce.

Leiber was hit by a pitched ball with one out in the fifth and promptly was snuffed out in a double play. Gus Mancuso walked with two out in the sixth. Hank and Gus were the only Cub base runners from the third to the ninth.

Steve Mesner opened the ninth with the sixth hit off Mulcahy and the bases were loaded on walks to Mancuso and Pinch Batter Jim Gleeson. When Stan Hack banged a single to center to drive in a run, Coach Johnson took over and retired Herman, Augie Galan, and Leiber, two more runs scoring in the process.

The Cubs made seven hits all told, tying their record against Claude Passeau in Wednesday's game and bringing their grand total in four games against the Phillies to a rousing 23, for an average of almost six hits a game.

The Phillies made fifteen hits, including thirteen clicked off Vance Page before Manager Hartnett discovered in the seventh that his starting pitcher wasn't especially effective. Jack Russell replaced Page with none out in the seventh. He yielded a single in the eighth and a double in the ninth.

Yesterday's jolt put the Cubs four and a half games back of the Cardinals and Reds. The Cardinals, who have won seven straight from the wabbly eastern teams that have been socking the Cubs, and the Reds, who have won ten straight from the same sick easterners, will open a series against each other today. The Cubs have a chance to gain if they can keep on beating the Pirates, the only team in the league over which they definitly have shown superiority.

Phillies Score at Start.

The Phillies gained a one run lead in the first half of the first, but were trailing, 3 to 1, before the inning was over. With one out Martin scratched a single off G. Russell's glove and went to third on Scott's single to right. Scott stole second, and when Mancuso threw the ball into center field Martin scored and Scott reached third. Arnovich then fanned and Hack threw out Brack.

Mulcahy had a combination of two base hit trouble and wildness in the Cub first. With one down Herman

AMERICANS WIN FOUR MATCHES IN BRITISH AMATEUR

Chapman, Holt Continue Golf Triumphs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HOYLAKE, England, May 25.—America's two survivors—Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., and William Holt of Syracuse, N. Y.—reached the quarter-final round of the British amateur golf tournament today. Chapman, who defeated Charles Yates of Atlanta, Ga., defending champion, yesterday, and Holt each scored two brilliant victories.

Play Extra Holes.

Chapman was forced to the 19th green before he defeated A. S. G. Thompson of England, 1 up, in his first match. Then he returned to eliminate Gordon Peters of Scotland by rallying on the last four holes. Chapman, who trailed for 15 holes, triumphed, 2 up.

Holt also found difficulty against his two opponents. His first victim was Jack Jones of England, 1 up, and then he won from Nugent Head, also of England, 1 up. In the quarter-final round tomorrow Holt will meet Ken Thom of England. Chapman's opponent will be A. A. Duncan, Welsh champion.

Thom eliminated L. C. Nunneley of England, 3 and 1, while Duncan triumphed over Charles Timmis, England, 1 up. Alex Kyle, Sam Roberts, and Charles Stowe of England and Jim Bruen of Ireland were victors in other fifth round matches.

Kyle Beats Hiley.

Kyle beat Tom Hiley, England, 2 and 1; Roberts beat Matt White, England, 1 up; Stowe beat Stanley Lunt, England, 4 and 3, and Bruen triumphed over John Graham, England, 5 and 4. Bruen will oppose Kyle tomorrow and Roberts will play Stowe.

City League Nines Begin Playoff Today

Quarter final games for the eight sectional representatives in the Chicago Public High School Baseball league playoffs were arranged yesterday.

The schedule calls for the two north section teams to meet the central section pair, and the south zone representatives to face the west section nines.

The four games will be played this afternoon. Lindblom, defending champion and runnerup in the central section, meets Lane Tech, north division title holder at Paul Revere park. Amundsen of the north furnishes the opposition for Harrison of the central at Douglas park.

In the other two games, Crane, west section winner, meets Morgan park, south side runnerup, in Mills stadium, and Steinmetz of the west faces Parker on a field which will be picked this morning.

Morton defeated Waukegan, 4 to 0, yesterday and clinched the Suburban league title for the second consecutive year. It was the tenth victory in eleven games for the Cicero squad. Ed Goralski the winning hurler, held Waukegan to three hits in chalking up his fifth triumph of the year.

Morton will conclude its season tomorrow traveling to Champaign, Ill., to play an afternoon game. Ken Polivka the other star of the champions, will work on the mound. Scores:

Duffers Get a Break Today in Class Tourney

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The gents who seldom shoot in the 70's, and consider it an event when they get down in the low 80's, will have a chance to match shots today in the second annual class championship tournament of the Chicago District Golf association at the Edgewood Valley Country club.

Yes, the lads in the Class A league, with handicaps ranging from one to twelve strokes, will be in the party also, but so will the often overlooked swingers from classes B, C, and D, whose handicap ratings embrace the span from thirteen to thirty-six strokes.

This event is being carried over from last season. It is open to winners and runners-up of class titles at all C. D. G. A. member clubs for the 1938 season. The entry fee is $2. Play begins at any time after 9 a. m. The winner in each class will receive a medal, while runners-up will be presented with merchandise.

The relationship of swing in golf and dancing will be tested Monday at the Oak Park Country club, when Eddy Duchin and his band will make their only private appearance of the year to help the west side club celebrate its 25th anniversary. Professionals Ren Smith and E. J. [Dutch] Harrison have had several discussions with members on the relative merits of the golf swing accompanied by modern dance music, and they hope to reach a solution Monday. Duchin will not only direct the band and do his stuff at the piano, but also will play golf.

The thirty-third annual tournament of the Lumbermen's Golf association, oldest trade event in the game, will be held June 22 at the Calumet Country club. J. L. Strong, 30 North La Salle street, is secretary.

Glen Oak Country club will celebrate its thirty-first anniversary tomorrow night with a dance at the club. The occasion also will mark the beginning of construction work on the new swimming pool, which is expected to be ready by July. The club will open its golf season on Tuesday.

The Illinois Seniors' Golf association has scheduled its sixteenth annual spring tournament for the Rockford Country club on June 14. The event will be conducted in five classes this year, the association's board of governors having approved a "junior" class for members from 50 to 54 years inclusive. Class A is for swingers of 70 years and over.

Art Doering, Chicago golfer who led all amateurs in the 1938 national open in Denver, recently won the Santa Clara County title at the San José, Cal., Country club. Art, star of the Stanford university team, also set a new university course record of 65 from the back tees.

Fred Kackentete shot an 81 to win low gross in the Lake Shore Athletic club's handicap tournament over the Medinah Country club No. 3 course yesterday. A. F. Jacobs was second with an 83. O. E. Lauer won low net with 72. L. K. Garrison also had 72, but lost the toss. Garrison, Stewart Fox, Dr. H. W. Miller, and Harold Miller won the foursome event with a total score of 435.

Mohawk Country club took the lead in the Northwest Golf league with 23 points following yesterday's competition over the Mohawk course. C. J. Bansback of the home club shot 76 for the best score of the day. The league standing follows:

Mohawk, 23 points; Itasca, 19½; Rolling Green, 17½; Tam o' Shanter, 17½; Nordic, 12½.

Ken Fischer won low gross for members in the first golf outing of the season of the Junior Traffic club of Chicago at Navajo Fields Country club yesterday. Fischer shot 74. George Griffin was second with 79. The low gross for guests went to William Bleha, who shot 81. J. H. Norwood was second with 84.

Expect U. S. C. to Win Ninth I. C. 4-A Title

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Twenty Trojans will move into Randall's Island tomorrow as odds-on favorites to take their ninth I. C. 4-A track and field championship in fifteen years.

The Trojans, representing the University of Southern California, will compete in thirteen of the sixteen events. In eight of those contests the westerners have turned in the season's best performances. In at least one, the javelin throw, they are a good bet to place one-two-three.

Likeliest winners for Southern California appear to be Jim Humphrey, unbeaten this season in the high hurdles; Bob Peoples, who has tossed the javelin 27 feet farther than the best eastern contender, and Lou Zamperini, the 1936 Olympian who is likely to make a hollow show of the one mile run and will double up in the mile relay.

The Trojans also have Barney Willis in the sprints, Earl Vickery in the low hurdles, Loring Day in the pole vault, Johnny Wilson in the high jump, and Football Captain Don McNeil in the shot.

With U. S. C. such a distinct favorite and California a likely threat for second place, the east and the midwest, represented by Michigan State, will have to concentrate on taking what few individual honors are left.

At least two of these have been reserved for John Woodruff. The amazing Pittsburgh senior will attempt to win the 440 yard and 880 yard runs for the third year in a row.

HARVARD ELECTS LIGHTBODY'S SON TRACK CAPTAIN

Cambridge, Mass., May 25.—(AP)—James D. Lightbody Jr. of Glencoe, Ill., 21 year old son of the 1904-'06 Olympic champion, today was elected captain of next year's varsity track team. During his two season of varsity competition young Lightbody has anchored eight winning mile relay teams and has been defeated in but one of his eight starts as a quarter-miler.

FATHER A FAMOUS ATHLETE.

James D. Lightbody Sr., whose son, James Jr., was elected captain of the Harvard track team yesterday, was an outstanding half-miler, miler and cross country runner during his four years at the University of Chicago. At St. Louis in the Olympic games of 1904, his first year at the university, he won the coveted gold medal in the 800 and 1,500 meter runs, and in 1906 at Athens he repeated in the 1,500.

He was entered in the Olympics of 1908 in London but suffered a leg injury two days before the games started and was unable to give his best. Following the London games he appeared in numerous exhibitions throughout Europe, finally going to Berlin, where he organized the first German student athletic meet.

The Lightbody home is at 450 Drexel avenue, Glencoe.

Girls Compete for Swim Titles in Two Events

A score of feminine aquatic stars will compete tonight in the Lake Shore Athletic club for the Central A. A. U. senior women's 100 yard free style title and the high board diving championship. The program also will include a water ballet exhibition by twenty girls of the Lake Shore Terrapin club team and a special diving exhibition.

Claudia Eckert of the Shawnee Country club and Arlite Smith of the Medinah club will resume the diving duel they have waged in earlier meets this year. The Shawnee star lost by fractional margins to Miss Smith in the low board title events, but Claudia never has been defeated since 1931 in the Central A. A. U. high board championship.

Other challengers for the 1939 high board title will include Beatrice Petersen of the Lake Shore Athletic club, winner of the junior high board crown last winter, Barbara Ramser of the Shawnee Country club, who captured the junior low board title this year, Virginia Fitzgerald, 10 year old Shawnee contender, and Adeline and Marion Price of the Lake Shore squad.

The 100 yard free style field will include Claudia Eckert and Betty Bowman of the Shawnee team, Margaret Johnston, Jeannette Colley, Frankie Rose, Billie Nicholson, Lois Zahn, and Kay Walsh of the Lake Shore Athletic club and Betty Wyle and Muriel Berndt of the Medinah club.

DOG EXHIBITORS AWAIT RECORD OUTDOOR SHOW

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Preparations are going forward at Giralda farms, country estate of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hartley Dodge near Madison, N. J., for the annual Morris and Essex dog show Saturday with an entry list which already has broken all records. The total today had passed 4,400 with indications that the final figure will be approximately 4,500.

Last year the Morris and Essex had an entry of 4,213 but the world record still is held by Cruft's Golden Jubilee in England, which had 4,388.

Never before have so many owners, fanciers and officials traveled from great distances to attend a dog show. In addition to the specialists from Great Britain and continental Europe large delegations are coming from Canada and the western coast of the United States.

Exhibitors will compete for $20,000 in prizes, $15,000 of which will be in cash awards.

Thirty-two breed organizations will consider the classes as their specialty exhibitions and offer cash and tro-prizes.

Best in show will be awarded by William H. Pym of Vancouver, B. C., and the winner will receive the P. A. Rockefeller trophy, which must be won twice by the same exhibitor for permanent possession.

FELLER'S 1 HIT PITCHING BEATS BOSTON, 11-0

Keltner Leads Indians with 3 Homers.

Boston, Mass., May 25.—(AP)—Cleveland's Bob Feller turned in a one hit, 11 to 0 pitching triumph over the Boston Red Sox today. Only Bobby Doerr's clean single to right field in the second inning kept the youthful strikeout king from the no-hit hall of fame.

Ken Keltner, on consecutive trips to the plate, hit three home runs and Hal Trosky got another as the Indians clubbed Eldon Auker and Emerson Dickman for fifteen hits. All the homers were off Dickman.

The Iowa farm boy struck out ten batters. Although he walked five, all the passes came with two out. It gave Feller his seventh victory of the season and was the first time the 20 year old speedball artist ever beat the Red Sox in their own park.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—The New York Yankees made use of their specialty, one big inning, to beat the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 2, today, although held to four hits by Archie McKain and Schoolboy Rowe.

It was the seventh victory without defeat this season for big Red Ruffing, dean of the Yankee pitching corps, and his 200th in 15 years of American league service.

Phillies Halt Cubs' Ninth Inning Rally and Win, 8-7

doubled to right center, took third while Mulcahy was tossing out Galan, and scored on Leiber's double to left. Marty singled to center, scoring Leiber. Marty stole second, then walks to G. Russell and Mesner loaded the bases. A pass to Mancuso forced Marty across the plate. May threw out Page.

Russell Robs Scott.

The Phillies tied the score in the third and might have gone much farther but for a fine stop by G. Russell. Young opened with a single to center and stopped at third on Martin's double to right. Scott apparently had a double on the way to right when G. Russell knocked down the ball in time to toss to Page on first for the out. Young scored and Martin stopped at third on this robbery play. Mesner threw out Arnovich, but Brack smacked a single off Page's bare hand, Martin scoring.

Leiber beat out a tap in front of the plate to get the Cub third under way. Marty fanned, but G. Russell singled to right, Leiber taking third. Leiber put the Cubs ahead when he scored on Mesner's sacrifice fly to Scott. Mulcahy threw out Mancuso.

Phillies Tie Score.

May opened the Philly fourth with a double to left and advanced on Whitney's sacrifice. Davis reached first on Mesner's fumble, but Stevie smothered the ball sufficiently to hold May on third. The effort proved futile, however, for Mulcahy banged a single to left, scoring May with the tying run.

Here's the way the Phillies knocked out Page and took an 8 to 4 lead in the seventh: Scott opened with a single to right. Arnovich sacrificed and both runners were safe when G. Russell threw late to second. Brack bunted and was credited with a single when Page held the ball while trying to decide whether to throw to third or first. May singled off Page's shins for the thirteenth Philly hit, Scott and Arnovich scoring and Brack taking third. Page was led away and J. Russell took over. Whitney bunted and G. Russell threw to the plate too late to keep Brack from scoring. Davis flied to Leiber, May taking third. Mulcahy sacrificed, May scoring. Young grounded out to G. Russell.

Mesner Starts Rally.

Mesner singled at the start of the home ninth. Mancuso drew his his third pass and Bryant went to first to run for him. Gleeson, batting for J. Russell, also walked, loading the bases. Hack singled to center, scoring Mesner. Johnson replaced Mulcahy. Whitney fumbled Herman's bouncer but recovered in time to retire Capt. Bill at first, Bryant scoring. Galan sent a long sacrifice fly, Gleeson scoring and Hack holding second. Leiber ran the count to three balls and two strikes, with a sprinkling of eight fouls, then struck out to end the game.

Bill Lee will make his second try for his sixth victory of the season when he faces the Pirates in Wrigley field this afternoon. Jim Tobin will pitch for the Pirates. Tobin beat the Cubs on Aug. 22 last season, after which the Cubs won nine straight from the Pirates before Tobin beat them again on May 14. This season the Cubs have won five out of six from the Pittsburghers.

The Cubs finished up with a one game edge in their home stand against eastern teams. They took two out of three from the Boston Bees and split with Brooklyn, New York and Philadelphia.

Clay Bryant's ailing arm remains a mystery. No one seems to know what's wrong, but Clay is sure he is not able to pitch. He hopes to be able to go in about two weeks.

Glenn Russell, Cubs' sparkling rookie first baseman, has accepted 228 chances without an error since he succeeded Phil Cavarretta. He made several brilliant plays yesterday, though he seemed slightly befogged in handling sacrifices in the Phillies' victory inning.

Shortstop Dick Bartell, on the bench with injuries in the Boston and Philadelphia series, is scheduled to return to work today.

SOX FACE THOSE INDIANS TODAY; IT'S IMPORTANT

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—A few important days lie immediately ahead for the White Sox. Maybe they should be termed doubly important, because Dykes' boys, with their current inclination to get along on a minimum of runs, enjoy few breathing spells in the course of their daily chores.

The importance of the impending program is that it involves successive series with the two clubs the Sox figure eventually will be the most persistent about questioning the Chicagoans' tenancy of third place or even the fourth notch in the first division.

Battle Indians Today.

The first of this pair will be taken on in three games starting tomorrow in Cleveland, and the other—the Tigers—will be encountered Tuesday afternoon in a double-header in Comiskey park. The Detroit Tigers, by their present rating, are no more ferocious than lazy house cats.

By winning four of these five, and the Sox, even with their light hitting, don't consider such a result beyond reach, could dig themselves comfortably into third place, at the same time delaying Detroit's possible ascension into the first division. A little winning streak also might serve to cut down some of the ground now serving as a barrier between the Sox and the second place Boston Red Sox. As for the other teams the Sox have no worries, not even about the pacemaking Yankees. They've ceased to bother their heads about the champions, because they're now convinced nobody can catch up with 'em.

It's Dietrich Again.

Bill Dietrich will pitch tomorrow's opener against the Indians and there's a reason. When the Sox were in Cleveland for their previous series Bespectacled Bill oiled up the elbow reconstructed by the surgeons and handed the Indians a neat trimming. He was equally effective against the Red Sox in the recent series in Boston. For the two other games of the series Thornton Lee and Jack Knott may perform. This will leave Ted Lyons and John Rigney available for the Tigers on Memorial day.

ALLEN STOPS FOE IN FOURTH ROUND OF HIS PRO DEBUT

McGeever Rallies to Win from Motisi.

Altus Allen, Chicago Golden Gloves star, stopped John Brown of the south side in the final round of a scheduled four round bout in White City last night. It was Allen's first test as a professional. Each weighed 174 pounds.

Referee Joe McNamara, making his first appearance since the renewal of his license which had been revoked by Gov. Horner two years ago, stopped the match after 2 minutes 57 seconds of the round had elapsed after a series of blows opened a cut on Brown's forehead.

Allen Ahead on Points.

Allen was ahead on points when the referee interfered.

Earl Gibbs defeated Nick Castiglione of the Italo-American Youth organization in an eight round event. The setback was the second Castiglione has suffered at the hands of Gibbs. Gibbs scored a two count knockdown in the first round of their lightweight battle.

Irish Eddie McGeever, Scranton, Pa., 143 pound fighter, made amends for an unimpressive performance recently in his Chicago debut by conquering Tony Motisi of the Catholic Youth organization in a second fight of eight rounds. McGeever came from behind to score a decisive triumph.

A right to the chin sent McGeever spinning to the canvas for a nine count in the second. In the next round another right opened a cut on Eddie's left eye.

612 Pay to See Bouts.

In preliminary contests of four rounds Joey Richards beat Chief Bob Wilson; Joey Russano conquered Gene Ward, and Selman Martin whipped Mickey Hayes.

A crowd of 612 paid $462 to see the bouts.

An official opinion on the status of a ten round bout between Gunnar Barlund, heavyweight of Finland, and Tony Musto of Blue Island was given yesterday by John Owen, Illinois boxing commission secretary, who also is an attorney.

Michael Kutscher, also known as Billy Williams, is atempting to prevent Musto from going through with the contest, which is scheduled in Chicago Stadium June 8. Kutscher holds a managerial contract on Musto which the fighter claims is invalid.

"The fight has been sanctioned by the commission," Owen explained "We have no legal right to stop it. Anl I doubt it Kutscher has. However, it's a civil matter. We can't decide the legality of contracts between fighter and manager. As long as Musto is a licensee he can fight under whom he pleases and for whom he pleases."

Ken Overlin, middleweight contender from Decatur, and Eric Seelig of Germany yesterday agreed to fight in a ten round secondary feature. An opening match of ten rounds may involve Nate Bolden, Illinois' No. 1 160 pound challenger, and Milo Theodorescu of Rumania.

George Dion, Kankakee, Ill., middleweight, will try for his second victory in eight days in the fight show tonight in the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. His opponent in a five round bout will be Phil O'Neil of New Orleans. Harold Rodie is paired with Columbus Mitchell for the five round semi-windup. Tommy Mair will meet Alvin Bevil.

Davey Day yesterday returned from New York where he upset Pedro Montanez for his most important victory Tuesday. Managers Sam Pian and Art Winch were with him. Pian said Day's achievement had earned him another chance at Henry Armstrong, this time for the lightweight title.

DEMPSEY ASKS FOR REMOVAL OF FIGHT FILM BAN

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, today urged congress to repeal a 27 year old federal law which prohibits interstate shipment of prizefight films. Dempsey testified before a senate interstate commerce subcommittee which is considering a bill to lift the ban.

"Boxing is legal and recognized as a form of entertainment in practically every state in the Union, and I cannot see why it becomes a crime to transport fight pictures," Dempsey said. "Pictures were taken of all my big bouts and if they could have been freely transported and exhibited I would have made a couple of million dollars."

Other witnesses were Col. John Reed Fitzpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, and Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters.

You Can Enter Handling Class Without a Dog

BY BOB BECKER.

Boys and girls who wish to enter the handling classes in the Skokie Valley Kennel club dog show to be held in Dyche stadium June 17 do not need to own a dog to be eligible for the competition. Officials of the Skokie club point out that it's quite possible for some of the boys and girls to arrange with owners for the use of dogs which are entered in any of the regular classes of the show.

Pick Best Handlers.

There will be classes for girls from 8 to 12, boys 8 to 12, boys 12 to 16, and girls 12 to 16. When the four judges have picked the winners of these classes Mrs. Will Judy of Chicago will select the best girl handler and the best boy handler. These winners will receive Tribune cups.

Boys and girls who want to enjoy the fun of competing in these classes are reminded that under the rules of the American Kennel club only dogs entered in the show may be used in the handling classes. But there is no special entry fee in any of the classes.

One large ring will be set aside at the show for the obedience test classes which promise to break all Chicago records for entries. THE TRIBUNE also will award prizes for this event. Five Skokie plaques 8 by 12 inches in size go to the winners of Novice A, Novice B, Open A, Open B, and utility classes. In addition THE TRIBUNE offers a special sungold trophy to the high point dog in the open class.

Use New Theatre.

The officials of the club announce that they will have use of the new Dyche Stadium choral theatre for the dog show. This theatre, which seats 7,500 people under canvas, has a stage more than 100 feet wide and nearly as deep.

CHICAGOAN LEADS IN METROPOLITAN GOLF TOURNEY

White Plains, N. Y., May 25.—(AP)—Johnny Bulla of Chicago took the lead today in the Metropolitan open golf tournament's first round with a three under par 68. Mike Turnesa, Ben Hogan of White Plains, and Sammy Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had 69, which put them one stroke ahead of Rod Munday and Lloyd Mangrum.

A quartet of big names came in the next bracket at 71: Harry Cooper, Groton, Conn.; Denny Shute, former P. G. A. champion; Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., who has won the last two "Met" titles, and Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa.

TURF PUBLISHER TELLS OF RIVALS' DEATH THREATS

Flanagan Testifies in Race News Monopoly Suit.

John Flanagan, half owner of the Chicago Turf Bulletin, asserted yesterday that owners of a rival racing sheet had threatened to kill him and his brother, James, if they were unable to force the Flanagan brothers out of business by peaceable methods. He declared he had been warned his competitors might use a mysterious gangster syndicate, allegedly headed by a former Al Capone lieutenant, in their attempts to make the Flanagans close up shop.

Flanagan testified before Federal Master in Chancery Charles A. McDonald, who is hearing the complaint of the Turf Bulletin, that State Senator Daniel A. Serritella, Moses L. Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher, and others operate a monopoly in the racing news business which has become ruinous to the Flanagans. Serritella is owner of the Madison Publishing company which prints the National Scratch Sheet.

Roars His Story.

Flanagan occupied the witness stand most of the morning. Goaded by objections and questions from opposing attorneys, Flanagan angrily roared his story of the death threats. He said he was warned of them by Charles Thulis, a former employé who has since become general manager of Serritella's National Scratch Sheet.

"Thulis told me that Serritella and others had offered him a job with their new sheet," Flanagan said. "He said the sheet was going to be backed by Annenberg and that they were going to drive us out of business.

"When I asked him how they were going to do it, Thulis said they would get us 'through the syndicate,'" Flanagan related. "Thulis said they had told him that if they couldn't do it that way they'd have me and Jimmy killed."

Names Capone Henchmen.

Flanagan asserted that Frank Nitti, a Capone henchman, is head of the syndicate. Other members are Jack Guzik, Paul Ricca, and Louis [Little New York] Campagna, he declared. At an earlier hearing before Master McDonald, Thulis denied engaging in conversations such as Flanagan described.

The hearing will be resumed today.

Our Own Family's Whiskey Recipe

WE'RE OUTDOOR FOLK. I suppose us Wilkens have got certain set notions concerning sunshine and fresh air—and simple outdoor sports—and country fried chicken for supper and all. Somehow it all seems so clean and wholesome. And everything tastes better. And that goes for whiskey made in the country too!

WE LIKE NEIGHBORLY TRADING. Many's the time I've heard Pa say, "When you're trading with your neighbor, son—make sure he's as tickled with what he gets off of you as you're tickled with what you get off of him." And that's how it come about we set such a neighborly price on The Wilken Family Whiskey!

Oscar G. Mayer.

Oscar G. Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, yesterday presented a program designed to make Chicago a "better place in which to live and work." He outlined it at a meeting of more than 600 business men at the Stevens hotel. D. M. Nelson, executive vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and general chairman of the "Greater Chicago Campaign," presided.

Presentation of the plan marked completion of the first step in the "Greater Chicago Campaign," which is sponsored by the association of commerce. Suggestions as to the things that should be done were obtained from more than 5,000 persons taking part in 100 "business clinics" held during April and May. The second and final step will be the carrying out of the program. To do this Mayer asked the coöperation of every Chicagoan.

Mayer States Objectives.

Mayer gave as the objectives of the campaign: Stimulation and increase of business activity; improvement of living conditions; betterment of working conditions; maintenance of harmony between those who work and those who provide work; assurance that Chicago maintain its position among the cities; solution of the fundamental economic, social, and governmental problems that slow the city's stride.

To carry out the program he proposed the reorganization of the association of commerce into twelve divisions, each of which would concentrate on specific objectives. In doing this he said that the association did not wish to supplant existing agencies, but would seek their help and coöperation.

He suggested that the association's activities be divided into two fields: 1, direct service to the membership; 2, generalized efforts to promote business and civic welfare.

Some of Civic Problems.

Probably of most general interest would be the civic affairs division. This group would concern itself with attempted solutions of major Chicago problems, which include:

1. A constructive and long range attack upon the problem of obsolete or slum areas in coöperation with other organizations.
2. Street and highway development.
3. Reduction of auto accidents.
4. Noise abatement.
5. Law enforcement and crime reduction.
6. A drive to interest more adults in the association's cleanup campaign and broaden its scope.
7. All matters relating to public improvements.

Other Divisional Plans.

Other divisional activities in the general program include:

1. A construction industries council. This group would coöperate with other organizations in stimulating construction, which has lagged in Chicago.

2. An industrial department. Mayer said Chicago has fallen behind in the matter of selling its industrial advantages. It is proposed to present Chicago's advantages, which include good transportation, direct source of raw materials, a diversified labor market, good labor relations. It is proposed to work toward bringing more pay rolls to Chicago and keeping those already existing.

This department would emphasize the bringing of aviation companies to Chicago. It would point out that Chicago is the ideal spot for the development of the aviation industry. It would endeavor to make Chicago in the aviation industry what Detroit is in the automobile.

Would Bring Control to Chicago.

The industrial department would endeavor to show corporations operating on a national scale the advantage of centering management here.

8. An educational and cultural council. This division would seek to promote Chicago's great cultural interests such as its symphony orches-

Socony Oil's Sales Rise, but Earnings Drop

Despite an increase in gross business, earnings of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company for the first four months of 1939 declined about 35 per cent in comparison with the 1938 period, stockholders were informed yesterday.

J. A. Brown.

Although a number of other companies reported larger earnings, either in published statements or at annual meetings, several joined the big oil company in showing a less satisfactory trend.

At the Socony meeting, held in New York, J. A. Brown, president, asserted net income had declined because "the oil industry is not receiving prices for its finished products commensurate with crude oil costs and the costs of operation."

Expects Same Dividend.

He said, however, that the management hoped the pickup in gross business would soon lead to larger earnings. He added that it "seemed reasonable" the same dividend would be paid in the fall as was paid last year.

The National Power and Light company, controling a number of public utility companies, issued a report showing smaller net profit for the March quarter. The total, including the parent company's equity in net income of subsidiaries, was $2,320,653. This equaled 28 cents a share. Net profit was $2,800,860, or 36 cents a share, a year ago.

Central and South West Utilities company, a unit of the Middle West system, announced March quarter net income of $570,620, against $494,682 a year ago. North West Utilities company, in the same system, had March quarter net income of $136,098, compared with a net loss of $18,449 a year ago.

A sharp increase was shown in a report of the Glidden company, paint manufacturer, covering six months ended with April. Net income for the period was $366,147, against $120,570 a year earlier.

BANK CLEARINGS DIP, BUT RUN 12.5 PER CENT ABOVE YEAR EARLIER

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in 22 leading cities of the United States in the week ended May 24 again ran above a year ago, but fell below the preceding week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The total of $4,985,936,000 increased 12.5 per cent over 1938 but was $149,603,000 below the preceding week.

New York clearings totaled $3,014,024,000, or 13.6 per cent ahead of 1938, turnover at the other cities showed a gain of 10.9 per cent. Volume at Chicago was $295,100,000, or 9.3 above $270,000,000 in 1938.

BUYER OF STOCK CAN RECOVER ON FALSE REPORTS

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Lauer ruled today that a misleading registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange commission makes issuers of securities liable for depreciation in price of the stock between the time it is purchased by investors and the time when the investors bring suit to recover losses.

It was the first decision of its kind in New York state. It was in favor of Grant Thorn, Joseph P. Brinton, Thomas Hall, and M. McConnell, who bought 6,500 shares of the Austin Silver Mining company, a Nevada corporation, issuer of the stock.

The shares were purchased at an average price of $1.50 each, and the plaintiffs asserted the shares were selling at approximately 31¼ cents each at the time the suit was brought. The plaintiffs asked $9,851. What they will get, however, still remains to be calculated.

The defendants held liable include the company, several of its officials and underwriters of the stock.

COTTON SUBSIDY PLAN IS BAR TO BRITISH BUYING

Charlotte, N. C., May 25.—[Special.]—The possibility of a New Deal export subsidy plan for cotton has stymied buying of the staple by British mill interests. Col. William A. Grierson, textile manufacturer of Manchester, England, said to day. Addressing the Southern Combed Yarn Spinners' association, he said:

"We do not know whether to buy or not, with the possibility of the same cotton being available later for 2 or 3 cents a pound less. That would ruin us."

Col. Grierson also advocated release of part of the large supply of cotton now held under government loans. Other authorities have expressed the fear not enough cotton would be available for commercial uses because of the large amount pledged for loans.

April Exports Under March and Year Ago

Exports of United States products in April declined 14 per cent from the March level and 16 per cent from that of April, last year, the department of commerce disclosed yesterday. Imports were 2 per cent less than in March, but 16 per cent more than in April, 1938.

The decline in merchandise sold abroad was caused principally by a reduction in exports of cotton, tobacco, and other agricultural products. The grand total was $230,947,000, compared with $268,364,000 in March and $274,472,000 in April, 1938. Included in the total were agricultural exports valued at $37,636,00, representing declines of 31 per cent from March and 43 per cent from April, 1938.

Germany Rushes Goods.

Imports during April aggregated $186,195,000, compared with $190,416,000 in March and $159,827,000 in April, 1938. The department noted that incoming shipments were swelled by abnormal quantities of merchandise sent from Germany in an effort to beat the April 23 deadline, when the extra 25 per cent countervailing duty was imposed by the treasury on German goods to offset the alleged subsidy effects of Germany's restrictive currency system.

Germany sent to the United States goods valued at nearly $19,000,000, which was more than double the amount for either March or a year ago.

Some Other Imports Increase.

Aside from Germany, other countries shipped larger quantities of raw silk, newsprint and cattle. The cattle increase was attributed to the opening on April 1 of a new quarterly quota for which cattle were held back in previous months.

For the first four months of the year exports totaled $930,090,000, compared with $1,100,786,000. Imports were placed at $712,958,000, against $666,837,000 a year ago.

HOPKINS PLANS STUDY TO BOOST IMPORT TRADE

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins said tonight he planned to assign a group of specialists to "explore intensively the possibility of increasing our import trade."

In a speech prepared for a world trade dinner the secretary declared this country's billion dollar export balance of last year—the surplus in dollar value of goods sent out over goods brought in—"did not represent a wholesome situation."

Saying that an export balance such as last year's was "no matter for self congratulation," Hopkins remarked that "unless we buy from other countries their purchasing power for American products cannot be indefinitly sustained and will probably shrink again."

LONG AWAITED TAX 'REVISION' PROGRAM READY

Offers Only a Few Technical Changes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—After prolonged fencing with the issue the administration and congressional leaders are about to launch their widely heralded program of tax "revision." It consists of a few technical changes in the tax laws which will "definitly" contribute to recovery, in the optimistic opinion of Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.

He said this today in announcing that he and the finance leaders in congress had agreed upon the tax program. There never had been much doubt about his agreeing with the program emanating from congress through Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee. Morgenthau could hardly have opposed Harrison's program because Harrison got it from the treasury, where it was worked out by Undersecretary John W. Hanes, under Morgenthau's direction.

Roosevelt "Submits."

What the secretary meant today was that President Roosevelt had finally been brought around reluctantly to submission to the modest revision. There were indications that Mr. Roosevelt held out long in order to magnify the value of his assent, keeping in mind that it may pave the way for favorable action on a new spending program and early adjournment of congress.

The President's "submission" became known yesterday after what was apparently the last of the White House tax conferences for this session. Morgenthau said that he did not expect any further conferences.

"Does that mean that you are ready to go with taxes?" he was asked at his press conference.

"Yes," was the simple although long awaited reply.

"Does the setup agreed to yesterday contribute to recovery?"

"The answer is definitly 'yes.'"

Progress Made Recently.

He said that more progress toward a solution of tax problems was made within the last few days than had been made in several months. The reason?

"That there is good will all around," he explained.

This tax problem had its trying moments. At one conference in the White House Morgenthau came near breaking with the President when Mr. Roosevelt derided the secretary's defense of the Hanes revision program.

As the program now stands it is expected to call for repeal of the remaining vestige of the once bitterly hated undistributed profits tax. The sting was taken out of the tax at the last session when it was slashed to 2½ per cent on undivided earnings. The tax produces about 20 million dollars annually.

A flat corporate income tax of 18 per cent would be substituted on corporations earning more than $25,000 annually. The graduated tax is now 16½ to 19 per cent, depending upon the distribution of profits.

Other Revisions Planned.

Other revisions would call for carry over of losses for three years instead of one in tax returns, and permission for corporations to revalue their stock this year instead of waiting until 1941.

As far as it is now known there will be no change in personal income tax rates.

The house ways and means committee is expected to begin hearings on the tax program next week. Morgenthau said that he would appear before the committee first, and then Hanes would take charge of the presentation.

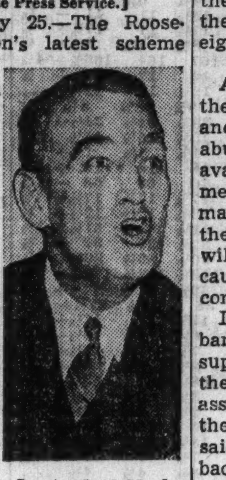
The whole idea of the program is to remove some handicaps to business encouragement, but at the same time maintain the total tax revenues received. There were indications that senate Republicans and Democrats would caucus before consideration of the tax bill to agree on views.

Federal Plans to Socialize Financing Assailed by Bankers

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., May 25.—The Roosevelt administration's latest scheme for putting money to work by socialization of the country's capital financing machinery was condemned in principle in a declaration of policy presented here today to the Illinois Bankers association.



Senator J. M. Mead.

This administration scheme, disclosed this week by A. A. Berle Jr., assistant secretary of state, in his testimony before the federal monopoly committee, calls for government insurance of private loans to small business. This plan is incorporated in a bill introduced by Senator James M. Mead [D., N. Y.].

The Berle program, which is said to have the full support of the President, would also provide for the eventual socialization of the nation's basic industries.

Blame Lack of Confidence.

Denying that banks are withholding legitimate credit from business, the association's policy committee, in a report to the convention, asserted that a lack of confidence on the part of investors is holding back the capital funds needed for an expansion of business and industry.

The committee also presented a strongly worded resolution demanding strict neutrality by the United States in international affairs. It demanded that criticisms of foreign powers that impair the position of neutrality be halted. The language used made plain it was directed at the frequent expressions made by the national administration on foreign questions.

Bank Credit Abundant.

A sharp distinction was made by the committee between the "credit" and "capital" needs of business. An abundant supply of bank credit is available for the loans and investments which banks may properly make, it was pointed out. It is not the lack of such credit nor an unwillingness to extend it that has caused idle money to pile up, the committee said.

It is the private investors, not banks, that must be relied upon to supply the demand for capital. When the investor has again a reasonable assurance of profit to compensate for the risk of investing, the statement said, he will again put his money back to work.

The report was presented to the convention by John J. Anton, vice president of the First National bank of Chicago, who headed the committee drawing up the statement of policy. Anton is expected to be elected president of the association tomorrow.

Merely Seek Protection.

Capital, Anton said, will again be made available in business when investors are assured that their property is protected "against confiscation either by taxation, inflation, or oppressive supervision."

"No new agencies of government need be created," Anton told the bankers. "On the contrary, there is a feeling that many governmental activities might well be dispensed with and the fear of capital would disappear."

The committee indorsed the American Bankers' association's recommendation that the controler of currency be retained as the agency for supervision of national banks.

PLAN TO PREVENT LONGER TRUCKS ON ROADS FAILS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—The senate today killed amendments which would have prevented a proposed increase in the legal maximum length of highway freight haulers. A bill, making other changes in the Illinois trafic code, as well as effecting truck dimensions, was then advanced to third reading.

In the bill to be placed on the senate calendar at the passage stage next Wednesday, tractor and semitrailer combinations would be permitted a maximum of 40 feet as compared with the present limit of 35 feet for this common type of carrier. Safety engineers in the past have contended that the present bulk of these lumbering vans is a hazard to passenger car travel.

There was no discussion on the floor. During a dull interval of routine business and with many of the members already departed for the week-end the others giving little attention, the motion was carried vive voce.

AVIATION INDUSTRY SPENDS 44 MILLION IN RESEARCH IN 5 YEARS

New York, May 25.—(AP)—John H. Jouett, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, tonight made public an industry survey showing, he said, that American manufacturers of airplanes, engines and propellers spent $44,000,000 on research in the last five years.

The work, he added, cost the industry 63 per cent more than its net profit for the period. He placed gross sales at $468,000,000 and net profit at $27,000,000.

"As a result of the industry's heavy investment in technical development," Jouett said, "it has continued to produce airplanes of recognized superiority throughout the world. That is evidenced by the large volume of sales abroad despite the most intense kind of competition from some foreign industries which have been aided by their own governments with liberal subsidies and credits."

He placed at $143,000,000, or 30.6 per cent of the industry's total sales, the amount of goods sold abroad during the period of the survey, 1934-'38 inclusive.

SEC BUILDS UP BERLE PLAN TO RULE INDUSTRY

Based on Socializing Capital Financing.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—The buildup for the Berle scheme to socialize capital financing and the nation's basic industries was continued before the monopoly investigating committee today when the Securities and Exchange commission presented a parade of selected little business men.

The hand picked little business men, ranging from potato chip to feather bed makers, told a carefully rehearsed and montonously uniform story about being unable to get capital, either from banks or individual investors.

Peter R. Nehemkis Jr., the young SEC master mind who is conducting the current hearings on savings and investment, was startled when one of his witnesses backfired on him.

Witness Asks: "Why Invest?"

The witness, S. V. P. Quackenbush, of Scranton, Pa., explained:

"The people that have money say: 'Why should I invest? If I make 100 per cent on my money 50 or 60 per cent of it will go for taxes, so what's the use?'"

The presentation of the little business men completed the picture the SEC set out to develop in response to President Roosevelt's request that the committee ascertain why vast amounts of money and savings lie idle in stagnant pools.

First the SEC presented Owen D. Young, chairman of the General Electric company; Edward Stettinius, chairman of United States Steel, and Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of General Motors. All were induced to admit that their companies are financially self-sufficient.

SEC View on Idle Money.

The SEC's answer to President Roosevelt's inquiry, therefore, is that money and savings remain idle in stagnant pools because big business doesn't need it and little business can't get it.

With this background, the SEC on Tuesday presented A. A. Berle Jr., assistant secretary of state and New Deal financial brain truster, who proposed as a solution the scheme which the inner circle New Dealers call their "third line of defense." It calls for immediate adoption of an interim, stop-gap measure under which the government would insure private loans to small businesses.

For immediate study and action at the next session of congress, Berle proposed a system of socialized capital banking. These public or quasi-public capital credit banks would make loans on the basis of "social" considerations, and the interest rate

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—Selling reputedly prompted by the desire of some traders to cash in on yesterday's rally prevented the stock market from making much headway today. The list, nevertheless, managed to hold up well, with the result that 446 issues advanced, 187 declined, and 178 closed unchanged.

Many representative issues, however, were forced lower. Net changes on both sides rangd from fractions to about a point. Trading was on a par with the preceding session, 1,010,850 shares.

Stocks started higher in extension of Wednesday's recovery. The fact that prices of United States shares on the London exchange advanced aided sentiment somewhat, according to observers.

Blocks of 1,000 to 2,000 shares moved in rapid dealings. Heavier offerings then came out and further advance was checked. For the remainder of the session prices moved up and down erratically.

United States Rubber and Chrysler, recent favorites, were among the chief targets of the selling. They lost ½ to 1 point, respectively. General Motors, Greyhound, Goodyear, and Goodrich slipped fractionally.

Steels firmed around previous finals. Both United States Steel and Bethlehem bulged fractionally. Aviation shares hardened, Douglas and Sperry were favorites.

Standard copper shares closed mixed in a narrow range. Leading oil stocks backed down.

Union Pacific featured the rails with a rise of 2½ points. Most others closed unchanged to fractionally lower. In the utilities losses of minor fractions were general.

Among high-priced issues, Allied Chemical climbed 4¼ points and United States Gypsum 3¾ points.

New York Bonds.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Bond prices gained throughout the list today, ending the session with sizable increases despite a rush of profit taking in the final hour. Transactions—$7,332,100, face value, compared with $6,521,325 yesterday—were the largest since April 11.

In the face of the general corporate loan rally, one United States government issue, Home Owners Loan 2¾s, fell back 1 11-32 points. It is this issue which recently was called in for refunding, advancing to a record peak on the call. Other United States governments rose today, however, as much as 7-32 point.

Latin-American and Italian government bonds were in demand at higher quotations.

Chicago Stocks.

Stocks of the Midland Utilities company were in demand on the Chicago exchange yesterday as a result of court action at Washington, D. C., to recover $50,000,000 on behalf of shareholders and creditors. Three classes of preferred stocks joined the most active list with fractional advances.

Comonwealth Edison led trading volume, closing unchanged at 28⅛. Turnover expanded to 34,000 shares and involved 114 issues. Of these, seventy-four advanced, fifteen declined, and twenty-five closed unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Leading Chicago bank stocks maintained a generally firm tone in "over the counter trading" yesterday. The bid price on Harris Trust was lowered from 285 to 280, and that of First National dropped from 208 to 206, but other quotations were unchanged from those of Wednesday.

COTTON

New crop cotton contracts advanced early yesterday into new seasonal high ground. Hedging sales brought about some recession from the high point. There was also profit taking as a result of the sharp upturn in prices in the last few days. Closing trades were .03 to .11 cent a pound higher.

The Department of Agriculture in its final estimate for the season estimated the 1938 cotton crop at 11,943,000 bales. This compared with 12,008,000 bales previously. The 1937 yield was 18,946,000 bales, largest on record.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .03 cents a pound higher, with New York, 9.83 cents; New Orleans, 9.52 cents; Galveston, 9.38 cents, and Houston at 9.25 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Commodities

An advance of 6 to 9 cents a pound in the price of raw silk yesterday brought the July future to a new high since 1931 of $2.57 a pound. Sugar was another commodity sold at advancing prices in the New York futures market. Prices were up 0.02 to 0.04 cent a pound in response to higher figures posted in the London market.

The Great Western Sugar company announced a reduction of 10 points in its price to 4.10 cents a pound for business in Chicago and western territory.

Export copper regained the 10 cent level for the first time in more than a week. Business was transacted in New York at 10.075 cents a pound. The domestic market was quiet and the futures market irregular in a narrow range.

While the Santos coffee contracts sold 0.02 to 0.05 cents higher, the Rio futures closed unchanged to 0.011 cent lower. Wool top and cottonseed oil futures also showed an irregular trend. Lower prices were posted for rubber, hide, and cocoa futures.

CHARGES FRAUD IN YELLOW CAB TAX REFUND SUIT

Stock Deals Assailed by Federal Attorney.

Charges that the Chicago Yellow Cab company "grossly and fraudulently understated its net income" for 1931 were made yesterday in a government answer to the company's suit for recovery of taxes paid under protest.

Assistant United States District Attorney David L. Bazelon made the charges in opposing the company's demand, made several weeks ago, for a return of $132,326 in taxes.

Involved in the controversy, which will be heard by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward, are the Yellow Cab company, which operates taxis in Chicago, and the Waverly corporation, a holding company, both controled by the parent corporation.

Questions Stock Transactions.

Bazelon alleged stock transactions involving the three companies were not bona fide; that no money actually changed hands, and that claimed market losses were not deductible under the income tax laws.

The company originally paid a tax of $14,471 on 1931 income and claimed a $950,485 loss on the sale of 60,000 shares of stock to the Waverly corporation.

The holding company, according to Bazelon, was formed on Dec. 18, 1931, six days before this transaction. The parent company had bought its entire common stock of 6,000 shares at $100 a share, but the government charges no money changed hands.

Basis for Deduction Claim.

The Waverly corporation then susued a $600,000 check to the operating company for 60,000 shares of parent company stock. The income tax deduction was claimed on the grounds that the purchase price was $950,485 less than the cost of acquisition of this stock in the market over a period of years preceding the transaction.

"It is significant," Bazelon said, "that the company filed its claim for a refund only two days before the statute of limitations expired for filing such claims, but after the period had expired for assessing additional taxes on a non-fraudulent return."

SEARS-ROEBUCK SETS RECORD FOR EARLY IN YEAR

Sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co. for the four and sixteen weeks ended May 21 were the highest on record for those periods, the company reported yesterday. For the four weeks sales were 28.0 per cent ahead of 1938 and for the sixteen weeks they were 20.5 per cent ahead of last year.

In the four weeks ended May 21 sales totaled $54,378,932, against $42,496,947 last year. Sales for the sixteen weeks ended May 21 amounted to $179,807,116, compared with $149,275,098 in 1938.

The previous high mark in sales for comparative weeks was in 1937, when they amounted to $49,935,464 for the four week and $164,248,689 for the sixteen week periods.

Day by Day on the Farm
By BOB BECKER

Bumblebee Lore.

May 25, 1939.

THE woods and some of the farm fields are the workshops of many bumblebees this spring. Their presence is an encouraging sign to the men on the farm, for it means that there should be plenty of red clover seed to be threshed later in the summer. The plan is to cut the first crop of clover and thresh the second crop for seed.

The relationship between the bumblebee and a successful crop of red clover is one of the most amazing in the entire plant world. Without bees to carry pollen to the fragrant flowers of the red clover the farmer gets no seed from it. If these insects are numerous and go from flower to flower for nectar the farm may count on clover seed. Honey bees [and there are thousands of them on the farm] are unable to pollinate the flowers of the red clover. The tongue of the honey bee isn't long enough to reach the nectar and transfer pollen necessary for the fertilization of the blossoms.

Discovered by Darwin.

Charles Darwin first discovered the important rôle that the bumblebee plays. He found that when 100 heads of red clover were surrounded by cloth bags, so that no bumblebees could reach them, not a single seed was produced. Another hundred heads without the bags attached produced 2,700 seeds. Darwin, in "The Origin of Species," wrote as follows about the interesting connection between clover, bumblebees [called humblebees in England], field mice, and cats:

"The number of humblebees in any district," he said, "depends in great measure on the number of field mice, which destroy their combs and nests; . . . Now the number of mice is largely dependent, as every one knows, on the number of cats that destroy the mice." Darwin's experiments proved that the more cats there were in an area the fewer field mice, the fewer field mice the more bumblebees, the more bumblebees the more clover seed.

Wild life authorities, especially ornithologists, doubtless would put birds like the barn owl, the screech owl, and the sparrow hawk in the place of the cat as the next useful killers of field mice. [There are a number of birds and small animals which prey on them.]

Swans Hatch Eggs.

The white swans on the farm are batting almost 100 per cent this season so far as their hatching record is concerned. Two pairs of these birds built nests on the shores of the ponds this spring. The pair on the big pond had six eggs in their huge nest, and a few days ago appeared on the water with six cygnets. The other pair nested on the Half Moon pond, and the pen [female swan] incubated seven eggs. Early in the week she hatched six. The two birds produced twelve cygnets from thirteen eggs . . . the best swan hatching record in years.

PRESENT PLANS FOR DEVELOPING BETTER CHICAGO

Method of Carrying Out Program Explained.

tra, its opera, the museums. It would develop a coöperative plan under which greater use would be made of the city's peerless research laboratories and educational institutions. It would endeavor to aid employment, with special help for the young graduate of high school and college.

4. A research department. This division would compile statistics and facts about the city.

5. Public relations department. This division would seek to spread Chicago's fame throughout the world. It would coöperate with all civic agencies in Chicagoland. It would provide speakers. It would endeavor to coördinate activities in the entire Chicago trade area.

Aid for Association Members.

Divisions which would be directed more especially to aid association members would include:

Convention and visitors department. This division would endeavor to bring more conventions and meetings to Chicago. It is estimated that $50,000,000 is spent here annually by convention visitors alone, which helps Chicago business. Rehabilitation of the Navy pier at a cost of $1,250,000 so that twenty or thirty larger conventions could be brought here is desired. They now go to St. Louis, Cleveland, and Atlantic City, which have the facilities for handling them.

Transportation department. This division would represent Chicago at all transportation hearings in which it has an interest. It would keep up the long fight to bring about the repeal of the "long and short haul law" covering railroad rates which penalizes the middle west and helps the coast cities.

[The long and short haul law prevents a railroad from charging less for a long haul than it does for shipments to intermediate points on the same route.]

Other Activities Proposed.

Domestic commerce division. This group would seek to stimulate trade in the Chicago area. It would provide facilities for advising small business.

A foreign commerce division would seek to get more foreign business for the Chicago area.

A legislative department would send representatives to Springfield and Washington when needed to watch Chicago's interests.

Mayer will present the program to the executive committee of the Association of Commerce with the recommendation that it be approved.

Collings Appointed T.W.A. Operations Superintendent

John A. Collings, veteran pilot, yesterday was named system superintendent of operations for Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc. Collings succeeds S. D. Welsh, who has been transferred to Los Angeles as flight superintendent. Collings will make his headquarters in Kansas City.

GRAINS RECEDE AFTER ADVANCE EARLIER IN DAY

Grain markets developed an easier undertone in the late trading yesterday after an earlier advance which lifted all deliveries of wheat and oats to new high prices for the season. Heavy profit taking developed on the advance. Closing sales on the Chicago Board of Trade were within small fractions of a cent a bushel of the day's low prices. Wheat showed losses of ⅝ to ¾ cent and rye declined ¾ to 1¼ cents.

Corn futures were ½ cent lower to ½ cent higher. Oats were ¼ to ⅜ cent higher and soy beans were ⅞ to 1½ cents higher.

Reports regarding damage to the winter wheat crop in the dry area in the southwest continue to multiply. Returns yesterday indicated considerable damage had resulted from three days of excessively high temperatures and hot winds.

Strength in oats was the result of fairly general commission house buying based on unfavorable crop comments from Illinois and Iowa, especially the latter state.

FREIGHT TRAFIC BEST FOR YEAR AS COAL SOARS

With coal shipments increasing more than 100 per cent over the preceding week, revenue freight loadings moved to a new high for the year in the week ended May 20. The upturn was substantially more than seasonal.

Freight loadings for the week totaled 615,966 cars an increase of 60,570 cars, or 10.9 per cent, compared with the preceding week, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. Loadings were 70,177 cars, or 12.9 per cent, ahead of the like 1938 week, but 159,108 cars, or 20.5 per cent, below the 1937 week.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO CONTROL WATER CARRIERS

Washington, D. C., May 25.—(AP)—By a 70 to 6 vote the senate approved legislation today that would place domestic water carriers under the same government controls imposed on railroads.

Senator Bailey [D., N. C.], chairman of the commerce committee, protested that putting water carriers under the interstate commerce commission would foster "a monopoly" without "doing the railroads any good." Bailey's motion to exempt all waterways from the bill was defeated after Senator Wheeler [D., Mont.] had charged that the maritime commission, which now regulates water carriers, had spent "taxpayers' money on $10 a plate dinners to advertise a west coast shipping line" under its control.

RESERVE BANK REPORTS

Idle funds of federal reserve member banks rose $60,000,000 to a new high record of $4,300,000,000 in the week ended May 24, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. An increase in the gold stock and expenditures by the treasury for other than gold purchases were primarily responsible for the rise.

Member banks in Chicago reported a decline of 4 millions in commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans. New York City loans of this type gained 3 millions.

NATION HEADING FOR DICTATOR, GIRDLER WARNS

Steel Chief Rips Regime of Roosevelt.

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the Republic Steel corporation, today told the American Iron and Steel institute, of which he is president, that the national administration was taking the country directly down the road to dictatorship and either to inflation of the most uncontroled sort or to the imposition of $5,000,000,000 in additional taxes.

Tom M. Girdler.

Hinting that the Roosevelt régime was taking a course that might put the United States into a European war, Girdler predicted darkly: "As certain as night follows day, while we are fighting to crush dictatorships abroad, we would be intrenching one at home.

Warns of Dictatorship.

"Our participation in another world war would mean a death blow to individual freedom in the United States. The economic and political bankruptcy of the country would be complete. Perpetuation of dictatorship would appear as the only answer.

"Even now in peace time, while our government berates the dictatorships abroad, it persists in domestic policies leading straight down the road to dictatorship. Many of the measures most open to attack under dictators have been adopted and are in full effect here.

"These measures not only are checking business expansion, but they are carrying the United States rapidly toward a changed form of society, some variety of a collective state."

Sees Revolt Against New Deal.

However, Girdler saw some hope in the growing revolt in the middle classes against Washington extravagance, unfair labor policies, and the heckling of business which the New Deal has engaged in for the last six years.

The signs of approaching dictatorship in this country, Girdler said, were the pyramiding increase in the share of the national income under control of the government, mounting public debt, and deficit spending. Also, the stifling of private enterprise by unsound taxation, the persecution of industry through unfair labor laws, the "reckless" interference with industry by regulatory commissions, and the evils of carelessly devised social security legislation.

Flails Attacks on Profits.

"To this list might be added," he continued, "the open and veiling attacks upon the profit motive. They come from those who, living in a world apart from realities, have convinced themselves that a profit for industry comes only through the exploitation of labor. They come from those who for reasons of political opportunism would hold up profits as a flag to incite class hatreds."

E. T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, today was elected president of the institute, succeeding Girdler, who had held the post for two years.

The board of directors also elected two new vice presidents, Benjamin A. Fairless, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Frank Purnell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company. They succeeded Weir and W. A. Irwin, former vice chairman of United States Steel.

SEC BUILDS UP BERLE PLAN TO RULE INDUSTRY

Scheme Would Socialize Capital Financing.

would be adjusted to the desires of the borrower.

Berle frankly advocated spending the country into socialism. What the government finances, he said, the government inevitably will control. Ultimately, the government would take over most of the productive enterprise of the country, he declared.

Testimony Conforms to SEC.

The testimony of the little business men definitly conformed to the "picture" being presented by the SEC.

Quackenbush, head of the Scranton, Pa., Chamber of Commerce, described himself as a warehouser and lessor of industrial space. He said he had tried unsuccessfully to raise $25,000 to produce a shaker chute formerly imported from Germany and now unobtainable by coal mining companies who need it. He estimated from 5 to 15 million dollars of capital could be profitably invested in his area and that it would absorb the entire unemployment problem.

"Why won't the banks lend the money?" asked Chairman O'Mahoney.

"It isn't credit money; it's venture capital," said the witness.

Others Also Want Money.

Ernest L. Nicolay, a potato chip manufacturer of Detroit, said his company had assets of $115,000 and that sales would run around $400,000 this year. The company has made a profit each year for five years, he said, but recently had to turn down $10,000 in initial orders because of the lack of working capital for supplies. He said he also needed $15,000 of equity capital for plant expansion, but could not get it.

Thomas W. Hellyer, secretary-treasurer of the Columbia Feather company, Chicago, a manufacturer of mattresses, box springs and pillows, said his company had assets of $230,000 and annual sales of $700,000. He said the company had been unable to borrow money from the banks and was forced to take advances against future shipments from one of its larger customers.

OLD INVESTMENT FIRM WILL OPEN CHICAGO OFFICE

Alex Brown and Sons, of Baltimore, Md., one of the oldest investment banking firms in the country, will open a Chicago office at 135 South La Salle street on June 5 under the management of D. Dean McCormick. The firm was established in 1800.

McCormick, who has spent the last 13 years with the Chicago office of the Lee Higginson corporation, investment firm, has been identified with the investment business for 16 years. He has been a member of the Bond club of Chicago for a number of years and at present is the club's treasurer.

GAR WOOD INDUSTRIES.

Investors' Guide: Can you tell me what Gar Wood Industries makes besides motor boats? The company is largely owned by Gar Wood, the sportsman and motor boat racer, and it also manufactures products in various other fields. Just what these are I don't know. I would like to learn, too, how this company has been weathering the business storm.—W. F.

Answer: Building of motor boats forms only a minor part of Gar Wood Industries' operations. The principal source of its earnings comes from the manufacture of truck equipment, including hydraulic and mechanical hoists, tanks, and dump bodies. This division accounts for about 50 per cent of the domestic business in that field.

Light motor buses of rear engine design, road machinery, air conditioning equipment, oil burning boilers, and trailers for hauling gasoline, oil, and milk are other products of the company.

Earnings for the last few years have fluctuated widely. In 1938 the company skidded into the red, reporting a loss of $36,554. This was its first unprofitable year since 1933, when net loss stood at $198,413. In the years between net income ranged from $48,668 in 1934 to $911,515 in 1936.

AIR LINES' OPERATIONS.

Investors' Guide: I see that American Airlines operated at a profit for the first quarter, while last year their loss for January, February, and March ran into six figures. Does this indicate that business for the big transport lines is better this year all round? Are United and TWA making an improved showing also?—J. F. W.

Answer: Like American Airlines, United Air Lines and Transcontinental and Western Air made better showings for the first quarter of 1939. United's first quarter net loss of $667,670 in 1938 was reduced to $419,085 in the first three months of 1939. And TWA reported net loss of $364,844 in the quarter ended March 31, 1939, compared with net loss of $478,106 in the corresponding period a year ago.

DAY'S RANGE.

Investors' Guide: I would thank you for telling me the high and low quotations for Inland Steel company common stock on Jan. 8, 1934, and for the company's total assets as given in its latest report.—D. B.

Answer: Price range of Inland Steel common stock on Jan. 8, 1934, was 42½ high, 41⅞ low. The company's consolidated balance sheet at the end of last year showed total assets of $156,506,609.

MORE FEDERAL BUTTER BUYING IS AUTHORIZED

FSCC Can Purchase 25 Million Pounds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation today received authorization from Secretary Wallace to buy an additional 25 million pounds of butter for relief distribution during the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Officials explained that this does not necessarily mean that the FSCC will resume purchases of butter in the open market, such operations having been suspended since March 8 when supplies accumulated faster than relief requirements. It is expected, officials said, that the authorization will be used principally to acquire butter supplies now held by the Dairy Products Marketing association, a government sponsored coöperative, which purchased butter in the open market under a loan arrangement with the Commodity Credit corporation.

Holds 50 Million Pounds.

The DPMA holds under government loans about 50 million pounds of butter. The FSCC has just about bought up to its prior authorization of 90 million pounds. The new authorization will increase the total amount for the fiscal year to 115 million pounds. The FSCC reported that up to May 20 it had bought 63,600,000 pounds from the DPMA and 26 million pounds in the open market. As the butter is bought it is turned over to state welfare agencies for distribution to families on relief.

Purchases last winter put an artificial prop under the market which dropped as soon as open market operations were suspended in March. The DPMA has been inactive for months. Its charter for operation expired on May 1 and to date has not been renewed.

BUTTER AND EGGS HIGHER

Butter and egg prices advanced again yesterday as unfavorably warm weather prevailed in the central and southern parts of the major producing areas. Firm cash markets in both commodities were encouraging influences.

November butter on the Mercantile exchange climbed 0.29 cent a pound in mid-session, reaching a new seasonal top.

The current egg contract moved up 0.25 cent a dozen, other deliveries closing 0.01 cent lower to 0.09 cent higher.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Large local buying orders came into the market for hogs yesterday after prices had eased back to a mostly steady basis compared with the preceding session. This followed a slight rise on draggy-opening rounds. Action was brisk in midsession and later, with the clearance the best of the week.

The general market for beef steers and yearlings yesterday was lowest of the season. The relatively low position of pork and hogs, which has been a bearish factor in the cattle trade for some time, offset the light supply of cattle yesterday.

Fat lambs met good demand at steady to 25 cents higher prices. Old sheep were scarce and met narrow outlet at weaker prices.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]

Give you the world's finest, fastest telephone service!

Remember these three Tribune phone numbers—Superior 0100, 0200, 0260. They stand for finer, faster service to readers, advertisers and the general public.

To the 65 incoming trunk lines already assigned to the Tribune's regular phone number—Superior 0100—have been added 30 more for the Tribune's new Public Information Service number—Superior 0200.

Available also are 20 more trunk lines allocated to the Tribune's new Sports Bulletin Service number—Superior 0260.

These two new numbers and the unique equipment behind them will relieve any congestion of calls on Superior 0100 such as has occurred in the past when an unusual happening or event created sudden and tremendous public demand for news. They enable the Tribune to supply a new bulletin service ten times faster than heretofore possible.

Behind these new improvements in service are months of planning in co-operation with six engineering groups of the telephone company. The new high speed handling of calls has been made possible by the development of new and unusual equipment—much of it specially designed to meet the Tribune's own specifications.

In announcing this improved service, the Tribune invites you to make full use of it.

For Public Information Service Call SUPERIOR 0200

And all other inquiries for information of general or miscellaneous nature.

For Sports Bulletin Service Call SUPERIOR 0260
